Seventy-Four Pints Of Blood Donated By Boone Countians

When Bloodmobile Visits Walton; Unit Will Return To County Jan. 28.

Seventy-four pints of blood were given by residents of Walton, Verona, Beaver, Richmond and surrounding areas when donors braved near zero temperatures and ice-covered roads when the Boone County Red Cross sent the Bloodmobile to Walton December 19th.

Wilton Stephens, motored from Burlington, a distance of 16 miles to give his blood, which he has done many times in the past. Donors showed by their response that they knew the servicemen in Korea and throughout the world couldn't and didn't stop fighting, being wounded and in many instances giving their life because the weather was bad.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Walton Baptist Church made and donated over 300 sandwiches. The Walton Rotary Club donated the coffee, sugar, cream, and cookies.

The Christian Church, where the Bloodmobile was stationed, had sand scattered on the roadway, sidewalks and steps to keep people from falling and to make parking available. All churches in Walton, namely, Methodist, Baptist, Catholic and Christian cooperated through their pastors and congregations. The American Legion and Legion Auxiliary represented by Mrs. Warren Stephenson; also responded in their usual fine manner.

Mrs. Allen Gaines, county blood recruitment chairman, had as her local recruitment chairman, Mrs. J. M. Callen for Walton; Mrs. Walter King, Verona, and Mrs. George Baker, Beaver. Chairman of service groups was Mrs. J. B. Johnson whose canteen chairman were Mrs. R. M. Hall and Mrs. R. P. Hughes.

The Homemakers' and woman's club cooperated by urging their members to donate blood.

Much appreciation is extended to all persons and organizations who cooperated in such a wonderful way to make this a successful visit.

January 28 the Bloodmobile will visit Florence and the donors, will, as a whole, be solicited from Florence and Union; and all neighborhoods and roads leading into these two towns.

April 30th, Burlington will be the location for the visit of the Bloodmobile and donors residing in Burlington, Bellevue, and Petersburg, East Bend and all roads leading into these towns will give blood on that day.

A. D. Yelton Named County Director For March of Dimes Drive

Half of Money Remains With Local Chapter, Is Report.

A. D. Yelton, Burlington attorney has been appointed March of Dimes campaign manager for Boone County 1952. It was announced this week Joseph Rouse of Verona will act as co-chairman.

A check for $800.00 to help provide care for local polio patients has been received by the Boone County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, it was announced today by Mrs. George Morith, Chapter Chairman.

When March of Dimes funds are raised, Mrs. Morith explained, half the money stays here with the local Chapter and half goes to national headquarters for research, professional education and emergency aid such as the check just received.

Mrs. Morith said record-breaking polio incidents during the past three years had exhausted the treasuries of hundreds of chapters across the country.

"Our own chapter's plight provides a typical example," Mrs. Morith said. "In the 1951 March of Dimes we raised $470.75. However, the chapter share was exhausted by July 1, and we have consequently had to call on the emergency aid fund at national headquarters."

The Boone County Chapter Chairman said that by late September over $6,000.00 had been sent in response to requests for epidemic aid from more than 800 chapters in 45 states.

At present the Boone County Chapter is providing funds for the care of one patient afflicted this year. The amount paid to the hospital for braces and therapy treatments has been near $1,200.00.

It takes MONEY TO BUILD!

"I just had to have more barn room . . . and some of the other buildings needed repairing.

"But it takes money to build . . . more than we had saved up. Then, a neighbor tipped me off about a Federal Land Bank loan. He told me to see the National Farm Loan Association. It was a pleasant surprise to learn that the Association was made up of my friends and neighbors . . . all good, solid, substantial farmers.

"Well, today you'd hardly recognize the old farm, it looks so nice. I can keep my livestock and crops in better shape—can operate more efficiently and make more money. And I'm happy about that 4 percent Federal Land Bank loan. I can take 20 to 33 years to pay . . . or pay just as fast as I want to without any penalty whatsoever. And I didn't have to pay a cent in application fees, appraisal fees or commissions.

"If you need money to build or improve your farm in any way, let me suggest a Federal Land Bank loan."

Kentucky Railroads Are the Backbone of Kentucky Industry

KENTUCKY'S railroads are a vital necessity to Kentucky's industries. They haul the raw materials to the factories and mills and haul the finished products to markets all over the country.

They are especially important to the mining, lumber, tobacco, agricultural, electric power, chemical, rubber and distilling industries — which require dependable, large volume, economical transportation.

Furthermore — scouts for large industrial operations in the North and East, investigating the State's possibilities for the location of factories, depend upon Kentucky's railroads for information of all kinds essential to plant location — covering sites, raw materials, labor, transportation facilities, markets, etc.

For many years Kentucky's railroads — through their industrial development departments — have been steadily working to develop new and existing industries in Kentucky . . . thus helping to provide more jobs, greater prosperity, larger tax revenues and better living conditions all over the Commonwealth.

Plymouth's Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan for '52

Here's the new Plymouth for 1952, a more beautiful, smoother operating, easier riding, safer car which features 46 important improvements. There is new beauty in the car's road-hugging, sweeping appearance, and color harmony perfection in the new interiors, which are Tone-Tailored with quality fabrics. The luxurious interiors blend beautifully with the exterior colors. The car has all the features for comfort, economy, safety and durability which have become traditional with Plymouth. Shown above is the new four-door Cranbrook sedan.

Smooth, Easy Performance Featured in New Plymouth

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States, Friday, January 4.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Oriflow shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

The Plymouth has a road-hugging, sweeping appearance, accentuated by changes in the external adornments. A new luxurious standard for interiors is attained with the high quality upholstery fabrics in harmonious colors which blend beautifully with the instrument and door panels.

The smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, is the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concept in styling and beauty. The car has glistering, lively two-tone colors which set it apart and give it the continental look. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at their junction at the rear quarter panel. Interior of the Belvedere is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior. Long-wearing carpeting—also in complementary colors—rounds out the ensemble. The following color combinations are available for the Belvedere: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue Polychromatic with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top.

Passenger and driver comfort has been increased with improvements to Plymouth's "Safety-Flow ride." New cushioning-type ports in the Oriflow shock absorbers, increased travel in the front springs and a new interliner for the rear springs provide quieter operation, reduced steering wheel shock, less friction and an improved ride.

Quicker starting in hot or cold weather with less drain on the battery is assured by the new "Follo-Thru" anti-kickout feature of the starter, the foremost among numerous changes in the electrical system.

Greater visibility under adverse driving conditions is provided by a ten per cent increase in the speed of the electrically-operated windshield wipers.

BEAUTIFUL STYLING

Luxury and color harmony are the keynotes of the beautiful upholstery and trim selected for the new Plymouth. A fine selection of long-wearing, quality fabric is available in shades which blend beautifully with the car's exterior colors. An attractive "Lustr-Tone" instrument panel features controls which are conveniently grouped and instruments which are color-coded and lettered for easy reference while driving. Newly designed to further beautify the Plymouth are the ornament, the top molding, and the medallion on the hood, and the license light and name plate on the rear deck lid. The sweeping, low appearance of the car is further accentuated by the lowering of the rear fender molding.

Solex tinted safety glass is available throughout the Plymouth line as optional equipment at small extra cost. The glass reduces interior temperatures on hot summer days, minimizes fading of upholstery or seat cover fabrics, and reduces sun glare.

STURDY BRAKES

The traditionally sturdy Safe-Guard Hydraulic brakes have been given greater ease of operation, and much longer life. New Cyclebond brake linings provide greater braking area and longer braking life. There are heavier backing plates on both the front and rear brakes; an improved drum design on the front brakes for smoother operation and better cooling; an easier operating brake pedal return spring; and a redesigned steering knuckle to provide more positive protection from road splash.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line: the Concord series includes a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and the popular all-metal Suburban, and its country club cousin, the Savoy; the Cambridge series has a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, a convertible club coupe, and the pace-setting Belvedere.

Burley Growers Cooperative To Distribute Funds

Total of $2,760,000 Due Farmers From '47, '48 and '49 Crops.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association will distribute $2,760,000 this year to farmers who pooled 1947, 1948 or 1949 burley crops with the association.

W. L. Slaton, executive secretary of the co-op, stated that the pool's holdings of the three crops have been sold, but it would be several months before the "equity" checks can be sent to growers.

Farmers will receive checks for about a cent a pound on the 1947 crop, about two cents a pound on the 1948 crop and for about three cents a pound on the 1949 crop, Slaton said.

The Farmers' Co-operative accepts at the by-grade support price tobacco not taken by the commercial buyers. It pays for the less valuable tobacco to the Credit Corp. Eventually it is sold and what remains is distributed to participating growers as additional profit on their pooled tobacco.

Start Poultry Flocks Early For Best Results, Says County Agent Davis

Poultry flocks for egg production should be started early to get best production, according to Bill Davis, County Agent, Boone County. More and more are realizing the importance of buying chicks early for late summer, fall and winter production. Now is the time to clean the brooder houses, put in litter and check brooder stoves for their early chicks. There are several reasons why early chicks have an advantage to the flock over later hatched birds. Early chicks give one to two months more egg production during the fall and winter when eggs are high chicks grow and feather better during the cold weather and early cockerels sell for a higher price. There is less trouble with diseases, especially coccidiosis, in cold weather. The pullets from early flocks can be put on range early when the grass is at its best.

The job of raising chickens can be made easier and more profitable if feed bins are placed in both brooder and laying houses for feed storage that is handy to the feeding troughs.

Water piped to water troughs from a barrel set behind the poultry house assures an adequate supply of fresh water at all times.

During the next two or three months poultrymen should build enough outdoor feeders and range shelters to adequately take care of the flocks. Poor pastures that are to be used for range should be reseeded as early as possible to good grasses and legumes.

It takes MONEY TO BUILD!

"I just had to have more barn room . . . and some of the other buildings needed repairing.

"But it takes money to build . . . more than we had saved up. Then, a neighbor tipped me off about a Federal Land Bank loan. He told me to see the National Farm Loan Association. It was a pleasant surprise to learn that the Association was made up of my friends and neighbors . . . all good, solid, substantial farmers.

"Well, today you'd hardly recognize the old farm, it looks so nice. I can keep my livestock and crops in better shape—can operate more efficiently and make more money. And I'm happy about that 4 percent Federal Land Bank loan. I can take 20 to 33 years to pay . . . or pay just as fast as I want to without any penalty whatsoever. And I didn't have to pay a cent in application fees, appraisal fees or commissions.

"If you need money to build or improve your farm in any way, let me suggest a Federal Land Bank loan."

COWHAM FARM TRESS' KING—366145

The Guernsey sire, Cowham Farm Tress' King, Grand Champion at the National Guernsey Show in 1949, has recently been placed in service by the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association. The first four daughters of Cowham Farm Tress' King average 10,369 pounds of milk and 582 pounds

Deluxe Highways Not In Accord With State Plan

A current demand by automobile manufacturers, tire companies, and allied interests that super, multiple lane highways be constructed to the tune of $80 billion in the United States immediately "to remove traffic bottle-necks and make motoring more pleasant and safer" is met by W. C. Curlin, State highway Commissioner, with the statement that "Good serviceable roads in every community in the State, not super deluxe highways, are the immediate objective of Kentucky's present highway program."

"Kentuckians are not passing on to future generations a huge debt and a system of worn out roads," Mr. Curlin said at a road conference recently at the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

"Pressure now being exerted, through a nation-wide advertising program backed by the auto makers and the tire manufacturers, is for super highways which will allow 50-ton trucks to haul big paying loads everywhere, with the public paying 90 per cent of the cost of constructing such highways," a highway association spokesman said this week.

In a recent report to the Governor of Kentucky, the highway commissioner stated: "There are 12,000 miles of main highways in Kentucky with approximately half the mileage in substandard condition," and "There are 3,100 bridges, approximately 600 of which are substandard, along our highways."

"Kentucky's highway plan is, essentially, to build high type roads as funds become available and to maintain her present roads in good useable condition the year around. Present revenues do not permit this, largely because of damage done to our highways, especially our black top roads, by the freight trucks, often over-loaded," Commissioner Curlin said.

Edward J. Bolte To Visit Erlanger To Assist In Social Security Matters

Edward J. Bolte, field representative of the Covington Social Security office, will be at the Post Office in Erlanger from 10 to 11:00 a. m., Thursday, January 17th. He will assist callers in completing applications for social security benefits as well as issue account number cards and advise on any other matters pertaining to the Social Security law.

This being the first month of 1952, it is expected that many persons will be eligible for social security payments who had failed to qualify under the old law by not having enough coverage. The four quarters of coverage for 1951 will qualify many past 65 who had only two or three quarters to their credit previously. Mr. Bolte will be glad to discuss this feature with you on his regular visit to your community, or you can receive clarifying information by writing the Social Security Administration's Covington office.

RESOLVED That our Chapter has lost a member whose memory we shall always cherish, the family a devoted husband and father, the mother and sister a loving son and brother and the community a useful citizen.

RESOLVED That we extend to each our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement and commend them to Him who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb.

ELIJAH STEPHENS

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution, guarantees the protection of our religious freedoms by the provision that church and state shall be forever separate, and

Whereas, the Roman Catholic hierarchy is historically opposed to the separation of church and state, and

Whereas, the action of President Truman in nominating to the U. S. Senate General Mark W. Clark as full-fledged U. S. Ambassador to the Vatican, repudiates the Bill of Rights and the U. S. Constitution and threatens our Religious Freedom.

Therefore, be it Resolved, that we, the membership of the Bellevue Baptist Church of the Southern Baptist Convention, do hereby censure President Truman's action and call upon every Senator to refuse to approve the appointment of General Clark, and furthermore to pass legislation that will present President Truman or any other president from ever appointing an envoy to the Court of the Pope of Rome.

Bridge Destroyed When Car Crashes Into Railing Thurs.

Replacement of Bridge
Will Cost $15,000, Says County Judge.

The Ashby Fork bridge, Woolper Road was completely destroyed last Thursday night, when a car driven by Virgus Brock, Moores Hill, Ind., crashed into the railing of the bridge, according to Sheriff Wendell Easton, who investigated the crash.

Brock approached the bridge from the north, and according to tracks of the car, he attempted to check his speed as he approached the bridge. Marks on the crossmember of the bridge indicated that the car slid up the railing of the bridge, shearing a pin and causing the collapse of the bridge, Sheriff Easton said.

The car and bridge plunged into the creek bed below following the collision and the car burst into flames, becoming completely destroyed. The driver and a passenger, Green Settle, also of Moores Hill, escaped injury. Settle, who had a broken leg was removed from the car by Mr. Brock and carried to safety.

Judge C. L. Cropper stated that it will cost the county approximately $15,000 to replace the bridge. The road will be blocked until arrangements can be made to replace the bridge.

Three youths, registered as Robert Sammons 17, Chester Stone 17, and Frank Lampkins, all of Martin, Ky., Floyd County, were arrested Saturday by Sheriff Easton, when the youths were found in possession of a stolen automobile.

When the youths were questioned by Sheriff Easton it was found none of the three had a driver's license. They were brought to Burlington and placed in jail, where they later admitted they stole the automobile.

The car was a 1947 Plymouth pickup truck stolen from Hunter's Motor Sales, Martin, Ky., Friday, January 11th, Sheriff Easton reported.

The youths were released to Floyd County authorities, and returned there for trial.

Public Assistance Payments Total $65,717 In County

According to Year-End Report Released By Vego E. Barnes.

During the past year $65,717 went to residents of Boone County in public assistance payments, according to a year-end report released today by Vego E. Barnes, commissioner, Department of Economic Security.

Under the public assistance program, three types of aid are administered: old age assistance, aid to needy blind, and aid to dependent children. Total 1951 payments in Boone County were distributed among three types of recipients as follows: $37,592 to aged people; $6,636 to dependent children; and $14,889 to needy blind.

Average payment in Boone County to 178 needy aged people in December was $28.40. During the same month an average of $45.57 went to families of 24 dependent children and a total of 5 needy blind people in the county received an average check of $29.80.

Total public assistance payments of $31,979,485 went to nearly 90,000 needy Kentucky families during 1951. Barnes reported. A monthly average of $2,664,957 was paid to recipients who qualified under the state-federal aid programs administered by the Economic Security Department, he said.

Old age assistance payments totaled $2,160,951 for the 12 months just ended, Barnes reported. Aid to dependent children grants totaled $10,965,951, and aid to needy blind $852,583, he said.

Since the public assistance was transferred from the Welfare Department to the Economic Security Department in 1948 under the reorganization act passed by the General Assembly, the department has paid to needy people of the state $103,366,869, an average of nearly $26 million a year, Barnes said. Total assistance payments last year were nearly $24 million above 1950; $8 million over the 1949 total; and $14 million above 1948.

He emphasized that the upward trend in public assistance payments to a combination of factors including: Increased life span and the tendency against employing older people; inflation; and a greater public recognition of the responsibility for aid to those who cannot help themselves.

He emphasized that increased payments last year was directly attributable to the 1951 Special Session of the Legislature which transferred $2 million from the state's surplus to the department for public assistance, thereby enabling the agency to increase assistance amounts beginning about mid-year.

Reynold Todtenbier, stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., with the U. S. Army spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ruppert.

A. B. Renaker Will Serve As Boone County Chairman

Banks In Boone County To Coordinate With Agricultural Activities.

B. L. Hancock, Owenton, President of the Kentucky Bankers Association, announces the appointment of A. B. Renaker, President of Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, as County Agricultural Chairman for Boone County. The appointment becomes effective immediately for the year 1952.

Mr. Renaker as the County Agricultural Chairman will coordinate the agricultural activities of banks in Boone County with farmers, agricultural agencies and organizations serving the county to increase the effectiveness of agricultural programs.

Service to agriculture by Kentucky banks during 1951 was recognized by the American Bankers Association recently when the Kentucky Bankers Association received the A. B. A. Agricultural Commission's 1000-point award for the twelfth consecutive year. The award is presented each year to the state bankers association of those states whose banks have been of outstanding service to Agriculture during the preceding year. The success of the association's agricultural endeavors is the result of the collective effort of each county agricultural chairman.

Among the activities in the agricultural field carried on by Kentucky banks during the past year were eighty successful bank-sponsored Farmer Field Day Meetings, held in cooperation with other agricultural agencies, in addition to fifteen bank-sponsored County Recognition Meetings.

The first Agricultural Credit Conference and nine Regional Farm Management Meetings, sponsored by the Kentucky Bankers Association with the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and Cleveland and the College of Agriculture co-operating, were outstanding events at the State level.

The Kentucky Bankers Association is the first state association in the entire country to have a full-time agricultural representative.

Eagles and Cards Chalk Up Two Victories Last Week

Six Games Scheduled For Boone Quints During Coming Week.

There are only six regularly scheduled games on tap for Boone County basketball quints during the coming week, and only one of these is a Boone Conference title. The lone Conference game will involve last place Florence with third place Walton at the latter's gym Friday night.

Other games involving local teams will be Hebron at Dry Ridge and Walton County at New Haven Friday night (Jan. 18), Campbell County at Burlington Saturday night, and Walton will play at Simon Kenton next Tuesday night. (The Bearcats played Gallatin County at Walton Tuesday night this week.)

Eagles, Cards Win Twice
The Burlington Eagles and the Hebron Cardinals added plenty of prestige to Boone County basketball last week as the teams won two games each and three of the victories came over out-of-league opposition. The Cards trimmed the Ludlow Panthers of the NKAC 72 to 55 Tuesday night at Hebron as Ronnie Garnett, Cardinal guard, potted the nets for 30 points. Then on Saturday night the Cards defeated the Holy Cross Indians of the N. Ky. Catholic loop by a 67-43 county at Hebron with John Crigler, Card elongated pivot man getting 28 tallies. The twin win for the Cards gave them an overall season mark of seven wins and four losses.

Burlington, playing without the services of "Goose" McFarland, team co-captain and high scoring forward, handed the Simon Kenton Pioneers a 43-39 setback at the local gym Tuesday night. The victory was "sweet revenge" as the Pioneers had handed the Eagles one of their two defeats of the season in their first game of the year. The Eagles kept their win streak going to seven straight Friday night as they trimmed the Walton Bearcats 48-43 at Walton. Gayle Rouse paced the Eagles in both victories with 19 points in each effort. But the bright spot in the Eagle wins was the greatly improved play of Jerry Ryle, the speedy guard, and the great clutch play of Jack Patterson and Harold Dringenberg, replacements for McFarland. The defensive work and floor play of Terry Tillery and Ray Deck marked both contests.

Walton also lost to the Bellevue Tigers of the NKAC last Tuesday night by a 64-44 score, after having held the winners to 39-39 deadlock at the three-quarter mark. Vest paced the Bearcats with 23 points and Pat Ubel, famous Bellevue football player, had 25 for the winners.

The Florence Knights won their first Boone Conference tilt Friday night as they defeated the New Haven Spartans 56-61 in a game at the loser's court. The Knights also trimmed the Crittenden Bulldogs of the Penogran Conference Saturday night at Florence by a 78-43 score.

Repair Bids Open For Florence Street Project Until February 12th

The Florence Board of Trustees recently advertised for bids on some repair work of Shelby street. At its regular meeting on January 8, only one bid was received. The board voted to hold bids open until its next regular meeting on February 12th. Specifications on the work may be secured from William Fitzgerald, City Clerk, end of North Avenue, Florence.

The board issued a request to property owners to remove snow and ice from the sidewalks in front of their properties as soon as possible after each snowfall or freeze. The compliance of each citizen with this request may save some person from sustaining serious injuries.

The board considered the increasing number of stray dogs on the city streets. It is believed that some of these dogs may have been dropped from automobiles by persons who do not wish to keep them. It is believed that the names of some of these persons are known. It is probable that some of these dogs belong to residents of Florence. There are both state and city ordinances on the subject of care of dogs. The residents of Florence are asked to make an effort to prevent their dogs becoming strays. The non-residents of Florence are asked to refrain from disposing of their unwanted dogs by dropping them in Florence.

Anyone desiring a nice young dog may call the City Clerk, Florence 112. Two strays have been in his neighborhood for over a month. Several people who have lost dogs have looked at them but have not claimed them. One is part setter, one a small, red, shepherd type dog; both are males.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING

THE BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

ESTABLISHED 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1952

NUMBER 26

Bloodmobile Will Visit Florence Monday, January 28th To Collect Blood For Armed Forces In Korea

Two Hundred Thirty-Three Pledges Are Needed To Attain Goal, According to Officials In Charge; Unit Will Be Stationed at Community Building.

The Bloodmobile will return to Florence on Monday, January 28th, to again collect blood for the Armed Forces, it was announced this week. A house-to-house solicitation has been made in Florence and Union and surrounding localities, together with other sections of the county by Mrs. Roy C. Lutes and Mrs. Harold Conner, co-chairmen and the members of their committee.

Many have pledged to give this life-saving blood, but those not pledging are urged to do so now, by calling either Mrs. Roy Lutes or Mrs. Harold Conner at Florence. Mrs. Allen Gaines, of Walton is county blood program chairman.

Mrs. Clyde Arnold, of Florence is chairman of service groups, women who will serve as volunteers in the canteen, serving the lunch to donors, receptions, office clerks, etc.

When Christmas approached in Boone County, we were mostly concerned about what we were going to give Mary, Johnny or sister Sue, but in Korea, the boys on the fighting front were anxious about just one gift they wanted to receive from home. That was BLOOD, were the people back home going to remember to go to the Bloodmobile when it visited the community under the auspices of the Red Cross to give the gift of life.

Christmas has passed, but the boys are still fighting in Korea day in and day out, regardless of the weather, holidays and Sunday. Don't fall those boys who are depending on you. A pint of blood doesn't cost you a thing, but if you don't give it, it may cost some American his life. Don't put it off. Your Boone County Red Cross is as close as your telephone—call Florence 84.

The maximum amount of blood that can be taken during a six-hour period is 170 pints, it was reported. To reach this goal, it will be necessary to have 230 pledges, to take care of rejections and ineligible.

Ruthie McGill only fifteen is very envious of her eighteen-year-old sister, Julia. On this particular night of the play Ruthie is practicing and trying for her voice placement. She finds her placement and decides to call her teacher and let him hear her over the phone. Ruthie lays down the receiver to the telephone. Right there the plot story is born.

"Hunger"
Aline Tilman, an attractive wealthy widow, has a mysterious telephone call from a Mr. Earle who tells her he crossed the Pacific on the same steamer with her twenty years ago. She recognizes his voice as that of someone she met on the steamer, but his name was not Earle. She however, allows him to call on her, while she is waiting for him another stranger, rather poorly dressed, who says his name is Earle, comes. Aline, of course, is disappointed but makes the best of the situation. It turns out that the stranger is a burglar and her butler is the accomplice. They escape with the silver and other valuables. He is the man she knew twenty years ago and there is a happy ending.

"Goodnight, Please!"
Meredith Whitehouse has had to rise early and work hard all his life. He is now the President of the First National Bank and has now decided to stay in bed for a week. It is the afternoon of the third day and his vacation is driving everybody crazy. Leadership and possibly the championship of the Boone County Basketball Conference will be at stake Friday night of this week when the Burlington Eagles and Hebron's Cardinals clash in an important game at the Burlington floor. Each team holds a 3-1 record in conference play. The Cards, paced by Connie Garnett and John Crigler, have league wins over Walton, Florence and New Haven, while the Eagles have wins over the Cards, Florence and Walton.

Walton's Bearcats played at Simon Kenton on Tuesday of this week.

State Income Tax Forms May Be Obtained From Office of Tax Commissioner

Why weren't Kentucky income tax returns mailed to taxpayers this year? Is a question asked frequently these days of Department of Revenue personnel. Commissioner H. Clyde Reeves' reply is "The majority of taxpayers failed to make use of the returns mailed last year."

A study showed that only 16 per cent of the returns mailed out were filed with the department. The remaining 84 per cent of taxpayers who filed either obtained the forms from the offices of county court clerks and county tax commissioners, or through written requests for additional forms. Reeves stated further, "Our aim is to make forms available through the sources most frequently used."

Kentucky Income Tax forms may be obtained from most banks and from the offices of county court clerks and county tax commissioners. Department of Revenue offices located in Ashland, Bowling Green, Covington, Frankfort, Hazard, Lexington, Louisville, Owensboro, Paducah and Somerset also have supplies of forms available for distribution.

Large Assortment Of Clothing Ready For Needy Families

New Clothes Being Made By Gunpowder Homemakers For Project.

Boone County has a thoughtful lady. It is Mrs. Frank Lee Dils. Mrs. Dils is a member of the Gunpowder Homemakers Club, sponsoring the new service of the Boone County Red Cross, namely, "Clothe The Needy."

The ladies of this club have volunteered, in addition to the sorting, mending and sizing of the clothing, to make new clothing for the needy if material is furnished. Mrs. Dils has gone one step farther. She has contributed a sewing machine for this service, which has been placed in the Methodist Church, county headquarters for "Clothe The Needy."

Mrs. Bert Markesbery is the county chairman of this humanitarian project and she and her committee are busy each Wednesday mending, sorting and sizing the clothing that has been donated.

Mrs. Markesbery stated she now has a wonderful selection of clothing and is anxious to give it to the needy of Boone County. If you are a minister of any church, president of a P. T. A. or leader in any civic group and know a person in need, you should write a letter stating their name and address, also your opinion of their need.

The chairmen has already been able to distribute some clothing. She and her committee are at the Methodist Church in Florence each Wednesday from 11:00 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Any clothing you have will be appreciated or any material or buttons, thread, patterns, etc., will be used to good advantage by these helpful ladies.

Boone County Red Cross thanks Mrs. Dils, Mrs. Markesbery and the Gunpowder Club, and all who have donated clothing to make this project successful, and the Methodist Church at Florence who give space to store the clothing. Thanks is also extended the Florence Rotary Club who donated racks on which to hang the clothes.

HERE'S WHY
- you see more every day!

EVER stop to ask yourself why you see more and more husky GMC's on every highway every day? Why so many cost-wise buyers are singling out GMC's as their first choice?

The answer is, "GMC" spells profit to the man whose business depends on the performance of his trucks.

To light-truck users, "GMC" means the highest horsepower in its class—for GMC 1/2- to 2-tonners are second to none in pulling power.

And to commercial haulers, "GMC" means America's most popular Diesel —for efficiency, for long-lasting, fleet-footed power and lowest operating cost.

And in between, throughout the GMC line—from the smallest gasoline-powered pickup truck to the largest Diesel—the story's the same:

Power, brakes, comfort, safety and stamina—the right combination of everything essential to low-cost hauling—in the right vehicle for your loads.

Plymouth's Pace-Setting New Belvedere

Here's Plymouth's smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concepts in styling and beauty. The car has glistening, lively two-tone colors: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue Polychromatic with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck, giving the car the continental look. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at their junction at the rear quarter-panel. The interior is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior.

Boone Fiscal Court Votes For Survey of $1,000,000 Water Distribution System In County

Plant Would Be Built At No Cost To Taxpayers If Plans Prove Feasible; Two Sources Of Water Supply Available, According To Reports.

The Boone County Fiscal Court, at a meeting held last week by unanimous vote signed a contract to hire Magnus & Co., Dixie Terminal Building, Cincinnati, investment brokers, to make a survey for a $1,000,000 water distribution system for the county.

The Court, with Judge C. L. Cropper presiding, voted to have the company make a preliminary survey of the cost and feasibility of the water system. Magistrates voting for the move were Hubert White, Burlington; Edgar Graves, Hebron, and Thomas Carr, Verona.

After the survey has been made and the idea of a water district for the county is found to be feasible, the plant will be built at no cost to the taxpayers but will be defrayed from revenue bonds. The bonds will be paid off from the proceeds from the sale of the water, according to county officials.

Two sources of water supply are available to the county, according to reports. However, members of the court feel that deep wells driven in the North Bend bottoms area, would provide the best source of water. Power would be furnished the plant from the Columbia station situated across the Ohio River from North Bend.

Three or four months will be required to complete the survey, it was believed. The surveying company will check as to the sources of water, costs of rights of way for the system and the estimate of the potential distribution of the water.

Judge Cropper stated that water could be supplied to the local airport, Limaburg, Florence, Hebron and the northern section of the county, and later would probably be extended to all towns and villages in the county.

It is believed that a number of industrial concerns and factories would be located in Boone County if a sufficient supply of water was available.

If the county could provide water at a very inexpensive rate, the supply also could be sold to Walton, Erlanger and Elsmere, which now have another source of water, court members explained.

Although it is estimated that the proposed project would cost approximately $1,000,000, officials stated that it would be no increase in taxes, as the revenue bonds would be financed over a long period so that annual payments would be small and could be met through the revenue taken in from the sale of the water.

Boone Countians Donate One Hundred Forty-Five Pints of Blood When Bloodmobile Visits Florence

Total of One Hundred Seventy-Seven Register During Day At Florence Community Center; Will Visit Burlington April 30th.

One hundred forty-five pints of blood were donated to the U. S. Armed Forces Monday, January 28, when the Bloodmobile visited Boone County for the third time, according to Virginia Goodridge Nestor, Boone County Red Cross Executive Secretary.

Mrs. Nestor stated 177 residents of Florence and surrounding area registered at the Community Center with 145 being accepted. This was the largest contribution made in the county to date, as 121 pints were donated at the local airport and 74 pints in a recent visit to Walton of the Bloodmobile.

Boone County now has a total of 340 pints of blood donated to the armed forces and has 160 pints to reach its goal of 500 pints. The unit will visit Burlington April 30th, Mrs. Nestor stated.

Boone County is ranked second in a group of 30 counties in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana in the amount of blood donated to date, which is highly commendable, considering the area and population of this county. The county also has the distinction of being the second county in the state to be confirmed by Washington for a visit of the Bloodmobile.

Mrs. Nestor stated that many persons desiring to register Monday were rejected due to the fact that the maximum number for any day is 170. Although only 145 persons contributed during the day, 177 persons were examined.

A special plea is being made to

Hebron Cardinals Take Firmer Grip On Conference Title By Defeating Burlington and Florence During Week

Coach Charlie Ransler's Hebron Cardinals locked the door tighter on the Boone County Conference basketball race last week end when they won two vital games over Burlington and Florence. The Cards gave Burlington their worst trouncing in four years as they finally broke the Eagle jinx and clipped the locals by a twenty-five point margin 64-39. Burlington had previously beaten the Cards seven consecutive times and earlier this year had trounced them by seventeen points. The game was close only for a few minutes previous to the half and then the Eagles seemed to "get the lumps" and the Cards went wild.

The Cards made their first place more secure the next night with a 74-59 win over Florence at the loser's floor.

The Knights made it an even-split for the week however with a close 61-60 win over St. Henry on Friday night.

Walton's Bearcats took another split decision during the week with a 43-42 setback at the hands of Simon Kenton and a convincing 69-39 win over Gallatin County.

New Haven's Tigers, a team not too used to winning, let themselves be heard from (and plenty) during the week as they downed Dry Ridge 56-51 on Friday night at Dry Ridge and then went on into high gear Saturday night with a 63-29 victory over the Holy Cross Indians at New Haven.

Radio-Television Stars and Square Dancers Will Appear In Polio Benefit Show Scheduled Tuesday, February 5th

W. D. Scroggin Of Verona Lake Ranch Will Be Master Of Ceremonies; Proceeds Of Show Will Be Used In Fight Against Polio.

On Tuesday, February 5, 1952, at 8:00 p. m., in the high school auditorium at Burlington, the people of Boone County will be given an opportunity to promote the March of Dimes and to have a most enjoyable evening. There will be presented at that time a Jamboree of WLW radio and WLW-TV artist, consisting of Lee Jones, yodelling cowboy and ballad singer, the Pine Mountain Boys, musicians, which have a style and technique all their own; the Jimmy Skinner show, from WNOP of Newport, Ky., and the Rome Johnson show, with Guy Blakeman, holder of second place in the National Fiddlers' contest for 1951.

As a special feature of the program, Clarence Fields and the Boone Countians, square dance team, State champions for 1951 and Hubert Ryan and his Verona Lake Hoedowners, an outstanding dance team will give those attending a treat in old-time square dancing.

W. D. Scroggin of Verona Lake Ranch will be the master of ceremonies, and present the program in his usual good style. The show will be full length, and promises to give an evening of entertainment that will linger in the memory of all who attend.

Tickets will be offered for sale through any school child who wishes to sell them. They will also be obtainable at the door on the night of the show. Admission is 75¢ for adults, 50¢ for children 12 years of age and under, all of which goes to the March of Dimes.

Purchases of these tickets or any other gift that is made to the March of Dimes is like buying a policy of insurance to help cover the cost of necessary hospitalization and treatment for you, your family or your next door neighbor, should Polio strike. It gives no warning, but is swift and brutal when it strikes a loved one or any other person.

Money is needed not only for treatment but for research to try and find the cause of the disease.

Only $2.00 has been sent to headquarters in Boone County, which has not been solicited. We are unable to procure solicitors to make a house-to-house campaign. Won't you send in your dimes and dollars? All of the national advertising and local as well, won't cure the trouble—it takes you and your contribution.

Come to the Jamboree, send in your donation, have the joy of helping some person less fortunate than you. Your help is desperately needed.

Benefit Games At Florence
Two big basketball games are on the card for 7:30 p. m., Friday, February 1, on the Florence School floor.

Boone Post No. 4 American Legion has arranged these games and Bill Shotwell, who is in charge, has announced that the entire proceeds are to go to the Polio fund.

Infra-Red Chick Brooders Prove Very Satisfactory

Has Definite Place For Brooding of Small Farm Flocks, Says Agent.

With the 1952 brooding season just around the corner, many questions have arisen concerning infra-red or as some people refer to it, heat lamp brooding. Perhaps a few of the questions can be cleared up in these pointers.

Infra-red brooding is a type of cool room brooding in which infra-red bulbs are used as the only source of heat. These bulbs when suspended over the brooding area provide a zone of concentrated radiant energy in which the birds remain comfortable regardless of the surrounding air temperature. Under these bulbs the chicks serve as their own thermostats, choosing for themselves the area in which they are comfortable.

The infra-red bulbs used in this method are so designed as to produce a higher infra-red heat output and lower light output than ordinary electric light bulbs. They generally have an average life expectancy of approximately 5000 hours and have built in reflectors to spread the heat over a wider area. Infra-red bulbs are available in various sizes for different needs. They come in 125, 250 and 275-watt sizes. They are made of two types of glass, ordinary white glass and a tempered glass. Both types are suitable for brooding. The ordinary glass bulbs are cheaper, however, they are more susceptible to breakage, when hot, if cold water comes in contact with them.

During 1951, a large number of Kentucky farmers tried this type of brooding on broods ranging in size from 50 to 10,000 birds and found it satisfactory. In one instance, a broiler grower put in 7,000 chicks on February 1st, with the outside temperature below zero. He used infra-red bulbs and no auxiliary heat in his house. The chicks stayed comfortable and he experienced no abnormalities or high mortality.

This type of brooding has a definite place, especially for the brooding of the small farm flock. Some of the advantages expressed for infra-red brooding are:

1. Low initial cost. A large majority of the brooding equipment needed for installation can be made by the operator.
2. Cool room brooding produces faster feathering and growth. The chicks can select their own comfort area, thus there is no crowding for heat since the weaker chicks pick a warmer spot and the stronger chicks a cooler one. There isn't much danger of overheating the chicks.

3. All of the chicks are in full view of the operator at all times, making it easy to detect trouble before it starts.

4. Adaptable for most any house and any size brood.

5. Litter stays dry if house is properly ventilated.

6. Equipment is easy to clean and store.

The main disadvantage of this system of brooding are:

1. Brooding costs per chick may be higher, especially in some areas of high electrical cost. The yearly average brooding with infra-red bulbs is 2.89 cents per chick. The average brooding cost for other types of brooding is 1.9 cents per chick. In estimating cost of infra-red brooding it is usually considered that one 250 watt bulb burning continuously for 24 hours will consume 6 kilowatts.
2. Probably the greatest disadvantage to infra-red brooding is that there is little that can be done in case of a power failure. For this reason, persons living in an area where power failures are frequent, should have some means of supplying auxiliary heat if this system is used.

Generally a 250-watt bulb will take care of from 60 to 100 chicks depending upon the season. Allow fewer chicks per bulb in winter and more in summer. A 6 to 8 bulb unit will take care of 500 chicks.

The first day the chicks are put in the bulbs should be 18 to 20 inches above the litter. As the chicks grow older, the bulbs should be raised approximately 3 inches a week. The maximum height from the litter should not exceed 27 to 30 inches, the minimum height is 15 inches.

To prevent floor drafts, chick guards 12 to 15 inches high should be used for the first 5 to 10 days. Place waterers and feeders inside the guards. Let the chicks regulate their own temperature. When the chicks crowd the center of the heated area, they need more heat, so lower the bulbs. When they form a ring around the heated area, they need less heat, so raise the bulbs.

Often no hovers are used with infra-red bulbs. The bulbs are attached to a platform that is suspended by a wire or chain from the ceiling in such a manner that it can be easily raised or lowered as needed. In some cases, a baffle is used to prevent down drafts on the chicks.

A six-bulb unit is constructed so as to allow two and one-half feet between each pair of bulbs. The bulbs are attached in pairs, and there is a 45 degree angle between the center of one bulb and the center of its mate. This angle is to provide a wider area of heat. Many units have two 3-bulb circuits so that in case of a blown fuse, all of the lights in the unit will not go out and panic the birds. For smaller units, merely cut down the number of bulbs.

Some of the things to keep in mind are: Check first with the local power officials to see that there is sufficient transformer capacity and that the wiring is large enough to provide 115 volts at the brooding unit. Make sure the wiring system is safe. Use only porcelain sockets. Use heavy duty, heat resistant rubber coated cord, not over 8 feet long to connect the brooder to the power outlet. Use proper size wire. For one bulb, use No. 18 wire, for 4 bulbs use No. 14 wire, and for 6 bulbs use No. 12 wire. Don't hang a brooding unit of over 1 bulb on the electric cord, suspend it on a wire or chain. Unless experienced in electrical work it would be best to contact an electrician before setting up an infra-red brooder.

ADULT BLUEGILL TO BE USED FOR STOCKING PONDS

Adult bluegill will be used in restocking farm ponds this year, the Division of Game and Fish has announced. Previously, it is pointed out, fingerling bluegill were used, but it has been found that by using the adult of this species farm ponds will offer better fishing in a shorter time. Since the stocking with adult will require more time and extensive seining operations it is necessary that applications for stocking be in the Division office not later than February 20. Farmers with ponds to be stocked should contact their Conservation officers at an earlier date so that those applications may be received in the Frankfort office and processed before the February 20 deadline. Owners of new ponds, especially, should obtain their bluegill during this early delivery so that the pond may be stocked with bass during the spring distribution.

Under the new stocking method, the Division has found, good fishing may be experienced the next spring. Within one year after the bass fry are stocked they should reach a weight of about one pound. The delivery of bass is expected to start about the middle of May in those ponds that have already received the bluegill quotas.

The adult bluegill are to be obtained from various bluegill ponds and since not so many can be transported as could fingerlings of this species, a greater time will be required for this operation, it is pointed out, necessitating the early stocking deadline.

Persons desiring to make application for fish should contact Ollie Herrington, Boone County Conservation officer, 77 Alta Vista, Walton, or phone Walton 1862.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY MANAGER WILL ANSWER QUESTIONS OF PROGRAM

Joseph T. Ware, who has recently become manager of the Social Security Administration's office for the Covington area, of which this county is a part, feels that one of his chief duties is to answer any questions you may have about Social Security. Do not hesitate to write or telephone him or to drop in and see him if you are in Covington.

Enclosed with all Social Security checks for December, Mr. Ware says, was a notice to self-employed persons whose earnings or profits in 1951 averaged over $50 a month must file a report with the Social Security Administration. Only self-employed persons having an income averaging over $50 a month and workers earning over $50 a month have to report. Other persons do not and should pay no attention to the notice.

North Bend Association Meeting Held January 8th

The quarterly business meeting and banquet of the North Bend Association Y. W. A. Council was held on Tuesday, January 8th, with Madison Avenue Baptist acting as host church. Following the banquet, the regular business meeting was conducted with Doris Jean Taylor presiding. It was decided to have a mission study course during Y. W. A. focus week in February with details to be announced later. Quarterly reports were read by the secretaries of each Y. W. A. group represented, these being Madison Avenue, Ludlow, Latonia, Florence, Erlanger, First Church, and Southside.

A most inspiring program was presented by Betty McCoy, program chairman. Miss Beverly Collingsworth, student at Georgetown College, was guest soloist, accompanied by Marilyn Hartig at the piano. The devotional of the evening was given by Hazel Patterson of Ludlow. A trio from Belleview, composed of Alice Ruth Eggleston, Helen Fay Eggleston and Mrs. Allan White, accompanied by Mrs. L. Scott at the piano gave a special number in song. This was followed by a most interesting talk by Sarah Martin, student at Georgetown College, on her work as summer missionary with the Mexicans and Spanish-speaking people in New Mexico, South Texas, and Arizona. The meeting was dismissed with prayer, led by Mrs. L. H. Gordon, counselor of the group.

The next banquet meeting will be held at First Baptist Church, Covington, April 8th.

N. K. E. A. OFFICIALS MEET

At the Covington Y. M. C. A., Saturday, January 19, the Executive Committee of the Northern Kentucky Association held its first meeting of the current year to formulate plans for their 1952 convention in November. For more than four hours the group deliberated on such matters as date of the fall meeting, general theme for discussion, type of program, and evaluation of criticisms favorable and unfavorable in regard to last year's workshop type of program. Following precedent of alternating meetings between Newport and Covington, Newport School was named as the place and the date was set for November 6 and 7.

After much discussion as to the relative merits of different kinds of programs, the committee prepared a questionnaire to be submitted in mimeographed form to the membership. These questions are designed to get an expression from the individual teachers as to the type of program they prefer. This action is taken in pursuance of the committee's policy of seeking teachers participating and promoting democracy in the association. It is hoped that teacher response will be prompt, to the end that the committee may proceed unimpeded with further planning at its next meeting on February 15.

Former Boone County Lady Retires After 31 Years With Coppin Firm

The following clipping, taken from the Times-Star, January 7, 1952 was received by this office last week, which we are reprinting by request. The article follows:

All of her 31 years in the business world were spent at the John

R. Coppin Co., Covington department store, by Miss Addie Norman, 183 Montague Street, Covington, whose retirement became official recently. She made the rounds of the various departments and offices to announce, "This is it!" and receive the warm handshakes and best wishes of her fellow employees.

"Just tapering off" is the way Miss Norman put it when it was learned that she will report for a day, now and then, to help out in that second-floor department, where she handled various types of work on fur coats, jackets and scarfs for a number of years.

Came From Boone

It was back in 1920-Aug. 2, to be exact—when Miss Norman, native of Boone County and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Norman (Belle Aylor), set up housekeeping in Covington with her sister, Miss Tina Jane Norman, after selling the family's large farm on U. S. 42, between Florence and Union. Their brother, Cliff Norman, still resides near Florence.

On the same date in 1920, Miss Addie decided to become a business woman and her sister chose to be the housekeeper. She went to Coppin's, then operated by Will Coppin, and applied for work. L. B. Haughey who was general manager of the store, told Miss Norman to come in the next day "for a try-out." For several years Miss Addie was a fitter in the ready-to-wear department before being assigned to the fur department.

Throughout an interview, Miss Norman repeated, "They have been so kind to me at Coppin's." By "they," she said she meant the company officials, her fellow workers and many, many of the customers. "The Macklins," as she referred to the present operators of the store, "have always made it seem to their like one big family working together." She said appreciation always was shown of the work she did. "For that reason," she said, "I certainly enjoyed working for them and it was, indeed, a pleasure to work with them."

Another Tribute

Fred Macklin, Jr., son and assistant to the vice president and manager of the second floor of the store, said he was going to miss the faithful employee very much, "because I've known her all my life." Miss Norman smiled and replied in her soft-spoken manner, "Yes, that is true. As a matter of fact, your parents were just young bride and groom when I came here to work."

A large, potted flowering begonia, Miss Norman's favorite plant, was delivered to her home on New Year's Day. It was one of several gifts from William Macklin, president of the company; Fred Macklin, Jr., and William Macklin, Jr., who is company secretary and main floor merchandise manager, and many of employees throughout the store.

Perhaps most among customers who will miss seeing Miss Norman walking by on her errands to and from the fur department are the knitters in Mrs. Betty Weaver's adjoining yarn shop. They will miss her glance and cheerful "hello" from over the top of yarn cabinets on the aisle. Those of the knitting customers, who often spend an hour or so in a work-chat session in the yarn shop, became friends and acquaintances of Miss Norman through Mrs. Weaver, the proprietor-instructor.

"Rest A While"

Miss Norman said that since her health has not been so good, she plans to rest a while and then become active in work at Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, where she has been a member since leaving Boone County, where she was baptised in the Union Presbyterian Church, affiliated with the Southern Presbyterian. She has served as treasurer of the Business Women's Circle and is a member of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Covington church. She also is a member of Jefferson Council, Daughters of America.

Daughter of native Boone Countians, Miss Norman was educated in a rural school and attended the Union Church, where she was active in various circles.

Matthias Crotter-Crisler patented land, with members of the Hebron colony in 1728. Apparently he was not a member of the original colony, but joined it about the time of its removal from Germanna to Madison county, coming perhaps from Pennsylvania.

Deobold Christler, also found "Duvald Christler," proved his importation into the colony in the Orange County, Va., court in 1743; his will, dated Feb. 20, 1776, was probated in Culpeper county, Va., 18, 1776. It mentions his wife Rosa, daughter of Andreas Garr, sons, 1. Henry, m. Elizabeth Weber (Weaver); 2. George, m. Anna Madelon Schmidt (Smith); 3. Adam, m. Elizabeth Crigler, daughter of Nicholas and Margaret (Kaifer) Crigler; 4. Michael, m. Mary Ann (Thomas) DeBolt; 5. Leonard, m. Margaret Clore, daughter of John and Dorothea (Kaifer) Clore; 6. David, m. Elizabeth Weiland (Wayland); the will mentions the following daughters: 7. Dorothea, m. Nicholas (Briels) (Broyles); 8. Mary, m. Michael (Briels) Carpenter, an uncle of the Rev. Wm. Carpenter; 9. Elizabeth, m. Michael Wilhoit (Sr.), son of Adam, and grandson of Michael Wilhoit; 10. Margaret, m. Adam Clore, son of Peter, grandson of Michael Clore; 11. Catharine, m. Aaron Crigler, son of Nicholas, and brother of Elizabeth, wife of Adam Crigler.

Cpl. William Smith Stationed in Arizona

Luke AFB, Arizona—Corporal William G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Smith, Rural Route 2, arrived here today after spending a 10-day leave at home.

Private Smith, who attended Lloyd High School, Erlanger, is a radar maintenance man with the Air Force. He repairs the highly technical equipment which guides airplanes in landings and take-offs during bad weather. Without men like Private Smith our Air Force might be powerless during sudden storms which often attack air fields as relentlessly as the enemy.

Corp. Smith spent almost a year in radar school as Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., learning his job. He was graduated May 20, 1951, another of the many technicians which the Air Force turns out daily.

One of the many young men who always serve their country in time of need, "Smitty" as Corp. Smith is called around the base, enlisted in the Army October, 1946. He served 13 months with the American Occupation Army in Japan, and earned the American Victory Medal.

Discharged in March, 1948, "Smitty" went to work for the Tel-Rad Center in Covington. Then, with the outbreak of the crisis in Korea, Private Smith once again saw that his country was in need of young, experienced men. He immediately enlisted in the Air Force, May 9, 1950, where he knew he could help out the most with his experience in radar.

"Smitty" was sent to Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Texas, for basic training. He left there for radar school at Keesler AFB May 12, 1950. He has been stationed here at Luke since July 14, 1951.

Twenty Years From NowN. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Will they thank you for good strong feet?
Oh, you mother of a child—you want his manners to be nice, you want his brain to be quick, you want his hands to be agile—but don't you want his feet to be sturdy and true, well-shaped and graceful? Are those of your daughter?

You mother of a child, twenty years from now his feet will be walking up to get a diploma, or confidently marching in to get a job, maybe walking up to an old church altar to meet a bride in white. (Or it may be the bride herself). Your child may never thank you for good strong feet, he'll take them as matter of fact, but what will he think if they're not good strong feet? Sure he'll still love you—but "why didn't mother make sure I was growing up right?"

It is a responsibility, just one of the many a mother takes on when she brings a child into the world—Adv.

Walton Bearcats Take Second Place In League Standing

As Result of Victories Over Hebron Cards and New Haven Tigers.

Walton's Bearcats tightened up the Boone County Basketball Conference race last week-end when they clipped the league-leading Hebron Cardinals and fourth place New Haven Tigers. The two wins moved the Bearcats into second spot with a 4-2 record and moved Burlington down to third spot with a 3-2 record. Hebron maintained first spot with five wins and two losses. The Walton wins also set the stage for the big game of the coming week when the Cats tangle with Burlington's Eagles at Burlington Friday night. This game will put the winners in a position to catch Hebron before the conference schedule runs out.

In another conference contest this week Hebron will entertain New Haven and thus stand a good chance of improving their league lead.

Walton 51 Hebron 50

Hebron took an early lead and held an 18-7 first quarter margin but Walton outscored the Cards 18 to 14 in the second quarter to cut the lead to 32-25 at halftime. The winners added 18 more in the third period while holding Hebron to eight to lead 43-42 as the final period opened. The scoring was even during the final period. Garrett was high man for the contest with 18 points. S. Linton had 12 for the winners. J. Linton had 11 and Smith added 11 more.

Hebron stayed in the win column during last week when they downed Ludlow by a 63-49 count at Ludlow. Period scores were: 11-11, 28-27, 46-38 with Hebron holding the edge. Crigler paced the winners with 22 tallies. Ratliff and Rouse divided 30 points for the losers.

Walton made it two for the week when they added Erlanger Lloyd to their victory list. The Cats smothered the Juggernauts 57 to 35 at Lloyd. With Walton leading all the way, rest time scores were 14-7, 25-16, and 39-24.

Eagles Win Two

Burlington's recently slumping Eagles hit the comeback trail with two impressive wins over Gallatin County and Ludlow on Friday and Saturday nights at Burlington. In a high scoring contest the Eagles defeated Gallatin County 64 to 66 as four of the winners hit in high scoring figures.

The Eagles came back Saturday night to hand Jack Carson's Ludlow Panthers a 58-39 setback. The win was Burlington's 13th of the season against four losses.

New Haven lost to Covington Catholic 68-51 last Tuesday night.

Coming Contests

The two wins moved the Bearcats into second spot with a 4-2 record and moved Burlington down to third spot with a 3-2 record. Hebron maintained first spot with five wins and two losses. The Walton wins also set the stage for the big game of the coming week when the Cats tangle with Burlington's Eagles at Burlington Friday night. Overflow Crowd Attends Polio Show Tuesday, Feb. 5th Entertainment Is Huge Success, According to Chairman Yelton.

A crowd estimated at more than 1,000 persons attended the Boone County Jamboree benefit show, featuring radio and television stars at Burlington school auditorium, Tuesday night, February 5th.

A. D. Yelton, County chairman of the campaign, stated that the show was one of the most successful benefit events ever to be held in the county. Proceeds from the entertainment will remain in the county to fight Polio, he said.

Entertainers featured on the program were Lee Jones, modeling girl of WLW-TV, the Pine Mountain Boys, Jimmy Skinner, Rome Johnson and Guy Blakeman. Clarence Fields and his Boone County dance team, and Hubert Ryan and his Verona Hoedowners gave demonstrations of old time square dancing which was highly enjoyed.

A. D. Yelton and his co-workers are to be commended for the splendid entertainment, which not only boosted the Polio fund, but was acclaimed by many as one of the best shows to be staged in this section.

W. D. Scroggins, Verona Lake Ranch operator was master of ceremonies, and kept the program moving along in a very efficient and pleasing manner.

In commenting on the present campaign in Boone County, Mr. Yelton stated that much work remains to be done in the drive. Although the show was very successful, and returns were very gratifying, much work remains to be done to complete the drive.

Persons desiring to contribute to the fund should contact their precinct chairman, their local bank or mail their contribution to A. D. Yelton, County chairman, Burlington.

Direct contributions will be appreciated, Mr. Yelton stated, as there will be no house-to-house canvass made.

Precinct chairmen are as follows: Mrs. William Wilson, Beaver; J. K. Cropper, Burlington; Ralph Prable, Constance; Mrs. John Kyle, Florence; Mrs. Alice K. Clore, Grant; James B. Jones, Hamilton; Mrs. John L. Conner, Hebron; Elvin E. Helms, Petersburg; Hon. Jos. B. Rouse, Verona; and Malcolm Simpson, Walton.

Citizens throughout the county are urged to contribute toward this worthy cause. Let's boost the Polio fund by our contributions.

New Ohio River Bridge Will Be Tax Free, Word

The new Ohio River bridge scheduled for construction from Lawrenceburg, Ind., to a point in Boone County near Petersburg, Ky., will be exempt from all Kentucky taxes, according to an opinion of Hal Williams, Assistant Attorney General, in response to a query from Boone County Judge C. L. Cropper.

In making the inquiry Judge Cropper said he feared that if Kentucky proposed to tax the bridge, the Indiana Toll Bridge Commission might drop the project.

Williams, counsel for the State Revenue Department, explained that Kentucky's constitution exempts from taxation all public property used for public purposes. He added that collection of tolls to pay for the span would not make any difference.

All Kentucky bridges spanning the Ohio River in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio are exempt of taxes from those states. A federal court suit ended collection of taxes on these structures for Indiana and Illinois, while the Ohio Legislature specifically exempted the bridges leading to Cincinnati.

Pressure For Higher Prices Still Strong, Michael DiSalle Says

OPS Director Reviews Benefits Of Price Controls.

Michael V. DiSalle, Director of Price Stabilization, told the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report how consumers have been benefited and the nation aided by the work thus far of the Office of Price Stabilization. Contrasting the grave situation immediately after the Korean War started with the relatively stable conditions not prevailing, DiSalle declared: "I cannot help feeling that the efforts of our organization have played a substantial part in the remarkable reversal of the economic situation which has occurred." A copy of the statement was received at the Cincinnati District OPS office.

A year ago, the OPS Director pointed out, we had a defense program only "on paper." "We had a budget surplus; practically no increase had yet occurred in the defense take of our material and labor supply.

"Today the production level is higher and a much larger proportion of the total is going to defense," DiSalle stated. "Today unemployment is lower; today the government is overating at a deficit; today our world-wide commitments are greater. Today the economy is rapidly approaching the situation the mere fear of which a year ago caused frantic inflation."

Although there are many pressures for higher prices, DiSalle emphasized that "the relative stabilization which has been accomplished has more than all else been created by a return of public confidence that, although the value of the dollar is still seriously threatened, the government can and will deal with inflation, and no major economic group will be victimized in the process."

The Price Director noted, "contrary to the impression gained in some quarters, OPS is still under plenty of pressure to raise ceilings. Perhaps some of you would like to spend a day in my office to appreciate just how much pressure. More than 1,000 companies had already filed reports and applications under the Capehart amendment for ceiling price raises, covering over 5,000 product lines, and many more are coming in every day. I doubt if these applications are being filed as mere insurance, or for the pleasure of filling out simplified forms."

Mr. DiSalle concluded by saying that, as the President's Economic report so clearly indicates, "my successor will have no easy time. The build-up of inflationary forces which the report foreshadows will mean that soft spots will become fewer and upward pressure on prices even more general. I have every confidence that my successor, whoever he may be, will be able to keep prices reasonably stable. He can count on the help of the organization which has been developed and he can build on the solid foundation which has been laid. But he will also need the wholehearted support of every patriotic American."

Complete remodeling of the refreshment stand is now completed according to an announcement by Tom Hill and Wm. Macklin, managers of the Florence Drive-In Theatre, and re-opening is set for week-end operation beginning this Saturday, February 9th. During the winter season this popular theatre will be open every Saturday and Sunday nights, showing only the best in motion pictures.

The double feature program for this Saturday and Sunday is the technicolor production, "Crosswinds," starring John Payne and Rhonda Fleming, also "Submarine Command" with Wm. Holden and Nancy Olson, two new hits.

This will be the first opportunity for the public to inspect the new refreshment bar, where hot chili, barbecue and french fried potatoes will be added to the old favorites, hot dogs, popcorn, etc.

As in the past a coupon good for one gallon of gas from the Kirk Chevrolet Co., will be presented for each car anytime the temperature drops below 50 degrees.

THEIR ANCESTORS AND
THEIR DESCENDANTS

Utz in the News
Hans Jorge Zeuche of the Virginia colony of 1717 has been dead for almost two centuries, but his descendants are still marching on in widely separated parts of the country.

Up in Connecticut lives an artist whose name is Thornton Utz; he has attained success in his profession, for the Saturday Evening Post and its millions of readers used one of Mr. Utz's illustration on its cover page for its issue of October 20, 1951. It's an unusual picture, too, interestin', amusin', elevatin', revealin', and aggravatin'.

Like a spirited motion picture, each scene is full of action; time, now; place, a suburban railroad station platform; characters, a boy and a girl, college students; an old lady with a birdcage; several tired business men, carrying brief-cases and packages; their faces buried in their newspapers; a "gal" with a keen eye for the man in a Marine's uniform, who is fully aware of all feminine wiles; he's been around, has been every where, seen everything, and knows all the answers; he's bored and cynical and leans against a post of the station platform as if his sole purpose in life is to help sustain the platform roof. I really suspect he is Mr. Thornton Utz, himself, gathering ideas for this cover-illustration.

Then, something happens; with a roar that one can hear, an "Empire Express" train thunders by, with a wind of cyclonic force following it; the old lady with the birdcage drops it and grabs at her hat, and her skirts; the brief cases and the packages of the men fall from their arms, their papers cover their faces, and their hats sail away. The sweet, young thing who was so "unconsciously" stralling in the vicinity of the bored Marine has her coat flying violently about her head, and the soldier-boy looks as disillusioned as ever.

In the last panel of the picture everyone takes stock; the college-boy in trying to capture his companion's jaunty cap as it sails through the air, has stepped into and through the bird-cage, and the old lady holds him responsible for the escape of her bird, which, perched on the head of the irate elderly gentleman, twitters excitedly, "what happen?" The elderly gentleman was sideswiped by the sharp corner of a package under the arm of one of his fellow commuters, and looks as if he had an opinion to express, but can't for words fall him; and with her back turned on the blase Marine, the young woman with, ah, the shapely underpinning, elaborately repairs her complexion, entirely "oblivious" of the soldier's reflection in her mirror. Hunt up your copy of the Post and see the picture yourself; you'll forget the "sings and arrows of outrageous fortune" that torment all of us, at time. Mr. Utz is a gift from heaven to a confused and weary world—he makes us laugh.

Although he now lives in Connecticut, the Thornton Utz of this picture is not a "dam yankee," but is a transplanted "rebel," born in Memphis, Tennessee, where his parents still live. When the Germana colonists moved to Madison county, Virginia, one of the first things they did was to build a stockade, on land patented by George Utz, for protection against Indian attacks. This land later on was owned by Thornton Utz, and Thornton Utz, the accomplished artist, is his descendant and namesake.

W. H. T. Utz, a descendant of Hans Jorge Zeuche, lives in the "pinney woods of East Texas," where there is at least one oil well on every farm; their owners now-a-days have quit farming and spend their time in counting their oil royalties. Mr. Utz had until recently a female mule named Belle; for twenty years Belle had served his owner well and faithfully, and in his declining years was allowed to roam over the farm in well-earned leisure. Rather bored by the tranquil, uneventful life he was leading, he wandered out one day on the public highway and there violently collided with an old-time tin Lizzie of the vintage of 1905. The consequence were decisive; Belle was killed and Lizzie was a wreck, her remains a pile of scrap, fit only for the junk yard. Her owner promptly sued Mr. Utz for damages, charging that he was negligent in permitting Belle to wander on the public road, "unlighted, unannounced, even by a single 'he-haw,' unattended and unadorned with any known device calculated to make his, her or its presence known." Mr. Utz, through his attorney answered, denying that he was liable for any damages that Lizzie's owner "may have suffered through his ignorance of the rights of a quiet, well-behaved gentleman-mule, even if his name was that of a feminine mule, and that Belle, wearing a head-stall, was fully and adequate dressed, according to present day standards, and harnessed and equipped as a working mule sufficiently to entitle him to the recognized rights of animals on the public highway."

"It is difficult," alleged Mr. Utz's cross-petition, "in a speed-crazy age, when the dollar is rapidly and daily depreciating in value, and when the cost of mules in climbing higher and higher, to place a value on Belle, who was a mule of vast experience, and rightfully suspicious of the traffic risk involved in an encounter with a rattle-trap vehicle like Mr. Ford's Lizzie." Since the car's owner had placed an estimated value of $557.95 on his car, from which should be deducted the value of the remains as scrap iron, Mr. Utz's lawyer thought he should receive as damages at least $550, plus the cost of a suitable, appropriately inscribed headstone, "Here lies Belle, victim of an unwarranted assault by an iron-hearted female whose prime was long-past, and whose only hope for remembrance was by an assault on an innocent creature intent alone on faithful service to mankind, in mitigating the menace to traffic, by kicking the daylight out of an old junk heap." The Judge has taken the case under advisement, and is still wrestling with the problem.

Notes and Comments

From the Editor's Desk

Throttling the Free Press
The following is reprinted from The Freeman Magazine:
"It is scarcely news that President Truman hates the press. But it came as news to us that the Administration was within an inch of getting a throttling hold on the finances of a free press during the closing minutes of the last session of Congress. The legislative clause in question was contained in Senate bill 2170; it would have given the Administration's price-control czar full authority over the size and allocation of the advertising budgets of private industry. This authority would have permitted the Administration to decide what constitutes 'reasonable' advertising expenses and to exclude from the 'cost of sales' any outlay deemed 'unreasonable.' The proposed legislation, tucked in an amendment to an amendment, passed an absent-minded Senate by a 49 to 21 vote. It would have passed in the House of Representatives if John E. Lyle, Jr., of Corpus Christi, Texas, hadn't spotted the danger in the legislation to the whole concept of free speech. Mr. Lyle, it seems to us, deserves an editorial garland in every newspaper and magazine in the land."—The Freeman.

"Look Out America"
D. A. Hulcy, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, recently made a speech before the New York City Rotary Club, which bore the apt title, "Look Out America: Dangerous Curve Ahead." In the course of it, he warned that the fate of the free world hangs on the strength of America—and that this strength is threatened by many within our own country who would lead us down the dismal road that ends in socialism. As he said, "We are being hustled toward socialism by the exploitation of whatever emergency its disciples can find or create."

Then, Mr. Hulcy departed from his prepared talk to make the following extemporaneous remarks on a specific situation now existing in New York: "You here in the East and particularly New York State may find yourselves confronted with the entry of the federal government or the state government into actual competition with the business managed electric companies which have a long and distinguished record of excellent service. Two bills now in Congress would put either the federal government or the state into the power business. These bills provide for the construction of a power plant with a capacity of over a million kilowatts at Niagara Falls, now available for development as a result of the recent treaty with Canada. This project . . . is in no way related to a seaway, reclamation or flood control problem."

Five publicly-regulated, taxpaying utility companies are ready and eager to develop the power with private funds and to sell it at rates which will be determined by regulatory bodies. They ask no favors,

Morality in Our National Life
The head of one of the country's leading enterprises recently talked on corruption in high places. He said, "If the corruption which has been exposed is not vigorously attacked on every front, the public will be justified in becoming cynical, and all our cherished American traditions will be jeopardized. Even business cannot long maintain its integrity in a sea of corruption. Only if all the forces for righteousness form together in a supreme effort will be able to win the battle for restoration of high morality in our national life."

It is not true, as some people seem to believe, that graft, petty or otherwise, and various kinds of dishonesty must inevitably be a part of all human undertaking. As the same executive pointed out, "high moral standards do exist and must exist to make possible the efficient production and distribution of $325,000,000 worth of goods and services in this country every year!" Fraud and commercial bribery are almost nonexistent here, and millions of transactions, some involving large sums, are completed every year without written contracts or formal guarantees. On the stock exchanges, billions of dollars worth of property are bought and sold by a word or a sign, and the agreements are invariably honored. This executive said that his own company has credit sales totaling about $900,000,000 a year to over 1,000,000 different individuals and concerns—yet the bad debt losses over the past five years have averaged only one-fiftieth of one percent.

Of all forms of corruption, that in government is the worst. And there are many kinds of corruption which are so subtle as to be beyond the reach of the law. The only defense is the honor, integrity and moral standards of the men who we elect and appoint to office.

Homemakers in Nicholas county bought two evergreen trees which were set out on the courthouse lawn.

COUNTY AGENT GIVES EARLY GARDEN TIPS

Actual gardening cannot be started for several weeks, but planning and purchasing some supplies should be started, according to Bill Davis, County Agent.

A garden planned to fit the family needs can not only provide fresher vegetables, but can earn the gardener as much as $3.00 an hour.

Complete fertilizer or 20% superphosphate to be used with manure should be purchased now. A 4-12-8 or 5-10-5 fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 1200 pounds per acre, half plowed under and half worked in after breaking the ground.

If superphosphate is used with manure 600 pounds per acre is sufficient.

A good sprayer is a must in present day gardening and should be purchased before they become scarce.

Seed can be ordered now. A few good varieties are: Top Crop beans, Golden Cross Bush bean, Kennebec or Irish Cobbler potatoes, War do peas, Fordhook 242 or Henders Bush lima beans, Chantenay Dampers Half Tong carrots, Sirilot of Simpson leaf lettuce, Prig of Wisconsin muskmelons, Klondike or Blackie (wilt resistant) watermelons and Clemson Spinless okra.

March 17th Deadline For Filing Social Security Report

The more than 6000 persons in the Covington Field Service area who are receiving monthly insurance checks from the Social Security Administration are finding a special notice in the envelope this month. It says that persons who are self-employed must come to the Field Office at Seventh and Scott Streets and file a report.

Beneficiaries who have a business of their own or who work "on their own" in a trade, as a general insurance salesman, as a manufacturer's agent or some similar occupation, must file a report. The last day on which it can be filed is March 17th. But don't wait until the last day—file it now. Beneficiaries who are employed and earning over $50 a month should also report. But if the beneficiary is neither self-employed nor employed and earning over $50 a month, it is not necessary to come to the office. If the beneficiary is not working for himself or anyone else, the notice does not apply to him. Checks will continue to come without interruption.

Joseph T. Ware, manager of the office at Seventh and Scott Streets, Covington, especially asks that people to whom the notice does not apply should not come to the office. It is unnecessary and it makes it difficult to wait on people who should file reports, need Social Security cards, or wish to file claims.

Local Representative Offers Workers Measure

Frankfort, Ky.—Labor legislation from two sides of the fence has been offered in the General Assembly.

Rep. Egbert V. Taylor, Republican Greensburg, from the Green-Adair district, has proposed measures to outlaw attempts to stop individuals from working during a labor dispute, while Rep. Joe Rouse, Democrat, Verona, Boone-Gallatin district, has offered a measure to prohibit dismissal of workers due to union membership.

A Constitutional amendment to make State officers eligible for re-election, but limited to two consecutive terms in the same office, has been proposed in the House by Reps. E. H. Stumbo, Democrat, Harolds, and Joe Rouse, Democrat, Verona.

The proposed amendment would, if approved by the people, remove the present ban against re-election to the same office for the succeeding term of any individual.

Motorists In All Lanes Stop For School Buses

Motorists in all lanes of a highway must stop for school buses loading and unloading children, State Commissioner Guthrie F. Crowe said today. The statement was in reply to a question as to whether the law pertained to highways with more than two lanes.

Crowe said the law is for the protection of children crossing highways as much as on a three or four-lane highway as on one with only two lanes. The fact that a four-lane road is divided down the middle does not change the situation, he said.

The question of whether the law applies to all roads was raised in Jefferson county where there have been complaints that not all motorists were stopping for buses on four-lane highways.

Crowe said the law does not specifically omit highways of more than two lanes and must, therefore, be interpreted to include them. The law was enacted in 1944.

Income Tax Changes Outlined In Booklet

Recent changes in the Federal income tax law, enacted in 1951, greatly affect every citizen who files a return.

Those important changes have been included in the 1951 revision of the official Government tax guide "Your Federal Income Tax." This 146-page publication covers the numerous questions which may arise while completing your tax return. The detail index will enable you to locate particular information quickly and accurately.

This booklet has been so widely used each year that the U. S. Department of Commerce Field Office, which is an agent for the Government Printing Office, is making it available again this year, according to Prentiss M. Terry, Louisville District Manager.

You may obtain the booklet for twenty-five cents per copy at Terry's office, located at 631 Federal Building, Louisville, Ky. The orders should be accompanied by check, made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, or cash. Stamps not accepted.

OFFICIALS STRONGLY OPPOSE RAISE IN TRUCK LOAD LIMIT

State-wide protest against any increase in the legal weight limit of highway truck freighters in Kentucky was voiced by three county officials' organizations in their annual conventions at Louisville last week.

The Kentucky Sheriffs' Association, the Kentucky County Judges' Association and the Kentucky County Attorneys' Association each unanimously passed resolutions strongly opposing any increase in Kentucky's present law, which permits a load limit of 42,000 pounds for the big truck trailers and semi-trailers which, the resolutions stated, "greatly damage our highways and cause inconvenience to the traveling public."

The County Judges' Association resolution stated, in part, that as presiding officers of 120 Fiscal Courts, the judges know "and are greatly interested in the economic construction and maintenance of all public highways" and that "in recent years, particularly in 1950, Kentucky's highways have shown accelerated deterioration due to excessive weights transported by motor trucks and semi-trailer trucks," and urged that "if any change is made by the Legislature in the legal weight limit, it be for a decrease rather than an increase" in this.

The County Attorneys' Association in its resolution urged the "Governor and the Lieutenant Governor to use their influence to defeat any legislation seeking to increase the State truck load limit" and "that the members of the General Assembly be earnestly requested to oppose and defeat any such legislation."

The resolutions passed by the Sheriffs' Association said, in part, "A very small proportion of the roads of this State are built to stand any heavier trucks, use of which would cause great damage to our roads and would increase the cost of maintaining the roads" and "We are opposed to any legislation that would increase the weight limits of trucks on our highways."

The longest, largest highway culvert in the United States is on U. S. Highway 25 eight miles south of Livingston, Ky., over Wood's Creek. Kentucky has more miles of navigable streams than any other state and more than 3,100 bridges.

Tobacco Plant Bed Pointers Are Given By Agent

Recommend Use Of Same Plant Bed Sites Unless Black Shank Appeared.

Plenty of healthy, vigorous, stocky plants should be ready for early transplanting if high quality tobacco is to be produced. Enough plant bed area should be prepared to furnish enough plants to set the entire crop at two pullings. Later pullings of plants are likely to carry tobacco mosaic, which of course caused more of the disease in the field. Provide 100 feet of bed 9 feet wide for each acre to be planted.

Recommendations this year are that growers use the same plant beds that were used last year unless black shank appeared in the field. A new plant site should be selected if plants in the field showed any signs of black shank. Second year beds are recommended in other cases to reduce the infection of the plants by wildfire. The virus causing wildfire lives through the winter on the roots of grasses and weeds and is therefore more prevalent in new beds. All beds should be treated three times with a 3-4-50 Bordeaux mixture as an extra precaution against wildfire. Bed should be treated when the first plants appear, again in 10 days and immediately after weeds are pulled from the bed.

Thirty-five to forty pounds of complete fertilizer is sufficient for 100 feet of bed 9 feet wide.

Two or three level teaspoons of seed will sow a 100 foot bed.

Recommended varieties of Northern Kentucky are Ky. 28 and Ky. 57 on land not infected with fusarium wilt and Ky. 35 for wilt infected land. Other diseases resistant varieties that are planted in smaller amounts are Ky. 16, Ky. 41-A and Ky. 56. Varieties that are not resistant to black root rot are not recommended. All of the Kentucky numbered varieties are root rot resistant.

Bed should be boxed tightly to help keep out insects that attack the young plants. Rotenone dust or a mixture of Paris Green and lead arsenate can be used to kill flea beetles. As mash made of Paris Green and bran can be used to control cut worms.

Leaflet No. 85, published by the Experiment Station, University of Kentucky, gives detailed information on Plant Bed Management and can be obtained from offices of the County Agent.

The Farmersville Club of Caldwell county painted 17 mail boxes and stenciled names on them. Mrs. Arnold Craig in Gallatin county has 20 varieties of canned foods on her storage shelves. Homemakers in South Madison and Rockcastle counties are refinishing chairs, tables, clocks, picture frames and stools.

POULTRY PRODUCTION
WILL RISE IN 1952

The poultry industry can expect another banner year in 1952, according to latest figures of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Increased production of eggs and broilers is expected and turkey production may exceed the 1951 level, which was a record high. Indications are that the strong demand for poultry products will continue and prices are expected to average about the same.

While the total value of poultry products in 1952 may be as much as 5 percent higher than the estimated $4 billion for 1951, costs will also rise and net returns to producers may be a little lower.

Commercial broiler production will probably continue its long-time increase, assisted by the new aureomycin-vitamin B12 feed supplement, which helps bring birds to maturity faster and on less feed. Broilers today are supplying almost half of the nation's chicken meat, compared to a negligible amount 15 years ago.

Turkey growers are expected to raise more small birds, which are proving popular and economical for year-round use. A record 52.8 million turkeys were produced in 1951, and indications are that the production of small and large turkeys will increase in 1952.

The Grassy Springs and Pellott 4-H Clubs in Adair county began school ground improvement projects by setting out evergreens.

Sam Gardner on Green River in Taylor county says he made $500 by firing his tobacco this year.

Home Hair Wave Would Be Outlawed Under New Bill

Bill Seeks To Prohibit Sale of Any Device or Material For Home Use.

Frankfort, Ky.—The home hair wave with kit-type preparations would be outlawed for Kentucky women if a bill now before the Kentucky Legislature passes in its present form. So warned E. M. Josey, secretary of the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, in a statement just issued.

"A working girl couldn't legally give her roommate a package-type home wave if this bill passes," he said. "For one thing, it would be illegal for anybody in Kentucky to sell her the kit."

The bill, H. B. 238, seeks to prohibit the sale of any device or material to be used for the purpose of applying a permanent wave in the home and to prevent anyone except a qualified beauty specialist from using such materials.

Josey said the bill is "a brief rehash of proposals that have been beaten in the Kentucky Legislature and in other States when the attempt was made to deprive women of this popular and less expensive method of beauty care."

He said former allegations of "danger to health" and "damage to hair" by the home kit preparations "long ago have been proved groundless by authorities including the Federal Pure Food and Drug Administration."

Industry sources estimate that women have bought approximately 250,000,000 such sets made by the various concerns.

Three Northern Ky. Counties Plan Insectory Service

Horticulturist Assists In Planning Program of Fruit Growers.

Fruit growers from Boone, Kenton and Campbell Counties met February 11 to plan the 1952 Northern Kentucky Insectory Service. Mr. W. D. Armstrong, Experiment Station Horticulturist, met with the growers to assist in planning the program and to discuss new developments in spraying.

Growers from the three Northern Kentucky Counties will hold three Kentucky fruit meetings during the summer. The first meeting will be held in Campbell County May 13, for a study of strawberry production. The second and third meetings will be held in Kenton and Boone Counties June 17 and August 12 to study tree fruit varieties and spraying techniques.

To assist the experiment station and county agents in disseminating timely information on insect population and spraying, growers from the three counties will make regular reports to Mr. Armstrong on weather conditions, stage of fruit development, and curculio and codling moth emergence. Growers will also submit apple leaf samples to Mr. Armstrong for scab spore inspection. These growers reports will be published in regular spray service letters together with pertinent spray information and mailed to all fruit growers.

Spraying schedules on tree fruits will begin before many more days. Kentucky Circular No. 487, entitled "Spray and Dust Schedules for Commercial Fruit Plantings" gives detailed information on the spraying of apples, peaches, pears, plums, cherries, grapes, raspberries, and strawberries. The circular may be obtained from any Kentucky County Agent.

Hebron Cardinals Assured of Top Spot In Standing

After Defeating New Haven Five Friday Night By Score of 62-51.

Charlie Ransler's Hebron Cardinals assured themselves of at least a tie for first place in the Boone County Conference basketball race last Friday night when they defeated New Haven. The win gave the Cards a 6-2 league record, but Walton's resurging Bearcats improved their chances of making the final stands a two-way deal by trimming the Burlington Eagles the same night at the loser's floor. The Bearcats have a game this week with New Haven and should they win they will also hold a 6-2 conference record and will be co-champs with the Cards.

Hebron also slipped past the Burlington Eagles in "all games" standings during the week when they defeated the Crittenden Bulldogs on Saturday night for their fourteenth victory of the season against five setbacks. The Eagles now stand 13-5 in all games.

Duncan Huey's Florence Knights, now, that they have a home floor for practice and games, seem to have arrived. As evidence of their improvements the Knights trimmed Dry Ridge of the Penogran loop and Ludlow of the NKAC the past week to bring the season record up to a respectable 8-10.

New Haven dropped a pair of contests last week. Besides the loss to Hebron the Tigers lost to St. Thomas of the Northern Kentucky Catholic League. Walton, suffered an upset in Monday's night game with St. Henry when they took the short end of 76-64 count at the St. Henry floor.

A number of important games are slated for this coming week, though none except the Walton-New Haven affair will have too much effect on the Boone Conference. The schedule:

Boone Co. Making Rapid Strides As Show Horse Center

New Establishments Add Impact To Already Numerous Stables.

With the interest manifesting itself at the Boone County Fair in the show horse and pony classes have come several new breeding establishments to add their impact to the stables of Lillard Scott, Dr. Harry Holton, Roy Morris, Spencer Scheideman, Clyde Ellis and Don Tanner.

First of these is the big-time lay-out of the Harvey Bell's on East Bend Road in Burlington. The Bell's are readying the sensational Peacock, high-going Hackney pony stallion, for the 1952 season. An eye-popping performer, he will stand to approved mares until show time. Others in their string are the top Shetland gelding Star Dust and the spectacular bay walk-trot pony Lady Lokburn.

Right across the road from Bell Acres, is the breeding establishment of Paul and Barbara De Lott, home of champion bred Boxer and Schauder dogs. Show Horse Acres has just acquired the famous saddle-bred stallion Peavin's Silver Flash.

This outstanding stallion by Silver Mac and out of a Buggerboo mare is available to brood matrons at farmer's prices, in an attempt to populate this erstwhile renowned saddle-bred section with the type of show colts so successfully sired by the late lamented Prince Calvin, owned by Mr. Scott, who is, incidentally, pointing a delectable gray gelding mare at the coming stake events.

Horse owners interested in breeding to either Peacock, Harvey Bell's great hackney pony, or Paul De Lott's Peavin's Silver Flash are asked to make early reservations.

Boost the Fair Horse show this year, for the committee is gunning for the best in Boone County's history, and boost show horse interest in Boone County, not only as a cash crop but because your boosting can put Boone County's show horses and ponies of the future on a par with those of the past.

Pianos Needed To Expand County Music Program

Many of the teachers in the county, particularly in the elementary grades, have had some training in music, and would like to include more than the minimum amount provided by the county. Singing special songs, playing musical games, forming rhythm bands, and many other activities of a similar nature could be enjoyed if the teachers had the necessary materials.

The most pressing need is for a number of pianos. Many rooms have the space for one, but no piano. Some schools have a piano, but in many cases, they are just about ready to be junked. Some even look like they came from a junkpile.

It could be a matter of school pride to feel that your school has a respectable piano, or that even several of the rooms are so equipped. Many persons have pianos which they know they will never use. These are the ones needed.

If you have such a piano, call the principal of your nearest school, send a note to the teacher, or call Weston Rogers, County Music Supervisor, Hebron 2151. They will arrange to move your piano to the school of your choice and see that you receive proper credit for doing so charitable a thing.

One community, seeing the need in their nearest school, has already offered two pianos. With minor repairs and tuning, these pianos will continue to give delight to children for many years to come. But many more are needed! Can you help? Do you know someone who can?

Concrete evidence of interest in county and family history is the formation of a chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in the county.

"IT HAPPENED NEAR FLORENCE"

By A. M. Yealey

The story of the Civil War has been written and many books have been printed. These books cannot be large enough to contain all the incidents of local interest. To many people the community happenings are of most interest. One purpose of the Boone County Historical Society is to record such of these incidents as can be found.

Kentucky tried to remain neutral, but she finally abandoned this position and, being a border state, she soon became a recruiting station and battle ground for both the North and the South. We find Boone County men enlisting in the Northern army and in the Confederate army. Sometimes brothers in the same family faced each other in battle.

Many slaves escaped or were stolen from their masters and transported across the Ohio for enlistment in the U. S. Army. A bounty was offered for such enlistment. Reports indicate that the bounty was seldom collected. All captured slaves were ordered enlisted in Kentucky Regiments by the Provost Marshal of each County.

General Stephen Burbridge ordered the arrest of a number of citizens of Boone County because they had been reported as having sympathized with the South. Some of these were Dr. John Dulaney, Spencer Fish, Henry Terrell, Warren Rogers, Emond Grant, James T. Grant, Julius Rouse, and George E. Rouse. Mr. Fish will be remembered as owning a great many acres of land west of Shelby street in Florence. At a very early date he formed the Fish Subdivision to the City of Florence. The City Clerk is trying to locate a copy of the plat of this subdivision. He would be glad to know where one can be found. Dr. John Dulaney was a practicing physician who had a wide practice throughout Boone County during the war.

Boone County borders on the Ohio River for about forty miles and since sympathy was divided, information was constantly conveyed to military authorities on both sides. The Federal headquarters at Fort Mitchell received much information concerning actions of southern sympathizers in Boone County.

General Lew Wallace, who commanded all of the forces in the area, pressed all male citizens in to the military services for the defense of Covington, Newport, and Cincinnati. Ministers of the Gospel and old men were not exempt from this service.

General Kirby Smith had marched his army in and around Lexington, Brigadier-General Heath, with 5,000 confederate veterans from Smith's army was encamped at Corinth and several of his companies had reached Snow's Pond near Walton. At that time there were several mills in the county for grinding corn. The soldiers began searching for these mills.

Mr. Will Aydelotte told the writer er that he was a boy of about 10 years of age at the time. As he was helping his father cut wood along the Union-Florence road they saw many wagons drawn by four mules, loaded with ground corn and slabs of bacon, on their way to Snow's Pond. General Heath's army was preparing to move as soon as sufficient supplies were on hand. There is no doubt but that General Smith felt that this twenty-mile distance on the Lidge Road was the logical way to advance on Covington, Newport and Cincinnati.

Another means of securing food was from the mill on the farm of Julius Rouse, 2 1/2 miles from Florence on the Burlington pike. Here the advanced companies of Smith's army received a great many loads of ground corn and wheat. On September 15, 1862 the owners of the mill were arrested on the charge of aiding the Confederates and the officers of General Wallace blew the mill into atoms.

In 1902 the writer, while plowing, turned up debris of this mill about 200 yards from where it originally stood. There was but one thought that entered his mind and that was the poem in McGuffey's Fifth Reader entitled "The Battle of Blenheim." In it the grandfather saw his grandson roll something large and round and repeated, "This some poor fellow's skull, and when I go to plow, the plow share turns them out."

After the day's work was completed, the mules stabled and fed, and supper over, and everyone seated on a wooden bench on the front porch, the writer told his story of what his plowshare had brought up. The owner of the land in 1862 still owned it at this time in 1902. He began the story of the mill. "My father and I owned this mill and did general mill work, both in sawing lumber and grinding corn and wheat, until it was blown to atoms on September 15, 1862. We were arrested with several others and taken to Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and put in a prison camp."

The above statement suggested a question and answer procedure in an effort to get the details of the destruction of the mill. Here is the story as the owner of the mill answered the writer's questions.

Question: Did you grind corn for Smith's army?

Answer: It was for soldiers at Snow's Pond.

Q: Where were you when the mill blew up?

A: I was standing on the back porch under guard and saw the mill go up and debris go in all directions.

Q: What happened after the mill was blown up?

A: The men returned and said, "We want to search your house as we understand you have a gun and a pistol in your bedroom.

Q: Did you show any disposition to prevent the search?

A: No they seemed to know exactly where the gun and pistol were hidden.

Q: What happened after the search?

A: They came out of the house with the gun and pistol.

Q: What happened to the gun and pistol?

A: One of the men asked me if the gun was loaded?

A: I told him it was loaded.

Q: What did he do then?

A: He stepped off the porch and fired it into the air.

Q: What effect did this have on you?

A: I was wishing all the time that it had been loaded to the end of the barrel.

A: The officers then sent to the barn and saddled a riding horse and had father and myself to accompany them, which we did.

Q: Where did they proceed with you?

A: On leaving the farm the officers had a ride ahead of them to the Florence and Burlington pike, then we followed the pike to Limaburg, and were held there until two or three officers went beyond Burlington and returned with several men. Then we followed the Limaburg and Hebron road to the farm of (X). Here the officers were treated to a pitcher full of cold water and cake. (I was always suspicious of X). A lengthy conversation took place, then we moved forward to Hebron. When we reached Hebron we turned left and followed the road toward Petersburg until we reached Bullittsburg where we were halted again, and several officers reconnoitered and came back with several men. Then we began our journey forward and finally crossed the Ohio River near Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where we were put in a prison stockade, using tents for shelter and sleeping.

Q: What opinion did you have of the military prison camp?

A: Well, it would do all right but every Sunday visitors came and in roaming about they would pull back the flaps of our tents and stare at us as if we were wild animals.

Q: How long were you in this prison camp?

A: About two weeks as we were slated for Camp Chase at Columbus, Ohio. In the meantime we got in communication with an influential citizen of Hebron, Kentucky, and he had us removed to Cincinnati, where we took the oath of allegiance to the government. We were then told to go home.

After the return home an organization was formed among ten men to purchase substitutes in event any of them should be drafted into the army. They pooled their money and several substitutes were secured to serve for them. They evaded military service in this manner and often times the substitute did not receive the money due him. One man who was treasurer of the organization told the writer that he often had on hand as much as $5,000 for the purpose of purchasing substitutes.

Dr. Jones and Wife Feted At Their 'Golden Renewal'

It was quite an affair in Bullittsville, Boone County, Ky., in 1902, when 400 persons jammed "the largest and finest rural church in northern Kentucky" for the wedding of the fledgling preacher of the Disciples Church.

It was quite an affair Wednesday night, January 23, when thousands of persons, in presence or spirit, filled Central Woodward Christian Church of Detroit, Mich., for the "golden renewal" of the marriage vows of the Rev. Edgar DeWitt Jones, D. D., minister emeritus, and Frances Willis Jones.

The church was filled, and among the anniversary gifts showered up on the couple was a case with more than 500 letters of love and felicitations from friends scattered across several continents.

Heard First Sermon
Spanning the years at the "golden renewal" was an old friend, Mrs. Helen Simpson, who heard Dr. Jones, now internationally known through his ministry and many books, give his first sermon 54 years ago in Kentucky.

Also bridging the years were the attendants of the golden wedding couple, their five children and their families, including three grandchildren and their families, including three grandchildren from Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia and Ohio.

The "golden renewal" conducted by the Rev. Perry Explor Greshman, D. D., successor of Dr. Jones as minister of Central Woodward Christian Church, was the regular marriage ceremony of the Disciples of Christ.

As Dr. Jones waited at the chancel steps, Mrs. Jones was escorted by their eldest son, Edgar DeWitt Jones, Jr., of Dallas, Texas. Preceding them were the other children and the grandchildren. Repeating the vows they exchanged in a rural church 50 years ago, Dr. and Mrs. Jones then walked to the altar for the prayerful completion of their "golden renewal."

The social hall of the church was jammed, too, for the reception which followed the golden anniversary service. The couple was showered with love and affection which reflected a half century of friendliness and helpfulness and service.

Besides the hundreds of letters from everywhere, each received a check for $750, and another last-minute check made out to both for $150. And there was a cake, and music, and the warmth of friends joining in the thrill of a rare experience.

Toasts were given to the bride by Anne Campbell, The Detroit News poet, and to the groom by Edgar A. Guest.

RUBBER-FILLED TIRE CORDS SCIENTIFICALLY WEIGHED, SAYS LOCAL DEALER

The long wait for the harnessing of atomic energy has ended, according to Earl M. Aylor, proprietor of Hebron Garage, Hebron, Ky., who announces today that tires now in his stock and produced by The Gates Rubber Company, Denver, Colorado, contain rubber-filled tire cords that are scientifically weighed and measured by a tiny piece of radio-active material.

The miracle material is a particle of Strontium 90, no bigger than the head of a pin, and a by-product of the atomic furnaces at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

It is being used by Gates to gauge the weight and density of rubberized cords used in Gates Tires—to an accuracy of .001 pound per square yard—as the fabric moves by in the production process.

Mr. Aylor points out that this more accurate measurement makes possible finer quality tires and other rubber products.

The particle of Strontium 90 is encased in a Beta Ray gauge consisting of two units. One unit, a stainless steel box containing the Strontium 90, is placed below the fabric.

Several inches above the fabric, just over the lower unit, is a cylindrical chamber that collects and records radiation which comes through the fabric from the radio-active material below.

The slightest variation in thickness or weight of the sheet permits more radiation to pass through and register on the detector. These variations are recorded on a delicate gauge that is part of the device. When a variation outside of specifications is recorded, the material is reprocessed until it meets the exacting requirements of the Beta Ray gauge.

In use continually, the life of this radio-active "detector" is slated to be well over the half-century mark.

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Standing and sitting erect require less muscular effort than the slumped posture for the normal, healthy person. With the body in an erect attitude the center of gravity passes more nearly thru the center of the body and places the weight on bones and ligaments that are by nature equipped to meet this demand. When the head slumps forward, the shoulders droop, the spine curves and the abdomen bulges; then muscles must take on more and more of this burden of weight bearing, a burden for fatigue and later actual deformity of certain of the bones and joints.

The first necessity in good posture is good feet. Show me a person with good posture and bad feet. It's almost impossible.

But show me a person with good posture and I'll show you a person with good feet, for good posture starts with good feet. The foundation of any superstructure is the most important.

Don't suffer another day with your feet.

No matter how many shoes or trial supports you have tried, try just one more and have one of our foot comfort specialists make a free foot analysis and show you how to get rid of all foot pains, leg pains, backaches, and headaches. Even arthritis and rheumatism pains are often mistaken—most times when feet are corrected the pains vanish. We know we can help you to stand up straight.—Adv.

CONSERVATION MEANS GOOD LIFE

You read this. You take the type, the ink, the paper for granted. You have been reading your newspaper for years. It's an institution in your household. Yet where does it really originate?

The type, the ink, the paper are nature's gift to man. They represent basically, minerals and trees. As you read your newspaper, you may not be conscious that tons of minerals and acres of trees have been used in its making.

Basically everything comes from nature, and people live well or poorly, depending on nature. Kentuckians live well because our commonwealth's natural resources provide abundantly. But the source of supply is not unlimited. It must be conserved and safe-guarded by each one of us.

Kentuckians can be good. Kentuckians by conserving, by becoming conservationists, seriously interested in retaining Kentucky's wealth of soil, water, minerals, forests and wildlife.

Conservation means a good life, a high standard of living. Every Kentuckian is involved. Conservation is Everybody's Business!

"Before I hear a bid I want you to see THIS name REAL good"

Farm auctioneers know what they're doing when they point to the name "Ford." They have found out the name "Ford" on a tractor works like magic at any farm sale.

And this fact points up a big advantage you get in a Ford Tractor—it sells for more at trade-in time.

Why? Well, for one thing it is the popular two-plow size; that means a bigger number of prospects. Then, too, it's a year-round tractor; a tractor that does more jobs; a tractor that is easy to operate.

Remember, too, you pay less for a Ford Tractor when new. Add to this its greater trade-in value when old and you can see why the Ford Tractor is the buy!

Boone Co. Pioneers THEIR ANCESTORS AND THEIR DESCENDANTS

Souther
Michael Souther appears in the Hebron community sometime after the colonists of 1717 moved to Madison county. His wife is believed to have been a daughter of Ludwig Fischer—Lewis Fisher—who probably came into the Hebron community between 1730 and 1740. His wife was Ann Barbara Blankenknecht, a daughter of Balthasar Blankenbaker. Most of the children of Lewis Fisher emigrated from Virginia to Kentucky, settling in Mercer county. Lewis Fisher, "Deobold D. Chrysler" (Duvald Crisler), and Zachariah Blankenknecht witnessed the will of Lawrence Blankenknecht in Culpeper county in 1753. Michael Souther and his wife were the parents of: 1. Elizabeth, b. 1774, m. about 1790, Julius Crisler, son of George; 2. Abraham, m. 1799, Elizabeth Wilhoit, daughter of Michael, son of Adam; 3. Anna, m. 1801, Absalom Crisler (war of 1812), son of George; 4. Mary, m. 1808, David Wilhoit (Daniel-John-Michael Wil-heit); 5. Julia, m. 1811, Felix Garr, son of John; there were perhaps other children; William "Southern" believed to be a variation of the Southern name, married Jemima Fisher in Mercer County, Ky., before 1794; she was a granddaughter of Lewis Fisher; Ann Southern, daughter of William and Jemima, married Jacob W. Kalfus, son of Henry F. Kalfus and Ann Fisher, sister of Jemima, in Mercer County in 1792 Jacob and Ann (Southern) Kalfus' son, Henry F. Kalfus, Jr., m. 1824, in Boone County, Matilda Harrison. John Souther and his brother

Joshua, sons of Jacob, who may have been a son of Michael, both settled in Boone County; John m. 1807, Sallie Wilhoit, daughter of William and Anna (Clore) Wilhoit, who were pioneers in Boone in 1800; Joshua Souther m. 1811 Elizabeth Wilhoit, a sister of Sallie. John and Sallie Souther were the parents of: 1. Talitha, m. Joshua Rouse; 2. Granville, m. Caroline Dickerson; 3. Virinda, m. Benj. Rouse; 4. Linville, m. Margaret Yager; 5. William, m. Minerva Crisler; 6. Adelle, m. Anna Rouse; 7. Allen, m. Arminia Allen; 8. John; 9. Melbourne; 10. Sarah, m. A. G. Clore. Joshua and Elizabeth Souther's children: 1. Anna, m. Wm. Wayland; 2. Harriet, m. James Wayland; 3. Hiram W., m. Martha Jane Utz, daughter of John Ephraim Utz. Abraham and Henry Souther, both believed to be sons of Michael married sisters, Elizabeth and Anna Wilhoit, daughters of Michael, and granddaughters of Michael, the 1717 Imgt. Abraham Souther m. Elizabeth Wilhoit in Madison County, Va., 1799, and Henry m. Anna in Madison County, Va., 1801. William Wilhoit, brother of Elizabeth and Anna, moved from Virginia to Boone County, Kentucky, about 1800 and it is probable that the families of Abraham and Henry Souther, soon followed. William Souther, son of Henry, m. 1852, Elizabeth Walton in Boone County. Another of Henry's sons, Henry, m. Nancy Tandy in Carroll County, 1837. Elizabeth Souther, daughter of Henry Souther and Anna Wilhoit m. in Oldham County, Thomas Oglesby, his second wife; they had two children, Mary Oglesby who married Jacob Griffith, and William Oglesby who married Mary Watson, a niece of Jacob Griffith. Jacob and Mary (Oglesby) Griffith were the parents of David Work Griffith, producer of the famous motion picture of fifty years ago, "Birth of a Nation." Abraham and Elizabeth (Wilhoit) Souther's children: 1. Ezekiel, m. 1826, Matilda Yager, daughter of Elijah; 2. Olevia, m. 1823, Simeon Christy; 3. Polly, m. John Gaines; 4. Frances m. 1828, Absalom Gaines;

5. Lucinda, m. 1830, Cave Clore, son of Michael (Jr.); 6. Lucretia, m. 1833 Johnson W. Graves; 7. Simeon, m. 1855, in Missouri, Mahala Thornton; 8. Sally, m. 1839, Peter T. Cropper; 9. Abraham, m. 1845, Melvina Watts. All of these marriages, except that of Simeon Souther, were in Boone County, and many descendants of these Southers are citizens of "Old Boone" today.

SUGGESTS WAYS TO FIGHT INFLATION

Calling inflation America's No. 1 domestic enemy, Dr. Dale E. Butz, economist from Michigan State College, discussed the causes of inflation and outlined ways to fight it at the Farm and Home Convention at Lexington.

Inflation results, he explained, when consumers are able and willing to spend more money than there are goods to be bought at existing prices. At the present time, demand has not only matched increased supply but has sprinted beyond, he said.

Forces which combined to over-power supply he listed as the buying scare among consumers at the beginning of the Korean war, private domestic investment, which jumped from 44 billion to 61.9 billion in one year, expanded credit and defense orders.

His recommendations:

"1. Increase production on farms and in factories. If there is a better way to increase our output per man, we ought to adopt that way. We have a responsibility to produce.

"2. Be prepared to accept sacrifices, such as high taxes or cut-backs in the standard of living. In the long run, this may be a small price to pay for keeping inflation from assuming run-away proportions.

"3. Keep cool and buy only what is needed. Don't hoard or get involved in a scare-buying spree.

"4. Even though some groups seem to benefit, we must know that inflation is bad. We must put the welfare of the nation ahead of our own selfish interests."

NITROGEN BOOSTS YIELDS OF CROPS

A bulletin of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station says that on soil needing nitrogen, but with sufficient other plant food and moisture, the following increases may be expected for each pound of nitrogen applied:

Corn, one-third to one-half bushel; small grains, one-fourth to one-third bushel; burley tobacco, 5 to 60 pounds, and grass, hay crops, 30 to 40 pounds.

Farmers are cautioned that too much nitrogen lowers the quality of burley tobacco, causes small grains to lodge and adds to the difficulty of obtaining stands of grasses and legumes seeded in small grains.

GRAYSON FARMERS PROFIT BY T. V. A.

Since 1936, farmers in Grayson county have benefitted more than $2,000,000 by cooperating in the soil-building program of the Tennessee Valley Authority. This was stated by I. C. Graddy, assistant state extension agent for the University of Kentucky, at a round-up meeting at Leitchfield.

He said farmers in Grayson county had received the equivalent of 3,385 tons of 20 percent phosphate from the T. V. A. At a commercial value of $30 a ton, this would be worth over $100,000. Since records of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station show a value of $20 for each dollar invested in lime and phosphate, the total value would pass the $2,000,000 mark.

NAIA To Cooperate In "Alert America" Defense Campaign

Civil Defense Is Co-Equal Partner With Armed Forces In Protection

The National Association of Insurance Agents, in a continuation of its program of cooperation with the federal Civil Defense program, has given its endorsement to the new National Civil Defense effort inaugurated by the Valley Forge Foundation, Inc. Entitled "Alert America," the Foundation is a non-partisan, non-sectarian, non-profit organization which is acting in behalf of Civil Defense as a part of the total defense of the American way of life.

The "Alert America" program was developed by the Foundation and the Federal Civil Defense Administration in an effort to instill in every American a greater awareness of the role of Civil Defense as a co-equal partner with the Armed Forces in protecting the nation. J. F. Van Vechten, president of the National Association of Insurance Agents, in offering the cooperation of the NAIA to the Valley Forge Foundation, Inc., in its "Alert America" campaign, emphasized that "the insurance producers of this country have always been in the forefront in the conservation field and realize that Civil Defense is a natural outgrowth of this movement on a greater and vital to the welfare of this nation."

The agents' leader promised that all of the affiliated local and state associations in the NAIA would be alerted to the program and requested to cooperate.

The "Alert America" campaign will be dramatized by spectacular educational exhibits brought to our major cities in three motorized convoys and will be set up in large convention and exhibit halls.

The convoys consist of three units of ten 32-foot trailers each, painted in a uniform, distinctive design. Each ten truck convoy carries the elements of a portable exhibit mounted on skids and readily handled by portable winches. When assembled, the exhibit is 55x120 feet. The convoys are visiting principal urban areas, and ultimately may cover all 48 states. Approximately 70 cities will be covered in the next six to nine months.

In each city, the exhibit will be set up in an armory, exhibit hall or gymnasium, remaining there for three to five days. During its stay, it will be the focal point for a local "Alert America" week, during which such elements as what to do in case of attack, Civil Defense recruiting, first-aid training, blood donations and other objectives will be stressed by every information medium.

John O'Toole, St. Louis, Mo., chairman of the NAIA Fire Safety Committee, who has directed the agents' program of cooperation on the Civil Defense program, added his enthusiastic endorsement to the "Alert America" campaign. He pledged that his committee, on behalf of the NAIA, would cooperate to the fullest with the new Valley Forge Foundation program.

As far back as April of last year, Mr. O'Toole pointed out, the NAIA recognized the need for greater activity in the Civil Defense program. At that time, Kyle C. Laughlin, director of the Fire Service Division of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, appeared on the program of the NAIA mid-year convention, and discussed wartime fires resulting from enemy bombing attacks.

At its annual meeting in September of last year the NAIA designated a special day in Fire Prevention Week, October 11, as Civil Defense Day. Members of the Association were urged to contact their Civil Defense Directors and offer their assistance. At this convention, the NAIA also distributed Federal Civil Defense Administration Information Kits to all of its State Directors, who were urged to bring them back to their respective states and use the material to stimulate greater activity in Civil Defense efforts in their territories.

In addition, the NAIA, with the permission of the Civil Defense Administration, has been reprinting its official magazine, The American Agency Bulletin, several of the Government Civil Defense booklets, such as "Fire Fighting For Householders" and Emergency Action to Save Lives."

As one means of offering cooperation with the "Alert America" convoy, it has been suggested that interested associations and organizations, in those cities listed below, contact their local Civil Defense Director, with offers of support and workers, and at the same time alert the local newspapers as to what is being done locally.

In order to give agents' associations and community organizations an opportunity to set up plans for local participation in "Alert America" campaign, the following tentative dates for the convoys are: February 25, 1952 to March 1, 1952.

Outlook For Super Highway Brighter After Vote Of House

Bill Would Open Way For Solution To State Highway Troubles.

Outlook for the proposed super highway from the Ohio River to Florence in Boone County appeared brighter Saturday after the House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate Friday a bill authorizing the commissioner of highways to route roads through fourth, fifth and sixth class cities without allowing those communities to vote selections made by the commissioner.

This bill if passed by the Senate and signed by Gov. Wetherby would open the way for solution to state highway troubles, especially in Park Hills and other smaller cities concerned with the routing of the proposed express highway.

A possible new route for the proposed highway was opened up thru a proposal of Kenton County representatives to convert the Southern Railway bridge at Ludlow to vehicular traffic and build an express highway parallel to the railroad right-of-way to Erlanger or Florence.

Several surveys for the express route have been made by the staff of Roy L. Campbell, Covington district engineer for the State Highway Department, including one which would use the old Ft. Mitchell car line right-of-way. All these surveys would route the highway over the C. & O. bridge.

Florence Lady Is Named To Post of D. of A. Chapter

Appointment Made By National Society, Washington, D. C.

On April 14, 1951, the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, Washington, D. C., appointed Mrs. Elizabeth Goodridge Nestor of Florence as Organizing Regent of a Daughters of the American Revolution Chapter in Boone County with one year in which to complete the organization.

In order for the chapter to be confirmed in Washington and become a unit of the National Society, 12 applications for membership must be investigated and accepted in Washington and to become a member it is necessary to trace one ancestor back to a man or woman who gave active service and support in the American Revolution on the side of the Colonists.

Mrs. Nestor received notice this week that to date 13 applications had been accepted and the chapter is now ready to have its organizational meeting which will be held in March at the home of Mrs. Nestor in Florence with a formal ritual and installation by Mrs. Bacon Rochester Moore, of Harrodsburg, Ky., State Regent.

Until the chapter is confirmed in Washington no formal meetings are permitted, but several informal meetings have been held during this winter at the homes of various prospective members, namely the home of Mrs. Elizabeth G. Nestor, Mrs. Clifford Coyle, Mrs. Dean Caton and on Thursday evening the group met at the home of Mrs. Aileen Conner of Florence with Miss Jeanette Grubbs as co-hostess. A Valentine tea served by the hostesses followed the business session. A lace cloth covered the tea table which was centered with a flower arrangement of red and white carnations. Two heart-shaped cakes, one pink iced and the other white cocoanut together with red and white mints and tea were served to the assembled guests.

Although this organization is concerned primarily with history pertaining to the Revolutionary period the following paper was read by Mrs. Nestor who stated she felt it would be timely and interesting since it concerns Kentucky history. Mrs. Nestor's paper follows:

There is a great revival of interest in the Confederate flag, which, except for personal opinions, has been unexplained. At a recent meeting of retail merchants of the state at Mammoth Cave storeowners reported that they are selling great numbers of Confederate flags, replicas of Confederate soldier's caps, insignias, etc.

Whatever the cause of this interest, we are reminded that one of the stars in the Confederate flag represents Kentucky. The following is part of a recent editor in the Louisville Times which gives an interesting explanation of how this happened:

"The state shares with Missouri the distinction of being a star in the banners both of the triumphant Union and of the Lost Cause. Only 11 states seceded. The 12th and 13th stars were figments of the immense hopefulness of the Confederacy. It was hoped that Kentucky and Missouri could be converted to the Southern side, Kentucky and Missouri each contained a host of Confederate sympathizers. Thousands of men went from both states into the Southern Army, with about twice as many going into the Northern Army. Both Missouri and Kentucky tried to be neutral and in both states attempts to set up governments loyal to the South were made. In Kentucky Southern sympathizers managed to go through the motions of inaugurating a governor at Frankfort until the motions were interrupted by the approach of federal troops. The Confederate governments of Kentucky and Missouri both sent representatives to Congress at Richmond, Virginia. We would like to point out that if Kentucky gave Abraham Lincoln to the world it also gave Jefferson Davis. Also that while Major Robert Anderson, defender of Ft. Sumter, was a native of Jefferson County, Ky., General John Hunt Morgan, the daring Confederate raider was raised in Fayette County, Ky. In Kentucky the Civil War was a bitter tragedy of brother against brother. However, the more we think about it the more we believe that Kentucky richly deserves to be a star in two flags, even if she has no legal claim to one of them."

One thing is certain, with the renewed interest in things of the Confederate nature and the extensive sale of the same, the South is showing that it is still pulling together with a sense of brotherhood and with mutual memories that time has invested with romance.

Today the scars of the Civil War have so faded that a portrait of Robert E. Lee has been unveiled in January, 1952 in a place of honor at the United States Military Academy, showing for the first time at West Point, a General wearing the Confederate uniform. Just 87 years ago this gray uniform and this General were the enemy of the United States Army in the nation's bitterest war. Today the scars have so faded that the Army has saluted Lee for what history calls him, namely, one of the nation's brilliant generals, a distinguished graduate and superintendent 100 years ago of this same military academy. Three other portraits of Lee previously were hung in the same building but showed him in the United States Army uniform of blue which he wore in combat in Mexico and against the Comanche Indians. None had showed him in the gray he wore to fame after he resigned from the United States Army to fight for his native Virginia.

Kentucky honors this great man each year when banks and government offices are closed on his birthday. This year is the 145th anniversary of the birth of Robert E. Lee and the 100th anniversary of the day he became superintendent of the United States Military Academy. Lee graduated from the Military Academy in 1829, second in his class and assistant to the commander. By 1861 he became recognized as the outstanding soldier in the nation and on April 18, 1861 he was offered the field command of the entire United States Army. On April 19, he learned that the Virginia Legislature had voted to secede from the Union and on April 20th he resigned from the army which he had loved and served well. By April 23, 1861 he was in command of Virginia's troops and shortly after became commander of the entire Confederate forces. He had deep moral convictions under which he had to remain true to himself and what he thought to be right. Today his patriotism is generally accepted as are his courage and the nobility of his manner. The ceremony at West Point in January of this year (1952) with the unveiling of his picture as a Confederate general points to the fact that he is not only a hero of the South but also to the entire American nation. Today's Cadets at the Military Academy will study Lee's tactics as they, too, will study the tactics of his military enemy, Ulysses S. Grant, the great northern general.

We must not forget that General Grant was as a fine and noble leader and when threats were made to try Lee for treason for taking the side of the Southerners, Grant threatened to resign from the Army. This last portrait of Lee shows him bearded and white-haired. Clothed in Confederate gray with General's rank, his hat held in his right, his sash and saber missing.

Plans Assured By Senators Clements and Underwood In Wire To Co. Judge.

Use of the Greater Cincinnati Airport located in Boone County by the U. S. Air Force as a training center is assured, according to a telegram received Tuesday evening by Judge C. L. Cropper, signed by U. S. Senators, Clements and Underwood.

With only two weeks of playing time left before the 34th District Basketball Tournament, which will be held at the Florence High School gym March 4-8, Boone Conference teams begin the windup of their regular season play. The two weeks can't bring about much change in Conference standings since Hebron's Cardinals and Walton's Bears have it locked up with a 6-2 standing. Burlington can better its third place standing, which now stands at 4-3, and New Haven and Florence will definitely settle their battle for the fourth and fifth spots. New Haven still has two conference tilts, one with Burlington this week and one with the Knights next week. This last game could settle the matter.

Hebron—Feb. 23, Covington Catholic at home and Feb. 29 at Dixie; New Haven—Feb. 23 at Gallatin County; Feb. 23 Burlington at home; Feb. 26 at Holy Cross and Feb. 29 at Florence.

Skeleton of Man Found On Bank of River Wednesday

Bones Discovered By Virgil and Clyde Humphrey.

The discovery of a skeleton uncovered by receding Ohio River flood water at Taylorsport, three miles below Constance, was reported Wednesday of last week by Sheriff Wendell H. Easton.

Virgil and Clyde Humphrey, brothers, whose home is nearby discovered the skeleton Wednesday morning when they were cleaning up brush and debris deposited by the flood water. The brothers first discovered the lower limbs of the skeleton and upon removing approximately four inches of river loam, the entire skeleton was uncovered.

Boone County Coroner, Robert Brown who was called to the scene, said that the skeleton apparently was the remains of an adult well over six feet tall. The skull was very large.

It was believed that the body had been buried on the river bank many years ago and that action of flood waters during the passing years had redeposited the soil from the bones. The color of the bones was a reddish brown. Upon handling by the Coroner, the bones crumbled very easily.

Sheriff Easton took a section of the jawbone and some loose teeth to his office, but said that identification seemed improbable. The remaining bones were buried on the spot.

Burlington Church To Observe Loyalty Month

Throughout the Southern Baptist Convention the month of March is to be observed as "Church Loyalty" month, and the Burlington Baptist Church will participate in the program. Sunday, February 24th will be church membership day in the Burlington church and all members are requested to be present. After checking those present members not present will be visited in an effort to have one of the greatest months in church history during the month of March.

Church Loyalty month can mean more to the improvement of world conditions than anything that can be done, Rev. Johnson stated. "Every professing Christian should realize that they are the only means for the Lord to get His message to those who are lost. Therefore, as a Christian we should use every means to give our testimony that we are Christians and not ashamed to let others know about our wonderful Saviour," the pastor said. New pews will be in the building and all other work completed, and the pastor urges every member to attend services Sunday.

Steel Available For New School Building, Is Word

Senator Underwood Gives Speedy Service In Requests of Board.

The Boone County Board of Education recently received a telegram from U. S. Senator Tom Underwood stating that the U. S. Office of Education has been able to work out steel requirements for the proposed new Boone County High School.

A letter sent to Senator Underwood on Wednesday night, Feb. 13, asking when the priority would become effective, and if any change in steel requirements had to be made, was answered at 10:30 a. m. on Friday of the same week. Mr. Underwood phoned Supt. H. N. Ockerman from Washington, and had all the information asked for in the letter. Forty-two and one-half hours after the latter was put in the post office, the Board had a reply from Washington. (Now if everyone received such prompt service as we did from Mr. Underwood, a Utopia could probably be realized, Mr. Ockerman stated.)

In the priority of steel a minor substitution had to be made, especially for structural steel. If the architect can make these changes quickly, steel can be allocated for the second quarter. The plans and specifications have been completed for some time, but the Board could not advertise for bids till a priority for steel had been obtained.

Local Horseman Buys McDonald's Silver Flash

Will Help To Revive Show Horse Interest In Boone County.

Boone County, yesterday welcomed back to the fold in the form of McDonald's Silver Flash, the old fashioned bloodlines that made her famous in the infancy of saddle horse breeding as the home of Denmark Chief, Crigler's Denmark and Rex Denmark, daddy of Rex McDonald.

To the student of old time breeding, these names will ring a nostalgic bell for the days when the Florence Fair was the Mr. Big of saddle horse show rings.

Paul and Barbara DeLoft, ever on the lookout for the different, the unusual, moving into the erstwhile cradle of the saddlebred at Show Horse Acres, just out of Burlington, couldn't see why this section, with all its natural advantages for horse husbandry still intact, couldn't again be in the forefront of equine activities.

So, together with the Harvey Beils, Spencer Scheidemanns, Roy Morris, Don Tanner, Lillard Scott, and Clyde Ellis, are banding together to let the world know that Boone County has still got what it takes to produce the good ones. To this end Show Acres has procured perhaps the last living stallion son of Silver Mac, and incidentally, the last horse of the fabulous Decco Farm stud owned by Alice Deckbach.

Thru Silver Flash comes back to Kentucky the famous All-Denmark blood that originated in this territory. Silver Mac, the pride of Doug Davis, was by McDonald's Majesty, outstanding grandson of Rex McDonald, he by Rex Denmark, foaled at Hebron, three miles from Burlington. Flash's dam was by Bugger Boo, he by Rex Peavine, by Rex McDonald (brother). A beautiful headed, long necked, big fronted silver stud. He has all the beauty of the Denmark plus a sensational slow-gait and a magnificent disposition. It is planned to make his services available at farmer's prices to encourage Boone County and surrounding breeders.

Paul, Barbara, Cookie, and the new twins, Peter and Paul, invite you to visit Show Horse Acres, see their new horse and visit with their Boone County neighbors. They're all looking forward to a terrific Boone County Fair horse show, and a new interest rivaling the old, in Boone County equine produce.

Charles Kantwell

Charles E. Kantwell, 63, Irvine, Ky., died Friday while on a visit with a son, Lewis Kantwell, Florence, according to Robert Brugh, Coroner of Boone County.

Mr. Kantwell arrived in town at 5:00 p. m., went to his son's home for dinner and collapsed at 7:00 p. m. as he arose from the table.

Mr. Kantwell was employed as a fireman with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. He was a member of Cynthiana Lodge of Masons and of Cynthiana Baptist Church.

Besides his son, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Kantwell, and a grandchild.

Ralph Stith, Florence funeral director and the Lewis funeral home, are in charge of arrangements. Burial was in Irvine Cemetery, Monday.

Red Cross Fund Drive Will Open In County March 1

The 1952 Red Cross Fund Drive in Boone County will start officially on Saturday, March 1, it was announced Tuesday by Byron B. Kinman, Burlington, Fund Drive Chairman.

Mr. Kinman said that Boone County's quota had been set at $3,900.

At a meeting held in the Boone County Courthouse Tuesday evening, the following precinct chairmen were announced: Mrs. Lee Girvin, Bullittsville; John E. Crigler, Hebron; Mrs. J. W. Dolwick, Jr., Constance; Mrs. Virginia Goodridge, Florence; Daniel J. Roberts, Walton; Mrs. Gaines Robinson, Richmond; Luther Smith, Burlington; Mrs. Warren Miller, Jr., Union; Mrs. Helen Rogers, Bellevue; Mrs. David Farnoff, Union; Mrs. Justin Dolph and Lawrence Chambers, Petersburg; Mayro Hayden, Verona, and Jack Sparks, Beaver.

Mr. Kinman also announced the appointment of Wilton E. Stephens, County Tax Commissioner as Assistant Fund Drive Chairman, and W. Robert Ellis, Chairman of the Special Gifts Committee.

"When you give through the Red Cross," said Mr. Kinman, "you are there to aid the victims of disaster and help them back to normal living; you are there to provide life-giving blood for a wounded soldier, a mother in childbirth, or an injured workman; you are there to help servicemen and their families, when they are faced with anxieties; you are there to bring new hope and comfort to bedridden war veterans; you are there to train countless thousands in skills to protect their families and their neighbors in times of emergency, for the Red Cross is people—everywhere—ready to help whenever, wherever help is needed. It is humanity in action!"

"With all the earnestness I have in my soul," Mr. Kinman added, "Answer the call—answer with your heart!"

Mr. Kinman pointed out that during 1951 Volunteer Red Cross Ladies gave 3,540,300 hours of their time; Motor Service drove 1,794,100 miles on missions of mercy; canteen workers provided 4,032,300 servings of food to servicemen, disaster victims, blood donors; 6,400 nurses aided monthly in hospitals, clinics, and blood centers.

Mr. Kinman also said that in veterans hospitals, Red Cross services were provided for 131,000 patients each month, and at Veterans Administration offices, 45,300 claims cases were handled by field directors monthly, and that 88,800 veteran cases and requests were handled each month by the various local Red Cross chapters throughout the nation.

"Boone County has a statewide reputation for generosity," said Mr. Kinman. "Don't let Boone County down. Let's go over our quota!"

Red Cross Chapter Hears W. T. Stein At Annual Meeting

Meeting Held At Sally Ann Restaurant In Hebron.

Wilbur T. Stein, of Washington, general field representative of the American Red Cross was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Boone County Chapter, held Friday night.

"The little things," Mr. Stein said "are the contacts between the soldier and his home; the visits by the ladies in gray to the wounded in hospitals; the surgical dressings and sewing kits prepared by the local chapters in every community, and the host of other little comforts sent to the armed ser'ices for distribution to the holders in the field."

The meeting was held at the Sally Ann Restaurant in Hebron, and was preceded by a dinner. Mr. Stein told the group that "if the Red Cross is not an integral part of the activities of your community it is not doing its duty. The Red Cross, contrary to popular belief, is not a public agency but is made up of the public."

The speaker told how his own life was saved by blood plasma in World War II, after he was wounded and shot down by the Japanese while serving as a fighter pilot in the South Pacific. He spent three days in the water, and was more dead than alive when rescued by an American submarine. He was given plasma and recovered.

Plasma has reduced fatalities among casualties in the present conflict, Mr. Stein said.

W. D. Scroggins, of Verona, retired U. S. Army Captain and second vice president of the Boone County Chapter, also spoke. John O. McEvoy, Florence attorney, presided.

Certificates of appreciation for outstanding co-operation with the Red Cross blood program were presented The Kentucky post through Carl A. Saunders, the Kentucky Times-Star, through Ray Mathis; The Kentucky Enquirer, through W. Robert Ellis; The Boone County Recorder, through A. E. Stephens; the Walton Advertiser, through Malcolm Simpson; the Greater Cincinnati Airport, through Robert Isenberg; the Florence Community Center, through Ross Russ, and the Walton Christian Church, through Vernie D. James.

Officers named for 1952 are as follows: Mrs. Allen Gaines, Walton, chairman; Mr. McEvoy, first vice chairman; Mr. Scroggins, second vice chairman; Mrs. Robert Eastman, of Florence, treasurer and Mrs. Jack Caldwell, of Burlington, secretary.

Farmers Should Inoculate Legumes Before Planting

Is Often Difference Between Success and Failure of Legumes.

All legume seed should be inoculated before planting to insure that there will be sufficient nitrogen-fixing bacteria in the soil for maximum growth, according to Bill Davis, County Agent, Boone County.

These bacteria living on the roots of legumes give the nitrogen into a form that plants can use. The plants, being unable to use the air nitrogen, can not obtain sufficient amounts of nitrogen out of the soil for maximum growth unless the bacteria are present.

Even though good stands of legumes have been grown on a specific area it is still best to inoculate as the bacteria that were present when the previous crop was growing may have been weakened or killed by soil acidity, heat, drought or erosion.

Inoculation with the proper nodule forming bacteria often is the difference between success and failure to obtain stands of legumes. Inoculation may not only increase yields of hay and seed but may also increase the feeding value of the legume.

While some legumes, like alfalfa and sweet clover, may be inoculated with the same bacteria, others may require an entirely different culture. Inoculation with the wrong culture will give no benefit and special care should be taken to insure that the proper culture is used. Each package of commercial culture lists the legumes that it will properly inoculate.

Commercial inoculating cultures are perhaps the surest and easiest to use. They are dated and should be used before the expiration date is passed.

It should be remembered that inoculation in itself will not produce good yields of legumes. The use of limestone to reduce soil acidity and commercial fertilizers or manure to provide sufficient plant nutrients must be given careful consideration and attention.

Texas Man Fined Following Accident

James Edward Clements, 30, of Houston Texas, was fined $15.00 and costs Saturday morning in Judge C. L. Cropper's Court on a charge of using improper towing apparatus.

Sheriff Wendell H. Easton stated that Clements had been towing a jeep behind a panel truck and that the towing bar came loose at the intersection of U. S. 25 and 42, Florence Saturday morning. The jeep careened down U. S. 42, struck Joe Littrell, Florence shoe repair man, who was walking to work on crutches, inflicting bruises and cuts on his legs and face. The jeep went on for another 100 feet, striking the truck of H. J. Scott, Florence.

Sheriff Easton accused Clements of not having tie-on chains attached to the jeep in addition to the towing bar as the law requires.

Mr. Littrell declined to be taken to a hospital.

Brent Spence Wins Fight For Air Force Base At Airport

Total of $2,027,000 To Be Spent in Construction Work.

Representative Brent Spence, of Ft. Thomas, gave assurance that the air reserve training center will be established at the Greater Cincinnati Airport, in Boone County, in an announcement made Wednesday of last week.

Plans call for the expenditures of approximately $2,027,000 in construction of the reserve training center.

Mr. Spence made public the announcement after he had been notified of the decision by the Air Force.

The training center was set up at the local airport last September 1. Several months later it was announced the training center would be moved to the Clinton County Air Force Base at Wilmington, O.

Full credit was given to Rep. Spence for the return of the training center to Kentucky. He carried his fight for the Greater Cincinnati Airport to President Truman and charged Ohio interests were attempting to undermine the modern $6,000,000 airport in Boone County in their efforts to support their plans for a new airport at Blue Ash, Ohio.

The 2252d AF Reserve and the 910th Reserve Training Wing transferred to Clinton County Air Force Base on an interim basis.

Members of the Kentucky Senate and House joined Rep. Spence in the fight to have the training center located at the airport in Boone County.

Rep. Charles H. Elston, Republican of Cincinnati, has promised citizens of Ohio that an investigation into the "sudden Air Force decision" to build more than $2,000,000 worth of facilities for a reserve training center at the Greater Cincinnati Airport. Elston said he will write the Air Force and demand an explanation.

Florence Extends Corporate Limits

The City of Florence has, by ordinance, extended its western corporate limits to annex two subdivisions. One on the north side of U. S. Highway 42, known as the Bluegrass subdivision, the other on the south side of this same highway known as the Grandview Heights subdivision. It has also extended its northern corporate limits north of the Burlington Pike to annex an area known as the Clutterbuck subdivision.

The Kentucky Inspection Bureau has published a bulletin establishing fire insurance rates on dwellings in these areas. These rates will not affect existing policies. Present policies may be cancelled and rewritten at the new, and reduced rates. Owners of property in these areas should contact their insurance agents and take advantage of the new rates.

Ten-Room Farm Home Destroyed By Blaze Friday

Family Visting Son At Time of Fire; Damage Set at $10,000.00

The ten-room frame residence of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones, of Woolper Creek Road, was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon.

It was believed that defective wiring caused the blaze, as there was very little fire in the stove at the time the Jones' left home to visit a son on Commissary Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Jones were unaware that their home was on fire until they neared the farm after following the Burlington Volunteer Fire Department, which was summoned by neighbors after the blaze was discovered.

Although firemen fought desperately to save a part of the large home, the blaze had gained such headway, it was impossible to stop the raging flames. Damage was estimated at approximately $10,000, which was only partially covered by insurance.

Only a few items of furniture were saved, from the building, according to A. E. Stephens, Fire Chief.

An outbuilding only a few feet from the large home was saved by constant work of the volunteer firemen, Mr. Jones stated.

Florence Buys New $12,500 Fire Engine

The Florence Volunteer Fire Department has purchased a new $12,500 fire pumper, according to Chief Al Hue. The purchase was made from the American Fire Equipment Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The pumper, to be fully equipped with new hose lines, will be delivered this summer. A portion of the down-payment for the pumper was obtained in a house-to-house canvass by department members last year.

One Conference Tilt Scheduled For Final Week of Play

Boone County basketball goes into its last week of regular season play this week with a not-to-excite schedule in the offering. There will be only one conference contest—that between last place Florence and fourth place New Haven at Florence. A win for the home team would place the two in a fourth place tie for Boone Conference play.

In other contests this week Hebron's Cardinals meet Dixie at Dixie Friday night, Burlington plays host to St. Henry on the same night, New Haven goes to Holy Cross Tuesday night and plays Florence Friday and Walton takes on Covington Catholic Tuesday and Williamstown Friday, both of which are home games.

Eagle Game Cancelled

The game originally scheduled early in the season between Burlington and Beechwood which was postponed until this week has finally been cancelled, it was announced by school officials this week.

Boone Conference

New Haven's Tigers held their jinx over the Burlington Eagles as they downed the Eagles for the second time this season in a contest at New Haven Friday night. The Tigers led all the way and finished on top of a 56-53 score. In other games of the week Florence trimmed Silver Grove, Hebron downed Covington Catholic, Burlington won over Palmouth, and Walton defeated Ludlow.

THE FUTURE FARMER ORGANIZATION

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the rural public schools and preparing for a career of farming. The organization has approximately 34,000 members in the 48 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. There are about 8,000 active local chapters of FFA in rural high schools of the nation. The approximate age level of members is 14 to 21 years.

The national Future Farmers of America organization was founded in 1928 at Kansas City, Missouri, and until recently had operated under a corporate charter issued by the State of Virginia. The Congress of the United States; recently passed Public Law 740 to grant the FFA Charter of Incorporation.

Nationally, FFA is sponsored by the Agricultural Service of the Office of Education, Federal Security Agency. In the states it is sponsored by the various state Boards for Vocational Education, and in local communities by the departments of vocational agriculture in the local high schools. Each local chapter, state association, and the national organization elect boy officers annually. The FFA holds a national convention annual in Kansas City. More than 6,000 boys attended the 1951 national convention.

The Future Farmers of America is a non-profit, non political, farm youth organization of voluntary membership, designed to take its place along with other agencies striving for their development of leadership, the building of more permanent agriculture, and the improvement of country life. It constitutes one of the most efficient agricultural teaching devices that has been developed up to the present time. The FFA is 100 percent American in its ideals and outlook and has no outside affiliations. There is no secrecy in connection with any of its activities.

The Future Farmers of America exists today because of a cooperative spirit and a desire on the part of farm boys, 14 to 21 years of age, preparing for farm life through vocational agriculture, to have a national organization of their own in which they could secure practical business experience, act as their own instructors, and enjoy the fellowship of one another. It is organized vocational education in agriculture on a youth level. Improved agriculture, better local communities, a more satisfying farm home life, and more efficient farm-citizens are developing as a result of the boys' experiences.

WHOOPIING COUGH OUTBREAK IN STATE

Nearly 300 cases of whooping cough were reported in Kentucky during January and the first half of February, and three children died of the disease in January, according to figures just released by the Kentucky State Department of Health.

The tragic part of "the whooping cough story," according to Cathryn R. Handelman, M. D., Director, Division of Maternal and Child Health is that nearly all of these cases could have been prevented if the children had been immunized.

"Whooping cough," Dr. Handelman says, "is dangerous at any age, but is particularly apt to be fatal to children under one year because of the danger from various complications." It is most contagious before it can be recognized, as it usually begins much like a cold. The child may have a slight fever and running nose and then the "cold" develops into a tight, dry cough. The cough deepens until the whoop occurs. Sometimes, however, the child never "whoops."

"Do not wait until your child has been exposed to have him immunized," Dr. Handelman warns. Babies should be immunized at least by the time they are six months old, she said, adding that many physicians immunize against whooping cough as early as two or three months of age. At the same time the child can be protected against other diseases.

For further information on whooping cough see your physician or go to your county health department.

G. I. Farm Trainees Must Report Income

Veterans taking GI Bill institutional on-farm training were reminded today by Ray R. Adams, Manager, Veterans Administration Regional Office, Louisville, Kentucky, that reports of their 1951 earnings must be submitted to their VA regional offices not later than March 1, 1952.

Failure to submit the reports by the deadline, VA warned, may result in discontinuance or GI subsistence payments until such time as the reports reach VA.

This year, in addition, farm trainees must send in a second report—a certification as to the period of time they may have been engaged in employment outside the farming activity. This, too, must go to VA before March 1.

The earnings reports—covering only income from productive labor for the calendar year 1951—serve a double purpose, VA said. First, they are used by VA as the basis for adjusting each veterans subsistence for the current year 1952. Second, they are part of the veterans course of instruction in farm accounting, thus giving him the opportunity to put into practice what he has learned in the classroom.

Farm trainees received the necessary VA forms for both reports earlier this year, VA said. They will receive assistance from their instructors in closing their books for the past year, and in transferring data to the VA forms.

More than 237,000 veteran-farmers, all currently in GI training will be required to submit the reports, according to VA.

"Holly Trees" Topic At Garden Club Luncheon

Mrs. Harold Conner and Mrs. William Fitzgerald were hostesses to a large attendance at the February meeting of the Boone County Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Conner.

After a very delicious luncheon the club was shown a colored film by John Bruegger, superintendent of the Dixie View Nursery, on "How a Plant Grows," showing the amount of time, work and care required from the cutting until an evergreen is ready for home planting, also the importance of the preparation of the soil. Mr. Bruegger stated that proper cultivation is the secret of a good nurseryman.

In addition to the film Mr. Bruegger gave a splendid talk on "Holly Trees" and members and visitors obtained valuable information on the growth and care of the American Holly and also other species.

Mr. Bruegger presented the president, Mrs. Sam Denham, Sr., with several specimens he brought to show the club.

The Holly, a broadleaf evergreen gives its owner a lot of pleasure and interest in the American Holly. If you have the space, plant a Holly.

Members received the 1952 year-books and dues were paid.

The Garden Club was happy to enroll three new members, Mrs. W. L. Oliver, Mrs. Paul Chaney and Mrs. Aileen Conner, and welcomed several visitors Miss Jane Scott, Mr. Weber, Mesdames John Schram, Ralph Skith, Nell Markland, H. Daugherty, Frances Berkshire.

Members present were Mesdames Sam Denham, Sr., Sam Denham, Jr., R. C. Garrison, E. E. Abbott, A. W. Fullerton, Grant Maddox, Ruby Hollis, T. Hensley, T. V. Williams, R. H. Carter, C. F. IN MEMORY

Of my husband Bryant Jones who passed away Friday, January 25, 1952:

This is not good bye, but merely for a brief time, While we shall be separated We know not just how long By the will of the one who is Divine.

You are gone but not forgotten, Your memory lingers on; God in His infinite wisdom, Has called you to His home.

In life we loved you dearly, In death we loved you so, But we are praying for that day When we shall meet to part no more

I gave you my hand that I'd be true And for that beautiful home prepare For we know that will be a happy time When God bids us enter here.

His Loving Wife and Daughter

CARD OF THANKS

My niece and nephew join me in expressing appreciation of the kindness extended my sister, Mrs. Pearl Blankenknecht in her long illness. We are very grateful to her friends, nurse, physician and all who assisted in any way.

34th District Now In Progress At Florence Gym

Huge Crowds Expected To Jam Gym For Hoop Contests.

TOURNEY RESULTS
New Haven 49, Simon Kenton 42.
Walton 66, St. Henry 51.
By the time this article reaches print the Thirty Fourth District Basketball Tournament which is being held at the Florence High School gym will be well under way. The schedule of drawings calls for two games Tuesday night, March 4, (Walton vs. St. Henry and Simon Kenton vs. New Haven) and two contests Wednesday night, March 5, (Burlington vs. Erlanger Lloyd and Hebron vs. Florence). The first contest each night will begin at 7:00 p. m. according to Rector Jones, principal of the Florence School and tournament manager.

On Thursday night the winners of Tuesday night's play will tangle in a single contest beginning at 8:00 p. m. On Friday night the winners of Wednesday night's games will play another single contest. The championship contest is slated for Saturday night at 8:00 p. m.

Big Crowds
Huge crowds are expected to jam the Florence gym for the tourney contests since advance records and "dope" indicate that every one of the eight participating teams have enough that they "could" take home the trophy and go on to the ninth regional at Newport next week.

Simon Kenton in '51
Coach Willard Shropshire's Simon Kenton Pioneers, who play New Haven in the first round of play, won the district title last year and Erlanger Lloyd, opponents of the Burlington Eagles Wednesday night, won runner-up honor last year. Both teams are members of the Northern Kentucky Athletic Conference. Five of the other six entries are members of the Boone County League with St. Henry belonging to the N. Ky. Catholic Conference.

Officials
Tournament officials are Ralph Vandenberg of Cincinnati and Ralph Murnan of Newport, referees; Victor Bruner of Florence, timer, and Bob Martin of Erlanger, scorer.

Trophies will be awarded the championship team, the runner-up team, and to the ten members of the all-tourney team which will be selected by the coaches.

Boone Sunday Schools Will Meet Monday, March 10

The Boone County Baptist Sunday Schools will meet Monday night, March 10, at the Union Baptist Church, 7:45 p. m.

Two superintendents from this county will speak and a fine musical program will be rendered with the Florence Baptist Church in charge. All members are urged to attend.

Red Cross Drive Progressing Nicely According To Report

Workers Should Contact
As Many Residents As Possible During Week.

The 1952 Boone County Red Cross fund drive is proceeding satisfactorily, it was reported yesterday by Byron B. Kinman, drive chairman. Mr. Kinman said that many workers had completed their solicitations, and that the response has been most generous. "In fact," Mr. Kinman said, "one solicitor reported only two refusals among her solicitations."

Mr. Kinman emphasized that workers should contact as many residents as possible during this week. Boundary lines for the various communities have been worked out, and Mr. Kinman said that he expected to contact precinct chairmen this week as to their progress in the drive.

Ray D. Frost, Lockmaster at Dam 38, said he hoped to report a 100 percent record for the employees there. Luther Smith, Burlington chairman, reports that his co-workers are in there pitching. Dan Roberts, Walton chairman, reports an enthusiastic response. Mrs. Virginia Goodridge, Florence chairman, whose quota is the largest in the county, said that her workers would win in a walk. "It's easy," Mrs. Goodridge said, "if workers call at every home, for Boone County people are big-hearted."

"If this enthusiasm keeps up," Mr. Kinman asserted, "Boone County is really going over the top!"

William H. White

William Holton White, retired Boone County farmer, died Friday at the home of his son, Uphire White, 918 Monroe St. He was 79 years old.

Mr. White had passed most of his life in the vicinity of Petersburg, where he operated a large farm. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Bradburn White; five sons, Uphire White, Ralph White, Maysville; Wilson White, Erlanger; Enoch White, Petersburg and Alfred White with the U. S. Army; three brothers, Cam White, who lives near Bellevue; Charles White, Petersburg, and James White, Milan, Ind.; a sister, Mrs. May Hitzfield, Petersburg; 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at Petersburg Christian Church, with burial in Petersburg Cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs, Florence funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

Hebron Cardinals Hold Lion's Share Top Spot Records

According to Final Figures on Regular Season Play.

Final figures on regular season play show that the Hebron Cardinals had a lion's share of the top spot records in Boone County basketball. Coach Ransler's quint paced Boone teams in the "all-games" race with a 17-6 record, which was a notch higher than Ralph Maurer's Burlington Eagles who finished with a 16-6 standing. The Cards also took top honors along with Walton's Bearcats in the Boone County Conference. Both teams had six wins and two losses. The Bearcats had an overall season mark of 16-12.

Last Games
Burlington Eagles showed signs of earlier season form last Friday night when they soundly trounced St. Henry's Crusaders, winners of the N. Ky. Catholic League, by a 62-47 count at Burlington. Paced by Deck, Tillery and McFarland the local sewed the game up early and led nine players in coasting to victory.

Bill McAllister's New Haven Tigers added another win to their Conference standings Friday night as they downed the Florence Knights 82 to 58. The win was New Haven's third in Conference play and it gave them fourth place in the final league standings. The Tigers also defeated Holy Cross last week.

Hebron lost a two-point 61-59 tussle to Dixie Heights, fourth place team in the strong N. K. A. C. loop, Friday night at Dixie. Crigger and Garnett, the Cards two big guns, dumped in forty points.

Walton won over Covington Catholic and Williamstown in two non-conference tilts.

Rev. Lewis Brevard

Early History of Boone County Sought By Daughters of America

On they came, thousands of early settlers with their families, before, during and after the American Revolution, seeking freedom, fortune and a new way of life. Many of them died on the trail and were buried in a shallow grave by the side of the path; others were more fortunate and reached the land where they made their homes. One of the main objectives of the new Boone County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will be to hunt out the early history, final destination and place of burial of these families that settled in Boone County during the early history of the county and its people so that the coming generations will have access to this information.

To make this more complete, Mrs. Elizabeth Goodridge Nestor of Florence, organizing Regent of the new chapter is requesting that any one knowing of a family cemetery or "burying ground," even if it has only one grave, to please let her know. Many farms in Boone county, even though they have passed out of the hands of the original family owners have family cemeteries on them. Also there may be old town, community or church cemeteries that are abandoned or little used. If you know of any please let Mrs. Nestor know as she is planning to go gather this information into one file and if there is enough response this could be printed into a book form for the use of the people of Boone County in years to come as each year more and more valuable landmarks and things of a historical nature are lost, burned or destroyed. This could prove very interesting to all concerned as naturally, anyone supplying information will get full credit with their names used, as would also the name of the owner on whose property the cemetery might be located.

Mrs. Nestor is requesting that anyone supplying information about cemeteries please write to her giving their name, the location of the cemetery with information on how to get there, also the name of the person on whose property the cemetery will get full credit with their names used, as would also the name of the owner on whose property the cemetery is located. Write to Mrs. Elizabeth G. Nestor, Florence, Ky.

As time goes on, the Boone County Daughters of the American Revolution will give history medals in the schools for essays on Boone County historical lore. Also Good Citizenship medals for the boy or girl who most aptly represents the ideal American young person according to character and accomplishments on a community level.

Public Health Department Is Organized Here

Examinations Will Be Held For Posts March 25 At Burlington.

A full-time public health department was organized for Boone County, when a group of citizens met Tuesday night at the courthouse in Burlington.

Those attending the meeting were Judge C. L. Cropper, chairman, James R. Sills, County Health Representative, Division of Local Health Services, and John M. Henninger, Merit System Supervisor, Kentucky State Department of Health.

Judge Cropper pointed out that in the period from July 1, 1949, to January 1, 1951, Boone County's tax duplicate increased by more than $3,400,000, that more than 50 per cent of this increase was represented in new homes, and that at the present time proper sewage disposal poses a serious health problem in some sections of the county.

Judge Cropper stated that the Boone Fiscal Court, at its regular monthly meeting had agreed to appropriate $3,000 to pay the county's share of the estimated cost of operating a health department for one year. The Boone County School Board and Walton-Verona School Board will appropriate funds for the project.

Remainder of the cost of such an operation will be paid from state and federal funds.

A county health department embodies six basic services, including disease control, sanitation services, maternal and child care, laboratory services, vital statistics records, and a public health education program.

Selection of personnel for the department must be made under a merit system before Federal funds can be allocated. Personnel will consist of part-time physician, one public health nurse, one sanitarian and one clerk-typist. Competitive examination for nurse, sanitarian and clerk-typist will be held at the courthouse in Burlington at 1:00 p. m. Tuesday, March 25th. After a civil service register is established, appointments will be made by selection of one of the three highest eligibles for each position.

Judge Cropper announced that the Boone County Health Department would be established April 1 in offices in the Florence Building and Loan Association Building at Florence.

Boone Countians Given Clothing By Red Cross Chapter.

Fifty-Nine Persons Given Clothing During First Month of Operation.

Boone County Chapter, American Red Cross is happy to report that 59 persons were given clothing in the first month of operation of the chapter's new service to Boone County, namely "Clothe the Needy." This service is under the county chairmanship of Mrs. Bert Markesbery of Florence and is sponsored by the Gunpowder Homemakers Club.

The project was started in the basement of the Methodist Church at Florence on a temporary basis and has so outgrown its space that it has now been moved to a permanent location at St. Paul's Catholic School Auditorium, in Florence. Boone County Red Cross is very grateful to Rev. Edward Carlin, pastor of St. Paul parish, who has so graciously made this possible.

Up to the present time the day and hour each week for giving out clothing has been each Wednesday from 11:00 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. but from now on the day and hour each week will be Thursday from 11 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at St. Paul's Catholic Church in Florence.

Used clothing is being solicited, also material to make clothing, thread, buttons, simple patterns, etc. Mrs. Frank Lee Dils has donated a sewing machine for this project, and many ladies throughout the community have volunteered to make clothing if the material is donated. The Florence Rotary Club donated the racks on which to hang the clothing and Miss Lucille Rucker of Florence gave Mrs. Markesbery a sizeable cash donation to buy whatever was needed. Ladies of the community assist Mrs. Markesbery each Thursday in sorting, sizing and mending the clothing, also giving out the clothing.

The Boone County Red Cross and Mrs. Bert Markesbery, clothing chairman wish to thank all those who made the service so successful; also Rev. Edward Carlin, of St. Paul's for the use of the auditorium; and Rev. Ogg for the temporary use of the Methodist Church basement.

This is a Boone County project, nothing will be taken out of the county and it will also be operated on a year round basis, so since spring is coming, look through your clothing and see if there is something you can donate to this very worthy cause. If so, bring it to the clothing center at St. Paul's school in Florence on Thursday from 11:00 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cress returned home Friday after spending the past few weeks in Florida.

Farmers Urged To Conserve Farm Tools and Machinery

Machinery Will Be Hard To Replace Because Of Defense Work.

Frankfort, Ky.—Commissioner of Agriculture Ben S. Adams today called on all Kentucky farmers to conserve farm machinery by keeping it in good repair and running order.

Adams said the machinery will be hard to replace because of defense work that must be handled by manufacturers and a shortage of steel and other vital materials. Added to the problems of a shortage of new machinery is the fact that agricultural production must be higher this year than ever before because of defense needs, Adams said.

"National goals announced by the Federal Department of Agriculture indicate that crop and livestock production must surpass last year's near-record level by about six percent and must be 50 per cent higher than the average for the 1935-1939 period," Adams said.

"This would indicate that acreage must be increased but unfortunately enough new acreage is not available. That means we must intensify production through the use of farm machinery and every piece of equipment must be kept ready to do its work."

Production of new farm equipment has been on a decline since the middle of 1951 and allotments of steel to manufacturers for the first quarter of 1952 indicate that production will remain under the desired rate.

PT. PLEASANT HOMEMAKERS

Several interesting facts about "Money Matters" were discussed at the February meeting of the Pt. Pleasant Homemakers. Mrs. Robert Dolwick led in a short recreation period. Mrs. Chester Yates was hostess.

Members answering roll call with "A book or a short story I have read since last meeting" were Mesdames Robert, John and James Dolwick, John Darby, John Brown, Frank Gillette, Ray Mulloy, Ray Browder, Chester Yates, Ben Otten, Ben Reeves, Ted Weber, Fred Black, Leonard Meltzer and James Harbold. We also had three guests who hope to become members.

Next meeting will be held at the Florence Community Center, March 18 at 7:30 p. m. with husbands present to discuss business affairs.

that counts

The drawings on the left show one reason why the CA Tractor has unusually good traction. Wide-based 10-inch tires on a 10-inch rim have a broad base, using the full width of the tread to grip the earth. When properly inflated, each rear tire has approximately 17 percent more square inches of surface on the ground than with conventional rims.

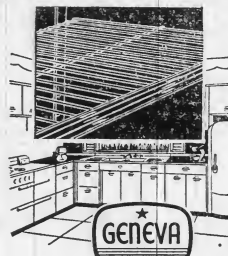

Another reason is the hydraulic Traction Booster which gives the CA live-weight instead of deadweight. With mounted tools, as the load increases, the Traction Booster automatically increases weight on the rear wheels in proportion to the load.

The new CA has plowing power you've never seen before in a tractor this size. Let us prove it on your farm.

THIS NAME has stood the TEST OF TIME

For three generations, the name "Ford" has held the confidence of the American people—particularly of America's farmers.

To the farmers in this community the Ford name is a promise of sterling value; a pledge of lasting satisfaction; a symbol of leadership in farm power and transportation.

The name "Ford" on a tractor today means volume production resources unique in the farm equipment field. That's why we can sell the Ford Tractor for a low price and give you a generous measure of extra value for that price.

And don't forget that a Ford Tractor, after years of use, will sell for more at trade-in time!

Soil Testing Laboratory To Open In County

Will Render Valuable Service To Farmers, Says County Agent.

The Boone County Soil Testing Laboratory will open March 27, according to Bill Davis, County Agent.

The laboratory has been made possible by donations from Boone County Farm Bureau and the Banks of Boone County. These donors have contributed to a cause that can render valuable service to the farmers.

It is impossible to determine how much limestone or fertilizer should be applied to a specific area of crop without testing the soil to find out how much plant food is already available. No doubt many tons of limestone and fertilizer are used on land that already contains sufficient plant food for the crop being grown. Too much limestone can be as harmful as too little.

The County laboratory will test soil for 70 cents per sample. All samples should be brought to the County Agent's office. Information on previous cropping and fertilizing should be furnished so accurate recommendations can be given after completion of the test.

Soil samples should be taken in the following way to be sure a representative test is gotten.

From each uniform field or area take an equal amount of soil from 10 or more places well distributed over the area. Use a soil auger or if you do not have one, a brace and bit or even a spade. Remove grass and weeds. If a spade must be used, make an opening to the plow depth with one straight side from which remove a thin slice of uniform width and thickness from top to bottom. Collect the soil in a clean bucket. Do not take soil from places that are not representative, such as where straw or hay stacks recently stood or near a row where fertilizer was applied in the row last year or near a highway where the soil may be affected by limestone dust blown from the highway.

Put the soil from the different places together, mix well, and remove about one-half pint for the sample. Spread this out where it will not be disturbed and allow it to dry. Do not dry it over a stove or furnace. Place it in a clean container and label it properly. Take the samples, preferably, when the soil is not too wet to plow.

Beach was tried on the tractor charge and was sentenced to 1 year in the State reformatory, but appealed the case. He was released under $2,000 bond.

Beach and his brother-in-law, Andrew Doyle were named in a joint indictment by the August grand jury on a charge of armed robbery and murder in the slaying of Melvin Townsend, who was fatally wounded in a hold-up July 21, 1951 at the filling station of the victim.

Doyle was captured by Sheriff Wendell Easton, after extensive detective work in tracing of the gun played in the hold-up attempt. Doyle pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment in Judge Ward Yager's court August 22.

Newport and Covington detectives praised the efforts of Sheriff Easton in his efforts to trace the murder gun and the arrest of Andrew Doyle.

Sheriff Easton left Wednesday morning for Pascagoula, Miss., accompanied by Cecil Presser, Boone County Jailor, who will return Beach to Boone County, where he will be held for trial at the April session of Boone Circuit Court.

THE HUEY FAMILY

By Kaye Chandler Smith

The following article was read at the Boone County Historical Society on February 15, 1952:

It is a matter of record that the members of the Huey family were French Huguenots and were driven from France, together with some fifty thousand others, in 1685 because of religious persecution. Some of the family went to Holland, some went to England and Ireland, and others came to the American colonies.

Paulus Huey came to America from Holland on the ship Samuel and in 1740, in the month of December, became a citizen of the Crown. According to an entry in the book, "Twenty Thousand Emigrants of Philadelphia," Johnathan Huey left Holland in 1741 on the ship Snow Molly, bound for America.

We next find four brothers of the Huey family living in Pennsylvania at the time of the Revolutionary War. They were Patrick, Samuel, John, and Joseph. They quarreled over the issue. John and Joseph supported the British cause, while Patrick and Samuel came south to fight for the freedom of the colonies.

We find record of the marriage of one Joseph Huey to Jean Irwin in 1737. We feel safe in saying that the Huey family first settled in Pennsylvania. Many Huey descendants are now living in or near Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Many Huey names are found in lists of supporters of the American Revolution.

The earliest of our ancestors to whom we can trace directly is Robert Huey who lived near Churchtown, Pennsylvania, and who died there in 1770. His will was probated on July 10, 1770. He and his wife Ester had five children: Samuel, James, Henry, Mary, and Elizabeth. We have little information regarding this branch of the family until we come to the great-grandson Samuel, who was head of the Huey family now in Boone County, Kentucky.

This Samuel Huey was born in Pennsylvania and was the first son of Robert and Agnes Elliot Huey. He lived in Pennsylvania until he was eleven years old, then moved to Virginia, and in a short while moved to Kentucky.

He married Jane Mason in 1797 and lived near Georgetown, Ky. It was here that it was necessary for the women to stay within the fort for protection from the Indians. The men kept their guns with them when they worked in the field. They later lived in Bardstown and at Bryant Station. They soon moved to Boone County and settled near Big Bone Springs at what is now known as Landing Springs. In 1831 Samuel died of injuries caused by the fall of a tree and is buried in Big Bone Baptist Cemetery.

Samuel's wife, Jane Mason, was born in Pennsylvania and came to Kentucky at an early age. She was from that strong and hardy pioneer stock that settled throughout Kentucky. She died at the age of eighty-one as the result of being thrown from a horse, she was riding. Not many of us today are horse-back riding at the age of eighty-one. In addition to her own large family, Jane Mason Huey raised a number of her grandchildren.

Samuel Huey is known to have been a friend of Daniel Boone and to have been associated with him in some of his early activities.

There were twelve children born to Samuel Huey and Jane Mason Huey. William married Frances Whittaker. After her death he married Mary Bradford and to them were born four children. Robert married Matilda Brady. They had twelve children. John married Matilda Rice and they also had twelve children. Harriet married Squire Grant Scott and bore six children. Thomas married Elvira Garnett and they had seven children. Mary Pauline married Mark Corn. They had two children. Joseph married Amanda Gaines and to this union were born five children. Oscar Woodford married Elizabeth Gaines. My grandfather tells me that Aunt Liz, as she was called, had a special seat reserved for her at Big Bone Baptist Church and that no one else would ever think of occupying this seat. George Washington married Sarah Williams and they had four children. Samuel married Henrietta Scolds. They had seven children, five of whom died in infancy. Cousin Jimmy Huey tells me that all the boys that settled in Boone County lived at Landing Springs with their father at first. He said that his mother cooked over an open fire while their house was being built.

Two grandchildren of Samuel Huey and Amanda Mason are now living in Boone County. Anna Elizabeth Huey Gaines, who is 79 years of age, lives north of Burlington. James A. Huey, who is a resident of Union, is 89 years old. There are many great-grandchildren in the county. All of the Hueys in the county are connected to Samuel and Jane Mason. Many other family names have become allied with the Huey clan. Some of these are the Kirtleys, Gaines, Scott, Riggs, Stephenson, Miller, Bristow, Baker, Garrison, Rogers, Smith, Green.

The members of the Huey family are a kind-hearted folk who live close to nature and seek to be at peace with the world. They are courteous and their lives revolve around their homes and loved ones. Their word is their bond. They prefer to follow in the footsteps of their forefathers. One generation is much like the last one. Most of them are farmers, but some are doctors, lawyers, ministers, dentists, and members of many other professions.

Dr. O. M. Huey was a Baptist minister whose ready smile and friendly grace made friends for him wherever he came to go. He was in charge of the Baptist Orphanage in Louisville for many years. He and his good wife were father and mother to many, many homeless children.

Dr. J. M. Huey is known all over Boone and neighboring counties. He has given a helping hand to many people in their hour of distress.

Our present Sheriff, Wendell Easton, married Katherine Huey. I, Kaye Chandler Smith, am a great-great-granddaughter of Samuel and Jane Mason Huey. My sister, Bonnie Sue, and I live with our grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Huey. Our home is two miles west of Union and is a part of the Thomas Huey farm.

The Hueys have scattered over twenty-two states, most of them being Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Kentucky. It has been said that the Hueys have two ambitions in life; to grow up to join the Baptist Church and to become old enough to vote the Democratic ticket. The Hueys are Christians, honest and straightforward.

BULLITTVILLE-IDLEWILD HOMEMAHER NOTES

The Bullittville-Idlewild Homemakers for the month of February met at the home of Mrs. Huey Aylor. There was no roll call in order to get in all the reports.

Bessie Hill and Nancy McCaskey gave the lesson on "Money Matters," and we were shown the proper way to write a check. The lesson was very interesting. Mrs. Mikkelsen gave a good report on the Farm and Home Week. Instead of a door prize Mrs. Mikkelsen had a lovely flower corsage for each member.

We also celebrated Mrs. Sickman's birthday and Mary Roberts' wedding anniversary. Several members who have been absent for some time were present at this meeting.

We're meeting at the home of Mrs. Jones next month.

—Publicity Chairman.

BURLINGTON HOMEMAHERS

The usual order of business was carried out and the lesson for the day was "Property Rights" given by Mrs. R. C. Garrison and Mrs. C. L. Cropper.

Next meeting will be at the home of the president, Mrs. Joe E. Walton.

Enlistment Requirements Relaxed By WAC In State

In view of the critical shortage of women in the military service, Kentucky Military District announced today that the Department of the Army has relaxed enlistment requirements for the Women's Army Corps. In order to obtain the approximately 20,000 additional WACS urgently needed by July 1, 1952, the eligibility requirement formerly imposed upon applicants that they possess a high school diploma has been waived. Girls between 18 and 36 who are interested in a career in the WAC may now apply for enlistment regardless of formal education and will be accepted provided they pass a General Educational Development test of high school level.

WACS are needed for thousands of critical jobs in this country and overseas. Career opportunities in the WAC today are virtually unlimited. Girls may volunteer for as little as two years or as many as six. Also, three, four and five-year enlistments are possible. Qualified enlisted women are encouraged to apply for Officers Candidate School an attractive advantage of a career in uniform.

It was reported at Kentucky Military District Headquarters in Louisville that hundreds of Kentucky girls had applied for entrance into the WAC but were not accepted because they did not have a high school diploma. These and other girls are urged to apply at the nearest recruiting station for further information.

34th District Tournament Sidelights

All-Star Team Selected By Coaches At Meeting; State Meet March 19-22.

The 34th District tournament all-star team as selected by coaches of the schools was made up of three of the Walton Bearcats and three of Erlanger Lloyd's Juggernauts, plus two of Hebron's runner-up Cardinals, and one each from Burlington, Florence and New Haven. The squad: Smith, Vest and Linton of Walton; Dryer, Dudgeon and Burton of Lloyd; Crigler and Garnett of Hebron; Rouse of Burlington; Lipscomb of Florence and D. Mason of New Haven.

Many fans were at loss when Simon Kenton's Paul Humen failed to make the tourney squad. The Recorder learned that Simon Kenton was not represented by a school official at the coaches' meeting and thus members of their team were automatically disqualified. (We might say a tough break for young Humen.)

According to veteran basketball fans who have watched many tournaments Walton's "Monk" Vest displayed the greatest one-man scoring punch ever seen in northern Kentucky basketball when he scored 16 points in three and one-half minutes of play during the last part of the first and first part of the second quarter in the Hebron-Walton championship contest. And he took only nine shots in compiling this amazing point output.

More than three thousand people crowded their way into the Florence gym during the five nights of play. We know you think that there were considerably more than that, judging from the compactness of human bodies.

In the Ninth Regional Tournament draw the four district winners were paired as were the four district runners-up quintets. And all four of the district winners see action the first night with the four second-best in district play taking over Thursday night.

This means that a team which was a runner-up in district play could go on to the state tourney next week. But with powerful Holmes and Newport in the top bracket, such is not too likely.

Congratulations to Mr. Rector A. Jones and the Florence school for the efficient manner in which they conducted the entire tournament. Also congratulations to the referees, timer and scorer plus all others who aided in making the tournament a success.

Referees for the Ninth Regional play are Joe Kinman, of Williams-town and Albert Gesselbracht, of Norwood.

It will cost you one dollar per session to attend the Regional tourney.

The state tourney will be held in the University of Kentucky Coliseum March 19-22 with the sixteen regional winners taking part.

Baptist Association Will Sponsor Broadcast Of State Hoop Tourney

As an expression of "its faith in the state's young athletes," the Elkhorn Association of Kentucky Baptists will sponsor the complete radio broadcast of the Kentucky high school state basketball tournament over station WFLK, at Lexington, March 19 to 22. This is the first time that a religious organization has ever sponsored a broadcast of this kind.

In announcing the Association's decision, Dr. T. J. Powers of Versailles, moderator of the group, said:

"We know that because of the mistakes of a few here in Kentucky, the faith of a great many people has been shaken. But we have faith in all of the young men playing for Kentucky's high schools, and we hope that these broadcasts will help them resist certain temptations in the future, and make better citizens of them today."

GOOD PROFIT IN RESTORED LAND

A net profit of $226 is claimed the first year after H. M. Frakes of Bell county rejuvenated 20 acres of hill grass land. This took into account the cost of fertilizer, lime, seed, fencing and labor.

After calling on UK County Agent Hubert W. Davis, Frakes spread 1,500 pounds of fertilizer and four tons of limestone an acre, although he had been advised to use two tons of limestone.

Then he seeded Kentucky 31 fescue, Ladino clover, ryegrass, redtop and lespedeza. This was in the fall of 1950.

The past year, from about April 1 to Oct. 1, he pastured on the 20 acres 10 calves, two milk cows, two horses and a small calf. Beef production totaled 3,420 pounds.

McCreary County, newest of Kentucky's 120 counties, was formed in 1912.

Peas For Freezing And Canning Should Be Planted By April 10

Peas for freezing and canning should be planted from now until about April 10, according to Bill Davis, County Agent.

No doubt many gardeners have already planted Alaska or Radios for early home use but these varieties are too starchy for best freezing or canning use. The wrinkled-seeded varieties such as Wando and Laxton are best. Any derivation of Laxton such as Laxtonian or Thomas Laxton may be used.

All peas make their best crops before hot weather, and to help them do this the ground should be fertile and particularly high in phosphorus. The application of commercial fertilizer such as 5-10-5 at the rate of 100 lbs. per acre will provide sufficient plant food. Inoculating the seed and planting sparsely (one pound to 100 feet row) will also help them produce to the maximum. Crowding peas slow their growth and reduces the yield.

Few insects attack peas but in some cases plant lice may cause damage. Nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) spray will keep the plants free of lice.

Parsnips are a vegetable that is usually overlooked in the garden. They are highly nutritious and may be had fresh anytime in the winter by allowing them to stay in the row in which they grew. Parsnips should be started about April 1 as it takes them all summer to mature.

One ounce of seed will plant 100 feet of row. One half ounce of early radish seed should be planted with the parsnips to help them break the ground. Hollow Crown is perhaps the best parsnips variety. Few insects will bother the crop but occasional spraying with DDT will keep it free of any of the general feeder insects that might appear.

INTERSTATE TOLL RATES

ADJUSTED MARCH 1

Under new tariffs filed with the Federal Communications Commission by the AT&T Co., and associated Bell Companies some adjustments in basic rates for inter-state toll telephone calls became effective on March 1.

Rates for some calls are increased, mostly five cents on station-to-station calls up to 150 airline miles, and five and ten cents on person-to-person calls up to 600 miles. There are some decreases, generally five and ten cents on station-to-station calls over 600 miles. Charges for toll calls between points within the same state are not affected.

As a result of these new tariffs the initial period rate on all calls from Boone County to Cincinnati are increased five cents.

This adjustment will tend to reduce the disparity between the rates for interstate and intrastate calls of the same distance.

Death Rate In State Lowest Since 1911

Kentucky's death rate in 1950 was the lowest since death registration began in 1911, according to the Vital Statistics Report for that year just released by the Kentucky State Department of Health.

There were 27,522 recorded deaths in 1950 or 9.3 per 1,000 population, the report says. Highest death rate recorded was in 1918 when 16.4 persons per 1,000 population died. The new low rate is attributed by Bruce Underwood, M. D., State Health Commissioner, to advances in medical science, widespread immunization and generally improved public health conditions in the Commonwealth.

The state's birth rate also is slipping downward from that of the peak war years, the report indicates. There were 74,384 recorded live births in 1950, which means 25.2 babies were born for 1,000 population. Peak year for babies was in 1947 when 79,890 births were recorded. Of the live births during 1950, 64.9 per cent occurred in hospitals and 92.3 per cent were delivered by physicians. Even so, over 5,000 babies were delivered by midwives and over 200 lacked even this attendance.

Mortality from tuberculosis was less in 1950 than in any year since registration began, the report shows. There were 1,073 deaths as compared with 1,286 in 1949. In 1950, 3,702 new cases of tuberculosis were reported, a case rate of 125.2 per 100,000 population. This is the highest case-rate in the past ten years, the report explains, adding that the increase is probably due to a more active case-finding program and improved reporting by physicians.

Syphilis claimed 76 lives, the lowest number since recording of that disease began in 1915. Of the childhood diseases, whooping cough again took the highest toll in 1950 with 52 deaths.

Items Exempt From Veterans' Income Tax

Payments to veterans for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration are tax-free and need not be considered in computing Federal income tax, Ray R. Adams, Manager, VA Regional Office, Louisville, reminded veterans today.

Also, he added, dividends which veterans have received on their G. I. insurance policies are exempt from taxation, and need not be reported.

Among the tax-exempt VA payments are the following: Subsidized allowances for veterans training in schools, on farms and on-the-job under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 (for the disabled).

Payments by VA to be applied to veterans' GI loans. Under the GI Bill, VA pays the lender an amount equivalent to four percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan, which is credited to the veteran's account.

Disability compensation and pensions paid to veterans for both service-connected and non-service-connected disabilities.

Grants for seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for wheelchair living.

World War I emergency officers' retirement pay.

Death benefits to families of deceased veterans are also exempt from taxation, Adams said. These include compensation, pension and all GI insurance payments.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our life and mother,

Agnis Kinman

Especially do we wish to thank those who sent cards; donors of the many floral pieces; Revs. R. A. Johnson, R. Carlton and V. Burkett for their consoling words; the doctors for their untiring efforts, and Chambers and Grubbs, for the efficient manner in which the funeral services were conducted.

Your kindness will never be forgotten.

MT. ZION HOME MAKERS

The February meeting of the Mt. Zion Club was held at the home of Mrs. R. McGuire, Florence.

Mrs. W. Miller, president opened the meeting at 10:30 a. m. Roll call by Mrs. R. McGuire was answered by "love." Mrs. Charles Hemphling and Mrs. W. Miller gave the project lesson, and everyone joined in on the discussion of "legal matters." After lunch Mrs. R. Burns directed games that were enjoyed by everyone.

Those attending were: Mesdames W. Miller, C. Hemphling, R. Burns, G. Parson, F. Domaschko, H. Winburn, Mr. McGuire. Mrs. G. Otten was a welcome guest.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. Miller, Rosegate, Walton.

SELF-EMPLOYED MUST PAY SOCIAL SECURITY

It is not voluntary with self-employed persons whether they come under the Old Age and Survivors Insurance Program of the Social Security Administration, said Joseph T. Ware, manager of the Covington, Kentucky office. Unless self-employed persons are members of a small number of exempted professions, or they have a net income from self-employment of less than $400 during 1951, they must pay Social Security tax of 24% of their net income on or before the 15th of March. The amount of their net earnings from self-employment must be declared on Schedule C attached to their Federal income tax returns. If a Schedule C is not sent to them with their other tax forms, they must ask for it. If they have already filed a tax return and have not made a return on Schedule C they should go to the Collector's office on the third floor of the Covington Post Office and do so as soon as possible.

Mr. Ware also said that although the members of certain professions, such as doctors, lawyers, dentists, professional engineers, many accountants and funeral directors are exempted from the payment of Social Security taxes when they are self-employed, they are not exempted when they are employees. For example, a doctor who is employed by an industrial concern to operate its clinic or as a personnel director is in covered employment.

Aubrey Beach Returned To Boone County Saturday

Indicted On Charge of Murder and Armed Robbery In August 1951

Aubrey Beach, who was indicted by the Boone County grand jury during the August term of Boone Circuit Court on a charge of murder and armed robbery in the fatal shooting of Melvin Townsend, Union filling station operator, July 21, 1951 was returned to Boone County from Mississippi by Sheriff Wendell H. Easton, Saturday. Beach waived extradition.

Beach was picked up last Monday by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents near Biloxi, Miss., where he had been living in a fishing camp. He told Federal authorities that he would produce six witnesses who could prove he was not at Mr. Townsend's filling station when the shooting occurred.

Andrew Doyle, now serving a life sentence at La Grange for his part in the crime, said in a signed confession that the robbery "was planned by Aubrey Beach, and he knew I was going there and was going to split with him."

Beach, at the time of the fatal shooting, was free on bond pending an appeal of his sentence of one year in La Grange prison, when he was found guilty during April 1951, in Boone Circuit Court of stealing a farm tractor from O. H. Hopkins, of Verona.

Sheriff Easton stated that Beach had been convicted of stealing an automobile and transporting it from a Southern State while he was in the Army and that he had received a sentence of two years for said offense and had been dishonorably discharged from the Army.

Creditable Showing Made By Boone Co. Teams In Tourney

Hebron Cards Go To Semi-Finals By Taking Dayton Green Devils.

Boone County's two representatives in the Ninth Regional basketball tourney at Newport last week made a very creditable showing in that classic, Hebron's Cardinals, displaying their usual fighting type game, tripped the Dayton Green Devils in the opening round by a convincing score. The Cards, though playing with a weak bench having one regular sidelined by illness, played the strong Dixie Heights team on close terms in the semi-final game, before losing out in the final quarter.

Walton's Bearcats, though defeated in the opening round, played a good ball game, and in their loss they lost to the best team in the tourney, since their conqueror, the Newport Wildcats, went on to take the championship.

Winners Play Today Stan Arzen's Newport Wildcats, the Ninth Regional winners and one of the "sweet sixteen" to enter the state tournament at Lexington will play Hindman, winners of the 16th Region, today.

Through the Wildcats aren't considered the choice by any means at the Lexington meet they do stand a good chance of staying for several games, and in doing so may raise the prestige of Northern Kentucky basketball.

On To Lexington A number of Boone County basketball coaches and fans left yesterday and this morning for Lexington to attend the four-day basketball extravaganza at the University of Kentucky fieldhouse.

Only four of last year's sixteen representatives were repeaters this year. Those returning are Clark County, Manual, Cuba and Corbin. Three of these teams, Clark County—last year's winners, Manual and Cuba are considered tournament favorites.

Work Probably Will Begin On New Span This Spring, Is Word

Legislature Clears Away Last Obstacle To New Proposed Bridge.

Construction of the new proposed $4,000,000 bridge which will span the Ohio River from Lawrenceburg, Ind., into Boone County probably will be started early this spring according to reports, following action of the Kentucky Legislature which cleared away the last obstacle to the bridge.

It is expected that the new bridge together with improvement of access roads, would open up a great new route from the Northwest to the Southeast, and would absorb much of the truck and tourist traffic that now passes through Cincinnati, Covington and Kenton County. Kentucky officials have agreed to build a new road from the bridge to State Highway 20 in Boone County, a distance of more than a mile to improve and widen Highway 20 beyond Hebron, and to improve another highway which leads to the Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Upon completion of the new bridge, approaches and highways, traffic over the new bridge would have a smooth road to the Dixie Highway in Erlanger, by-passing all cities of any size.

Judge C. L. Cropper, and other county and state officials have met with Indiana state authorities during the past two years to discuss plans for the bridge and Kentucky's part on road construction. But the project had been held up because a New York bonding company refused to issue bonds until Kentucky passed a law exempting from taxes any bridge built by another state into Kentucky.

The House of Representatives passed a bill granting exemptions late Friday by a vote of 67 to 0. The bill, introduced last month by Rep. Alvin Kidwell, of Gallatin county, previously had passed the senate, 37 to 0. This cleared the way for issuance of bonds.

Judge Cropper expressed hope that the new bridge might bring new homes and small industries into the county.

Traffic from Chicago, Indiana, and other big northern sections, particularly the heavy truck traffic would benefit by the new route because it would not go through towns of any consequence. State officials said it would form the most direct route between northwest and southeast cutting miles off the present route which leads through Cincinnati and Covington.

Under the present plans, tolls will be charged on the new bridge until the bonds are retired. Then it will become free.

Historical Society Will Meet March 21

The Boone County Historical Society will meet in the Florence Town Hall on Friday, March 21, 1952, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Mabel G. Sayre, one of the community's most beloved ladies, will tell the story of her "First 63 years in Boone County." Mrs. Sayre, the widow of one of the county's most prominent physicians, was Town Clerk for many years. She has watched Florence grow from a small village to the county's most progressive city.

Mrs. Olga Jaun, Historian for the society, will present a report of the activities of the society for the past two years.

Anyone interested in the history and folklore of the county is invited to attend the meetings.

Nine Draw Fines In Judge Cropper's Court

Nine persons were assessed fines in Judge C. L. Cropper's court during the past week on motor vehicle violations and drinking violations.

Four persons were fined $19.50 each on charges of reckless driving. While three others were fined $11.50 each for having no drivers license. Two were fined $19.50 on charges of being drunk in a public place, when arraigned before Judge C. L. Cropper.

Old Cars Still Under Controls

All used cars except "antiques" are still under price control regulations, Carl P. King, Enforcement Director of the District OPS, emphasized.

A survey of used car lots revealed many dealers are not observing the regulations. He said they gave as an excuse that newspaper accounts indicated government regulations have been removed from cars as old as ten years.

Federal Reserve Board regulations did remove credit restrictions on the sale of 1942 and earlier model cars, but no change has been made in OPS regulations covering the selling prices and the requirements for tagging each car, King explained. Only automobiles defined as "antiques"—those more than twenty-five years old—are not under price regulations.

Hebron Y-Teens Will Sponsor Annual Sale

Beginning March 21st and continuing through March 31st Hebron's Y-Teens, teen-age members of the Kentucky District YWCA, will again set forth in their annual sale of potato chips. This year plans have been carried out by Gordon Foods, Inc., to extend the sale to the major towns and cities in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Georgia. Over sixty localities in Kentucky alone will be having the sale.

With Y-Teen tags on their shoulders and potato chips under each arm Y-Teens will be conducting a house to house canvass to sell their wares. For the girl selling the most in each town there will be a Y-Teen silver bracelet. Special prizes based on competition among the clubs in the three states are a watch for the Y-Teen having the highest sale average and $50 for the club selling the most. A trophy will be awarded to the Kentucky District club with the highest record.

Profits derived from the sale are to be used to send delegates to Y-Teen Summer Camp Conference. The conference affords opportunity for Y-Teen leadership training and wholesome out-of-door recreation. Workshops in dramatics, music, folk dancing and crafts will enable the Y-Teens to develop new skills and to bring back many new ideas for Y-Teen program. Anyone not contacted and wishing to purchase potato chips please call Carol Ann Aubrey at Hebron 2371.

State Income Tax Returns Will Exceed Preceding Year

Based on last year's figures, it appears that about 240,000 Kentucky State Income Tax returns will have to be filed in less than 30 days to meet the April 15 deadline.

Nelson Perry, field division director for the Kentucky Department of Revenue, said reports from the field offices showed 36,585 returns filed during January and February. This is a greater total than for the same months last year, but far under the complete total expected, Perry said.

The department believes that with expanded employment during 1951, the total number of returns on which tax must be paid will greatly exceed the 271,000 "pay returns" filed last year. Over 1,000,000 forms have been distributed by the department to take care of the filings for 1951.

Single persons earning an income of $1,000 or more during 1951, or a man and wife together earning $2,000 or more during 1951, are required to file Kentucky State Income Tax returns.

Boost Awards On 3 Levels In '52 4-H Achievement Work

College Scholarships Increased To Eight; Other Awards Doubled.

Here's good news for every 4-H Club boy and girl in this State!

Announcement has been made by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work that county and sectional awards have been doubled, and eight college scholarships have been added on the national level in the 1952 4-H Achievement program, as follows:

Gold-filled medals of honor to winners in participating counties have been increased from two to four, and section awards of education trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November now under 16 instead of eight, as was the case last year. Also, $300 college scholarships will be presented to 12 national winners, instead of two $300 and two $150 college scholarships to the highest rating and second place winners, as heretofore. All awards are provided by the new donor, the Ford Motor Company.

Previous awards of a set of statues symbolizing 4-H achievement, for the State-winning boy and girl, and a silverware trophy for the national-winning boy and girl—the latter presented the name of the President of the United States—are being continued.

Recognition in this program for top records of general achievement—either on county, state, section or national levels—is considered one of the highest honors a 4-H Club member can receive.

County Extension agents will furnish complete information regarding this program, which is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Nationally Known Studio To Take Pictures

The only way we can give all our readers a good look at those future "World builders" is by publishing picture of them in a feature series titled "Citizens of Tomorrow."

To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures—they must all be of uniform size and quality—we have made arrangements with the Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take these special pictures for us.

Expert children's photographers for the studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Thursday, April 10th. The special studio will be set up at hall over Hardware Store, and will be open from 10:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. Florence studio will be set up at the Florence Motor Court on Wednesday, April 9th, 10 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.

There Will Be No Charge To Parents

There is no charge to the parents! There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. There is no age limit. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangements with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them!

The More Pictures The Better

The Recorder simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the day and dates, Thursday, April 10th and Wednesday, April 9th, and not fail to bring their children to the photo.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very sorry if you fail to allow your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad... and the youngsters, too... will be very proud to see their pictures in print later. Many will clip them out and preserve them until Junior grows up.

CONSTANCE HOMEMAKERS

Mrs. O. Erbaugh, Mrs. Vera Dolwick were hostesses to the Constance Homemakers for their March meeting which was held at the Brethren Church. Our vice president, Mrs. Vera Dolwick opened the meeting with members reading the Homemakers' Creed, repeating the Lord's prayer and Salute to Flag in unison.

Sixteen members answered roll call with "a three or four-letter word with a great meaning." Mrs. Vera Dolwick and Mrs. Grace Dolwick gave our lesson on "Property Rights."

Members made a comfort in the afternoon to be sent overseas to some needy family.

Don't take chances with your health, happiness and peace of mind. Go where schooled men will make an honest, scientific foot analysis and recommend your correct shoe. WOMAN'S SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Paul Chaney was in charge of the business session of the Woman's Society of the local Methodist Church March 5th. The invocation was by Rev. S. J. Bradley. Reports were heard preceding an interesting talk by Rev. Bradley when he related his experiences as pastor of the East Bend Church 40 years ago and today. Mrs. Larry Miller rendered a solo entitled "I Walked Into The Garden." Mrs. Mundy introduced Mrs. R. G. Patton a guest who spoke very interestingly on the topic "Laborers Together with God."

Altogether the meeting was very interesting and a fairly large number was in attendance. Mrs. A. T.

Knox will be chairman of the program at the next meeting in April. The dismissal prayer was by Mrs. C. N. Ogg.

A Vast Problem

Many years ago there was a great deal of talk about the "yellow peril"—the idea being that some day the Asian nations, with their enormous superiority in manpower over the white races, would rise in revolt against the Western world and attempt to subjugate it. Certain newspapers and writers played this up to the hilt and frightening books of prophecy were written about it. Some people took it with the utmost seriousness; others regarded it as nonsense, and argued that the alleged yellow peril was the deliberate creation of yellow journalism.

In any event, the troubles that now exist in the smoldering Eastern world are, to some degree at least, proof that the prophecy of the yellow peril was not entirely farfetched. And these troubles—in Egypt, Pakistan, and elsewhere—are not isolated phenomena. They are parts of a whole. The East feels that it has been exploited, subjected to centuries of injustice. Whether this point of view be right or wrong is not the point. That is the way the East feels, and it is determined to do something about it.

Many writers and thinkers are dealing with this vast problem. One of them is Robert Kazmayer, who devoted an extremely interesting newsletter to it some time ago. In Mr. Kazmayer's view, our universe is in the throes of a threefold revolution. The three dominant factors, which he terms "locomotives of history" are: First, a worldwide revolution of the less privileged peoples, who are mostly colored, against the wealthy nations; second, the revolution of the masses against the autonomous individual; third, the revolution of today's chemical-technological age with its atomic fission against the mechanical age which created the society we know.

Against this background, Mr. Kazmayer goes on, stand two other tremendous factors. First, the population of the world is growing at a terrific rate, and the colored population is twice as large as the white and breeding twice as fast. Thus, the demand for the world's goods grows ever greater, especially among the nations which have little. The second factor is that one nation, the United States, towers above all others in material wealth and possessions. We are a very young nation, and we have but 6 per cent of the world's population and land area. Yet, Mr. Kazmayer points out, we have 85 percent of the world's automobiles, 54 percent of its telephones, 92 per cent of its bath tubs, 46 per cent of its electric power, and so on. We consume 65 per cent of the world's corn, 60 per cent of its oil, 45 per cent of its meat. Thus Mr. Kazmayer reasons, the locomotives of history "are being strategically directed against America," and the Kremlin is doing the directing. The Kremlin makes much of the statement that it stands for equality of all races, and here, Mr. Kazmayer says, the Kremlin is honest—"it would just as soon have colored slaves as white."

Mr. Kazmayer offers no solution—he simply outlines what he believes is happening. At the end of his report, he wrote, "One thing you can be sure of: There's no normalcy, no return to older order, not for America, not for the world, not in our time. Until these three engines of history have been brought under control, or have spent their steam, there'll be no peace as we used to understand that word."

Just What The Communists Want
"In less than four decades, the individual income tax rate has risen from one per cent with a maximum rate of seven per cent on net income of $500,000 and over—to a starting rate of 22.2 per cent, with a combined normal and surtax rate of 92 per cent on taxable income of $200,000 and over!" writes Gordon Grand, Jr., in the Tax Review.

"In the space of less than 40 years, the corporate income tax rate has risen from one per cent to a combined normal, surtax and excess profits marginal rate of 82 per cent. The number of individuals subject to income taxes has risen from less than 400,000 to 55,000,000."

As if this wasn't bad enough, the new proposed Administration budget, as offered to Congress, envisions a deficit of over $22,000,000 during the next two years. And apparently the only Administration solution is more taxes—even though taxation takes about one-third of the whole national income now. There is the usual easy talk about economy and efficiency—but no one high in administration circles ever comes up with a concrete suggestion for materially reducing non-defense, non-essential spending of any kind. The Communists, who would like nothing so much as an economic collapse in the United States, must find this encouraging to an extreme. A drunken-sailor type of government can destroy a country from within just as effectively as an enemy can destroy it from without by military means. The one bright spot in the whole picture is the coldness with which Congress received the budget. Members of both parties said that taxes must not be raised, and that costs must be cut—and cut deep. Congress could render no greater service to the nation than that.

Farm Labor Shortage Continues In 1952

Once again the American farmer is being called on to produce huge quantities of food and fiber to support the defense of our country and the free world. About a doubt the farmers of Kentucky will contribute, to the maximum of their ability everything that they can to insure that our way of life will continue.

Due to the heavy influx of workers from farming territories into the cities, a shortage of farm labor is expected. It will be necessary therefore to utilize every available worker. This means, the older worker, women and youth. In order for this to happen there must be a way for the worker and the farmer to be brought together. This can be done through the local office of the Division of Employment Service. Workers who are primarily interested in finding farm work are urged to file their applications with the Employment Service so that they will be ready for use when openings occur. Farmers who are interested in securing farm help may place their orders with this same office and will be made to fit their needs for farm labor.

The local office of the Employment Service serving this area is located at 808 Scott Street, P. O. Box 188, Covington, Ky. Mr. Jack Lancaster is the Farm Placement Representative and will be glad to assist both worker and farmer in any way possible. This service is free and there is no obligation.

COVINGTON, -:- KENTUCKYCIRCULAR DISCUSSES FERTILIZING BURLEYA new circular of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics deals with the fertilizing of burley tobacco. There is little land, it says, that will produce good yields of high-quality burley without the use of farm manure or commercial fertilizers or both.Tobacco growers should first determine whether their soils are well supplied with phosphorus and potassium. Compared to the value of the crop, the cost of supplying these plant foods in fertilizers is small.
With plenty of phosphorus and potassium assured, enough nitrogen should be provided for a good yield.
The circular tells how to determine the needs for these three elements and the amounts to use.Where all three plant-food elements are needed, they can be supplied as mixed fertilizer. Suggestions are given for applying fertiliz-er broadcast or at the row. The advisability of having cover crops in a tobacco rotation also is discussed.
Growers are warned not to overlime land to be put in tobacco.On building soil for burley, the circular states:"Soils of low to medium fertility should be built up for burley thru the use of crop residues, farm manure, phosphate and potash fertilizers, liming and growing grasses and legumes. Good crops are more certain on land so improved, and only moderate amounts of fertilizer are required when such land is in burley.""On much land where tobacco is grown it has been too often necessary to add more ythe fertilizers normally needed for the tobacco crop but also enough additional plant food to make for the soil depletion of other crops grown in the rotation. A better plan in any soil-building program would be to apply enough fertilizer to the pasture, hay and grain crops so they would not deplete the soil but rather would improve it and leave it insuch condition that when tobacco follows in the rotation only enough fertilizer need be added to supply the tobacco crop."Lawrenceburg, Ky., is named for Captain James Lawrence, the originator of the slogan, "Don't give up the ship."SQUARE DANCE*EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT*Erlanger V. F. W.*Erlanger Road 1 1/2 Miles From Dixie Highway

Dedication Of Burlington Church Planned March 30

Building Program Is Completed At Local Baptist Church.

Burlington Baptist Church will dedicate its new addition in services scheduled Sunday, March 30, beginning at 10:00 a. m. and continuing throughout the day, it was announced this week by Rev. R. A. Johnson, pastor.

The building has been completely remodeled both inside and out, and is said to be one of the most beautiful churches in the county. The new addition is composed of four Sunday School rooms and a baptistry up-stairs, and three rooms and wash room downstairs.

The building program which has been in force the past two years, was started April 1st, 1950, when excavating work was started on the parsonage basement. The new parsonage was completed that year and dedicated. The new addition was started shortly thereafter, and is now complete in every detail.

Rev. R. Lee James, former pastor of the church will bring the morning message. The afternoon session will be devoted to music and a dedicatory message from the pastor. Other speakers on the program will be Rev. R. F. Demossey, a former pastor, Rev. Robert Brown and Rev. Morton Oliver, two local boys, who were ordained to the ministry at the local church. The afternoon session will close with a love offering which will be applied to the indebtedness.

A refreshment committee will be in charge of the noon hour refreshments, and extensive plans have been made to accommodate an overflow crowd.

Rather than the usual basket dinner, sandwiches, salads, pies and cakes are being furnished by the members. The committee in charge of the lunch will appreciate anything brought for refreshments.

All members of the church are urged to attend, and visitors are given a cordial invitation.

Local Athlete At U. K. For Football Tryout

Gayle Rouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rouse, of Burlington is spending this week at the University of Kentucky "trying out" for the U. K. football squad in spring practice.

Rouse, a senior of Burlington High School was selected as all-state end in six-man football the past season. He also was selected as a member of the all-star basketball team for the district, following the district tournament held at Florence.

Rouse has played six-man football for the past three years and has attracted attention of University of Kentucky scouts and other college scouts during that time for his outstanding play and team spirit.

Bellevue Reports "Over The Top" In Red Cross Drive

Petersburg Also Meets Quota, According To Quota Chairmen.

The Bellevue precinct, under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Rogers, has gone over the top in the current Red Cross fund drive, it was reported yesterday by Byron B. Kinman, Deputy Sheriff, and Chairman of the 1952 Red Cross Fund Campaign for Boone County. Mr. Kinman also reported that the Petersburg precinct, headed by Mr. Lawrence Chambers and Mrs. Justin Dolph, had met its quota.

Luther Smith, chairman of the Burlington community, said he expected to go over the top by the end of this week.

Mr. Kinman said that he would visit all precinct chairmen on Friday and Saturday of this week, to assist them in winding up the drive. He urges all workers to make one final last-minute effort to attain their quotas. "I know that some Boone County residents have not been called on," Mr. Kinman declared, "because they have been making inquiries as to where to send their contributions. So please don't overlook a single residence."

Mr. Kinman pointed out that the recent tornadoes in Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Southern Kentucky, which rendered thousands of people homeless, is a striking example of the disaster conditions the Red Cross is always ready to meet—through the contributions in part, of Boone County citizens.

Ten-Day Revival Now In Progress At Bellevue

Rev. Richard Carlton

A ten-day revival is now in progress at the Bellevue Baptist Church with services each evening at 8:00. Rev. Richard Carlton, pastor, is bringing the messages, while David Roddy, is directing the song service.

Services will continue through April 2nd, it has been announced. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Worksheet Ready For Signatures Of Boone Co. Farmers

All Farmers In State Eligible To Participate In Program.

Employees of the local ACP office are now ready for farmers in this county to sign their 1952 Farm Worksheet. For the first time in Kentucky, farmers are required to designate in advance the soil and water conservation practices which they plan to adopt to obtain ACP aid in the form of material or payments.

All farmers in the state are eligible to participate in the ACP, it was announced. Aid is available in each county on 17 practices. Practices are as follows:

1. Liming farm land.
2. Applying phosphate and potash to legumes and grasses.
3. Applying rock or colloidal phosphate to non-crop pasture or certain grass or legume crops.
4. Establishing legume winter cover crop.
5. Establishing small grain winter cover crop.
6. Disking or plowing under sweet clover.
7. Establishing annual lespedeza.
8. Establishing or improving permanent pasture.
9. Excavating or impounding stock water ponds.
10. Constructing terraces.
11. Seeding or sodding permanent waterways.
12. Contour farming of row crops.
13. Constructing diversion channels.
14. Construction drainage ditches.
15. Installing drain tile.
16. Planting forest trees.
17. Improving stands of forest trees.

Technical supervision of 1952 permanent practices—stockwater development, terracing, contouring crops, diversion ditches, open ditch drainage, and tile drainage, will be handled by the Soil Conservation Service. From these permanent practices only those approved for the farm by SCS will be eligible for ACP aid. Approval of the forestry service, State or Federal, is required for tree planting and forestry improvement practices.

The closing date for signing your work sheets is April 30, 1952. Farmers are urged to sign as soon as possible. If the work sheet is not signed by the above date you will not be eligible for payment, according to Joseph A. Huey, chairman of Boone County PMA committee.

Easton and Harlan Heilman, Commonwealth Attorney for the 15th Judicial District, spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week at Frankfort and Eddyville, to make arrangements for Doyle's return.

He now is lodged in the Burlington jail awaiting trial.

Doyle will be the state's principal witness against Beach, according to Sheriff Easton. Doyle will be returned to Burlington April 14 when the Boone Circuit Court convenes, and will be held here until the case is disposed of.

Beach, who had been sentenced to serve a year in the La Grange Reformatory on a charge of stealing a tractor, was free on bond, at the time of the hold-up and fatal shooting of Mr. Townsend at Union. A new trial was being sought for Beach at the time.

Boone County Soil Testing Laboratory Opens March 27th

Soils of Tobacco and Corn Fields Should Be Tested Immediately.

The Boone County Soil testing laboratory opens Thursday, March 27, according to Bill Davis, County Agent. Farmers are urged to get soil of tobacco and corn fields tested immediately so fertilizers can be applied in proper amounts. It is also recommended that alfalfa and pasture fields be tested so they can be top-dressed for maximum yields. Samples should be properly taken to insure getting a representative sample. This can be accomplished by taking 12 to 15 borings in a field and consolidating them into sample for testing. Tops of ridges and steep slopes in the same field should be tested separately as they will differ greatly in fertilizer and lime requirements. About one-half pint of soil, thoroughly air dried and pulverized, should be brought to the County Agent's office. A fee of 70c per sample will be collected at the time the sample is left for testing. Four or five days will be needed to test the soil and get a report of the test and fertilizer recommendations back to the farmer.

Further information on taking samples, drying the soil and where to leave the sample will be mailed to all farmers this week. Read your letter carefully and follow the directions so that they may be sure to get a good soil sample.

All twenty directors have agreed to help in the membership drive and in addition several volunteer committeemen from each of the ten districts of the county.

To date there have been 475 enrolled in the Farm Bureau since the beginning of 1952. Fifty-two of these are new members. The membership committee has pledged at least 750 members for 1952 and prospects are good for even more.

The membership committee intend to see all members of the past year, who have not renewed in addition to a number of new prospective members.

One of Farm Bureau's main objectives is to supply rural people with insurance of all kinds at cost. This includes auto, fire and wind, life, hospitalization and surgical, farm comprehensive liability, and tobacco hail insurance. Dividends are distributed back to policy holders, when excess profits are made. Other things Farm Bureau works for are parity prices for farm products, the making of electricity and telephone available to farm families, the improving of country roads, adequate pay for rural teachers so that rural children can have equal educational opportunities and protecting the rights of rural people against all types of aggression. Farm Bureau cooperates with other agencies such as 4-H Club, Utopia Club, F. F. A., Agricultural Fairs and various cooperative organizations, which are working for the interests of rural people.

Farm Bureau has over 61,000 rural families enrolled in Kentucky being the largest in the southern region and over 1,500,000 rural families enrolled in 47 states and is the largest and most powerful farm and rural organization in the world. It is independent of any support from County, State or Federal Government and so is responsible only to its own members. Your support is needed to carry the good work forward, so you are urged to renew your membership today if you have never enrolled, to do so at the first opportunity.

Tanner

The Tanners identified with the colony of 1717 in Madison County, Virginia, were not originally with it, when they came to Virginia but joined it a year or two later. Urban Tanner appears in the treasurer's report of the Hebron congregation in 1733; he received one shilling, ninepence for travelling expenses to Williamsburg about church business. John and Michael Tanner appear in the Virginia hand books at Richmond, together with other German settlers on Robinson River and White Oak Run, who patented land in 1726. Robert Tanner, a German, proved his importation in the Spotylvania County Court in 1729; he stated that he came to the colony in 1720, and that he brought with him his wife, Mary, and his children, Christopher, Christiana, Katharina, Maria, and Parva; he was granted 350 acres as headrights.

In the county records the name Tanner is variously spelled as Turner, Toner, ToTmer, Turner, etc., which has caused considerable confusion and some errors among genealogical researchers, but the name Tanners seems to have been finally established. It is likely that Urban, John, Michael and Robert Tanner were related in some degree. Tanner descendants are numerous in Madison County, Virginia and many of them were among Boone County's earliest pioneer settlers. A writer on the German Element in Virginia says that Johann Tanner left Virginia with several German families from Madison County and settled at Farmer's Station, now Bullittsburg, Ky., in 1785. It has been established that descendants of Robert Tanner settled in Boone County as early as 1805, as shown by the records of Hopeful Lutheran Church. In 1806, among those who signed the church charter, were Ephraim Tanner and his son Simeon and on Holy Whit Sunday in 1814, Frederick Tanner, Ephraim's father, Jeremia Tanner and Aaron Tanner were present.

Christopher Tanner, son of Robert and Mary, married Elizabeth Aylor, granddaughter of Henry Snyder (colony of 1717); their children were Jacob, Frederick, Christopher II, John, Abraham, Dorothea and Maria Magdalena Tanner. Jacob and Abraham were soldiers in the American Revolution.

Jacob Tanner married Dorothy Zimmerman, daughter of John and Ursula (Blankenbaker) Zimmerman; John Zimmerman and his father, Christopher I, came to Virginia in the colony of 1717; Ursula Blankenbaker and her parents, Nicholas and Appellonia Blankenbaker, were also of this colony. Frederick Tanner, son of Christopher and Elizabeth Aylor, married Maria; their children were: 1. Marie, born 1775; 2. Margaret, married Simeon Carpenter, a first cousin of the Rev. Wm. Carpenter; 3. Ephraim, married Susanna House; 4. Ann; 5. Jacob, m. Rosanna Utz; 6. Simeon; 7. Jemima, and 8. Aaron, and there may have been others; most if not all of these children immigrated with their parents, Frederick and Maria Tanner to Boone County, soon after it was organized.

Christopher Tanner II, son of Christopher and Elizabeth Aylor, married Margaret, and they had a daughter, Susanna, who was born in 1777 in Virginia. Maria Magdalena Tanner, daughter of Christopher and Elizabeth Aylor, married, 1768, Christopher Zimmerman III, son of John and Ursula and brother of Dorothy who married Jacob Tanner, Maria Magdalena's brother.

Ephraim Tanner, son of Frederick was born in Virginia, 1778; he married Susanna House; at least three of their children were born in Virginia, Rhoda, Benjamin and Veronica. They may have had other children after they settled in Boone County.

William Tanner, (son of?) married a daughter (name not known) of Michael House, and his wife Susanna Zimmerman, daughter of Christopher III; Andrew Tanner (son of?), married Betsey Rouse, probably in Boone County; she was a daughter of George Rouse and his wife Betsey Zimmerman, also a daughter of Christopher III; Mary Tanner (perhaps a sister of Ephraim) married Silas H. Zimmerman, a son of Joshua and Iiza (Rouse) Zimmerman. This was an early Boone County marriage.

Other Tanner marriages in Boone County were those of Joe Tanner, 1828 to Lydia Crigler, daughter of the Rev. Jacob Crigler by his second wife, Nellie Tanner, daughter of Frederick; Lovell F. Tanner, 1855, to Julia Crisler, daughter of Jonas; their daughter, Brenda, married Wm. H. Garnett in 1879, and her sister, Rose Tanner, married 1884, Marion E. Gigney in Kenton County. Their brother, Lovell Tanner, married Mary Utz, 1869, in Ripley County, Ind. In 1841, Boone County, Elizabeth J. Tanner married Ephraim D. Crigler, son of Nicholas and their daughter, Sarah F. Crigler, married, 1861, Benson C. Tanner; George J. Tanner married, 1874, Amanda E. Souther, daughter of Hiram W. Souther and Martha Jane Utz, wj were married in Boone County in 1858.

William C. Tanner, (son of?) married in Boone County, 1836, Tabitha Rouse; their children: 1. Margaret L., m. Enoch Mannin; 2. Mary J. m. Austin B. Anderson; 3. Elijah A. m. Fanny Poston; 4. Jemima F., m. Oliver Shuman, 1875, in Preble county, Ohio; 5. William W., m. Sarah F. Cline; 6. Nancy E. m. Jasper N. Mannin; 7. James H. Tanner, m. 1881, in Dearborn County, Ind., Belle Tracey.

One Out Of Every Five In Nation Live Off Government Check

Louisville, Ky., March 24—Estimates showing that one person out of every five in the nation lives in whole or part off a government check threaten to become obsolete before the ink has dried, according to Donald F. Nemitz, Secretary of the Kentucky Tax Research Association. "Two years ago," said Nemitz, "a spot check showed approximately 27 million persons receiving payments from Federal, state, or local governments. Today, an approximation of the same indices would show the figure to be well over 30 million—and still climbing." Nemitz cited the rise in Federal civilian employment, in state and local employment, and in the numbers in the armed services as examples of how the old estimates were rapidly being obliterated.

He pointed out that as of last October, the total of Federal civilian employees alone, was better than 2.5 million, and the total of state and local employees more than 4 million.

"These nearly 7 million persons received a government check every month; they are paid by your taxes, now approaching the highest in this country's peace-time history," he said. "And remember, this is but a part of the total picture. The payments made to those on relief, for old-age assistance, for pension, unemployment insurance, etc., must be counted in, too."

Nemitz said that the recent steep rise in taxes was a reflection in part of mounting Federal employment. It was estimated at slightly under 2 million. In the 15 months following, employment by the Federal government increased more than half a million persons. And it is still mounting.

From the taxpayers' standpoint, Nemitz said, it is significant that in October of last year the monthly payroll of all government employees, Federal, state, and local, was $1.8 billion; that of the Federal government alone running to nearly $800 million. In that same month, the monthly payroll for state and local employees was estimated by the Byrd Committee at slightly over $1 billion.

"All you have to do is compare this with the total monthly payrolls in say, July 1950, a few weeks after Korea. At that time, Federal payrolls were running at a monthly rate of slightly over $551 million; state and local payrolls at a monthly rate of $708 million."

Even more significant, he said, is a comparison with October of the last war year, 1945. In that month, Federal payrolls amounted to slightly more than $642 million—while state and local payrolls were $467 million. Back in October 1940, Federal payrolls amounted to $177 million; state and local to $388 million.

"And if you think of Federal employees as a group of people all herded in Washington," Nemitz said, "you may be in for a shock when you read the number of Federal employees actually working right in our own state. According to a recent compilation, there were 31,247 Federal civilian employees in Kentucky."

"This information about employees and payrolls should help make all taxpayers of Kentucky realize the urgent necessity now for supporting all measures designed to cut back on excessive, unnecessary government spending. Otherwise, there will be no stemming the tide that has swelled continuously since Korea. And there will be no relief in sight from the tremendous tax load we have today."

HOW TO HANDLE green undergrowth in grain crops

Clover seeded with your grain crop builds up your soil, but this green undergrowth may be a problem at harvest time. Here is how to handle it.

A home-owned ALL-CROP Harvester lets you time your harvest perfectly. Catch the grain at full ripeness, but before green undergrowth is too high.

The wide, rubber-faced bar cylinder handles the full swath width with less chopping of green matter — separation is easier over the rack and there is less choking of sieves. Grain is drier, brighter, safer to store.

Power harvest grain this year, valuable seed next year, from the same field... with your own ALL-CROP Harvester. Stop in and talk to us.

ALL-CROP is an Allis-Chalmers trade-mark.

SHOWS BEAUTY OF REWORKED CHAIRS

Mrs. W. H. Baerlein of Garrard county revealed to members of her homemakers club the beauty of re-finished furniture when she showed them two old dining chairs of the same set; one was black with the accumulation of years, the other one, which she had finished, showed the rich natural color of walnut. Mrs. Baerlein bought a set of six chairs for $2 each at a second-hand store. Refinished, they will be worth many times that amount, is a clock more than 100 years old.

TAXES

We paid the U. S. Government almost 2 1/2 times the amount the owners of our bank (the stockholders) received in dividends for 1951. The dividends paid to our stockholders were again taxed in their hands.

In addition to this, we paid several thousand dollars in other taxes and are advised that our taxes are to be still higher in 1952.

It would appear that our taxing authorities have gone "TAX HAPPY."

Most women strive to be good cooks...

but yearn to pass on the "clean-up" job to another...

You can, you know, shed that "clean-up" job, without back talk... if you'll modernize your kitchen with one of those garbage grinders and an electric dishwasher. They work, at your touch... whisk away the garbage... and dishes are washed, scalded and dried, automatically, in the dishwasher, without so much as your fingertips touching the water. Of course, to keep a plentiful supply of really HOT water on hand at all times, you need an automatic Electric Water Heater of adequate size. So cheap to operate, too, with your special low electric rates for water heating.

For these modern, miracle appliances, see your appliance dealer SOON, and bring your kitchen up-to-date.

Mrs. W. D. Scroggins
Appointed Chairman of Boone County.

Each year the Cancer Crusade serves as a gruesome warning to every living person that one out of five Americans will develop cancer and that some 22,000,000 will die of cancer if the present rate continues. Science will finally conquer cancer which last year killed 215,000 American men, women and children in our country.

To be faced with these startling figures is enough to cause the stout-hearted to grope blindly in despair and be "devoured" now rich or how poor. American people are not made that way. We have the stamina and ability to fight back, no matter how great the odds against us may be.

For several years we have been fighting back through scientific research, education, and cancer clinics. Science will finally conquer this dreaded disease as it has many others in the past. Through many dark hours the light of science and medical skill has rescued many of us. Huge sums of money are needed to carry on this survival of life and each year each of us are given the opportunity to contribute to this Cancer Crusade. The quota for Boone County is $1500 as set by the Kentucky Division of the American Cancer Society.

The 1952 Cancer Crusade for Boone County was organized March 26 at a tea given by Mrs. W. D. Scroggins at her home in Verona. Chairmen for each town and surrounding community were appointed at this meeting and the fund raising campaign will begin the first of April and continue throughout the month. All the people connected with the Cancer Crusade in Boone County are donating their time, labor, and traveling expenses. It makes no difference how large or how small your donation may be in this fight to banish this dreaded cancer disease. Each of us will have to decide how much we will be able to give for this common cause.

Local chairmen are as follows: Verona, Mrs. Wendell Ryan; Walton, Mrs. Clayton B. Jones; Beaver, Mrs. R. P. Moore; Bullittsville, Mrs. S. B. Nunneley; Hebron, Mrs. Omer Dolwick; Florence, Mrs. Wm. Campbell; Petersburg, Mrs. Dorothy Christy; Richmond, Mrs. J. A. Logan; Union, Mrs. Emerson Smith; Grant, Mrs. James Ransom; Burlington, Mrs. Noel Walton. Other members of the Cancer Crusade attending the tea were: Mrs. James Webster, Walton; Mrs. Clifford Farwell, Walton; Mrs. Stanley Jones, Walton; Mrs. M. C. Racey, Walton; Mrs. James Lee Cobb, Covington; Mrs. Geo. Bickers, Walton; Mrs. Donald Stephenson, Walton; and Mrs. Howard Stephenson from Walton.

The Burlington W. M. S. will meet at the church Wednesday, April 9 at 2:00 p. m. All ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Emergency Game Regulations On Fish Readopted By State

Commercial Seining For Minnows Prohibited By Regulation.

Two emergency regulations affecting the creel limit of crappie or nightgits and the seining of minnows from creeks have been readopted by the State Game and Fish Commission and were effective as of March 25, the date of expiration of the present regulation governing the same.

The announcement by the director of the Division of Game and Fish points out that due to an overpopulation of crappie or nightgits in most Kentucky waters, the fisherman will be permitted to take a limit of 30 of this species each day or have in his possession 60 provided he has fished two or more consecutive days.

The other regulation prevents the seining of minnows from a stream for sale. The regulation does not prevent any resident from seining minnows from creeks for private use, but a person may not have more than 500 creek minnows of any species or in aggregate in his possession at any time. Neither does the regulation prevent the taking of shad minnows for commercial purposes in the waters of Herrington, Dale Hollow and Kentucky Lakes and all streams under lock and dam but not above the last lock and dam upstream.

Tobacco Specialist Urges Conserving Soil and Plant Food

In Meeting With Growers Held At Burlington, April 1.

John Irvine, tobacco specialist from the University of Kentucky met with growers at the courthouse in Burlington Tuesday, April 1st.

Mr. Irvine in discussing tobacco production pointed out that conserving soil with good cover crops and saving home grown fertilizers such as manure and tobacco stalks were important phases of production. To conserve the soil he recommended contour cultivation and good winter cover crops of small grain and vetch. Mr. Irvine pointed out that nearly half of the plant food in Kentucky's $55,000,000 worth of tobacco is lost each year by piling manure in the weather. The nitrogen and potash are washed out of the manure by constant rain during the winter.

Manure can be spread on the ground most anytime if a good green cover crop is growing. If there is no cover on the ground the manure should be spread immediately before plowing.

Tobacco stalks likewise lose their nitrogen and potash by weathering and should be kept in the barn until the farmer is ready to spread them on the field. Mr. Irvine advised that tobacco stalks from black shank infested ground should not be returned to tobacco fields. They can be safely used on pasture fields that do not drain surface water on the tobacco field.

Mr. Irvine pointed out that each ton of manure contains 10 pounds of nitrogen, 5 pounds of phosphorus and 10 pounds of potash. A ton of tobacco stalks contains 60 pounds of nitrogen, 15 pounds of phosphorus and 70 pounds of potash. Both of these materials are excellent fertilizers and can be used in place of some of the commercial fertilizer on tobacco.

It is important that the plant nutrients in the soil be well balanced. The only way to find out what the ground contains in the way of plant food is to have the soil tested in the county soil laboratory. After a soil test definite recommendations on fertilizing can be made.

Mr. Irvine stated that 80% of Kentucky's tobacco crop was sold in the 4th and 8th quality grades and indicated that insufficient potash fertilizers was at least partly responsible for this low quality. Care should be taken however in applying potash tobacco to be sure that heavy applications of muriate of potash is not used. Potash applied to tobacco should be in the sulphate form.

All tobacco beds and a 3-foot area around them should be treated with a 3-4-50 bluestone lime mixture to control wildfire in the beds. Detailed information of the bluestone lime treatment can be obtained from Bill Davis, County Agent.

Bluestone-lime should be applied three times—(1) when the plants first appear; (2) ten days later and (3) after the bed is weeded. The mixing of ½ pound of 50% wettable DDT in 50-gallons of bluestone-lime at the second application will help control flea beetles that often attack the plants.

Tobacco beds should be disked after plants are set in the field and seeded to a summer legume such as soybeans.

Growers were warned by Mr. Irvine not to use tophene on tobacco to control worms or grasshoppers as the chemical remains on the tobacco leaf and may result in refusal of the crop by buyers. Rothane may be used in its place.

Camera and Birdie Await Boone County Kiddies April 9 - 10

At Burlington and Florence; Pictures To Be Published In Paper.

Next Wednesday and Thursday, April 9th and 10th are the big days for the picture taking of your youngsters! The Recorder is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Florence Motor Court Wednesday, April 9th and the hall over Hardware Store in Burlington, Thursday, April 10th between 10 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. absolutely free of charge. The Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, nationally known children's photographers, will be in charge of the photography. The Recorder wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at this present stage for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to The Recorder, nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain a limited number of additional prints by arranging direct with the studio if you want them. That is entirely up to you! There is no age limit.

That children are looking forward to the fun, since our previous announcement of this coming event, is shown in numerous instances. One child's mother was uncertain about the date and they had a slight discussion which ended with the child saying firmly, "Well, I'm going up to The Recorder office and see about it."

THE PUBLIC DEBT

Will Rogers used to say, and he was 100% right, that the trouble with the public debt is that us private individuals have to pay it. We are wondering if the public debt and private taxes have not reached the limit. Our bank cannot operate in the red at any time and stay in business. What is good in private business should hold good in public affairs.

Mrs. Buddy Arnold was hostess to the Price Pike Homemakers at her home, Thursday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller was the scene of a happy surprise Thursday evening, the honor guest being Mrs. W. S. Mitchell, who was celebrating a birthday. Rev. Mitchell and wife had been invited to dinner in the Miller home, but were unaware of other guests who were to attend. A nice dinner had been prepared including, among other delicacies, baked ham and the traditional birthday cake. The celebrant received a number of nice gifts including a nice sum of money. Guests enjoying hospitality were the Mitchell family, members of Epworth Church, Covington where Rev. Mitchell is pastor; Mrs. Mamie Mitchell and the host and hostess. We join in wishing Mrs. Mitchell many happy returns of the day.

A movement is under way locally in which all the business houses in the community plan to participate as the Lenten Season comes to a close. Plans are being formulated to observe Good Friday. All business places are joining in suspending business for three hours from 12:00 noon until 3:00 p. m. It is hoped that the movement will be approved 100 percent. The movement was begun by the Diocesan Union of Holy Name Societies. For many years all faiths of the community have joined in observing Good Friday and now the business men are taking up the tradition of observing the three hours of silence.

Dr. N. A. Jett and the Paul Chaneys had as a guests Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hanson, of Augusta and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Dehlinger, of Covington.

Paul Haisent of the Lucas Apartments is able to be out again following several days illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Gehhard, Jr., and children of Forest Avenue, Erlanger, were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Aylor and daughter of the Lucas Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Sullivan and family are now located in their new home on Lloyd Avenue. They formerly resided in Burlington. They recently purchased the property of Odus Brandenburg.

The local Rotary Club which meets each Monday evening at the Legion Home recently held an election of officers for the coming year. The new officers include Leo J. Brophy, president; Roy C. Lutes, vice president; Dick Carr, Secretary-treasurer; Gilbey Greene and Lawrence Aylor. Members of the board of directors and G. B. Foscoe, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Irene Aylor is able to be out again following several days illness at her home on Shelby Street.

Fiscal Court Gives Green Light On Proposed Water Dist.

Contract Signed With Engineers For Complete Preliminary Survey.

The Boone Fiscal Court has signed a contract with Alfred LeFever and Associates, Engineers and Contractors of Cincinnati, Ohio, to proceed with the preliminary survey for the proposed Boone County Water District.

The court has made it clear that if after the survey is made and it is not found to be feasible from a financial standpoint, then there will be no cost whatsoever to the county or the taxpayer for the making of this survey.

On the other hand, after the survey is completed and it is thought that sufficient water can be produced on a paying basis to create a water district, then the engineers would be paid for their services from the proceeds of the bonds issued for the purpose of forming the water district.

The county or the taxpayers cannot lose in this agreement. However, it is the sincere hope of the majority of the population of Boone County that this project will be successful as it will give an unlimited water supply to a large portion of the county as well as increased fire protection to many of the small towns that do not have such supply at present.

This is definitely another step forward for Boone County and its people and will certainly place the county in a position to be the most desired places in this section of the state in which to live and own property.

They find Boone County people well versed in the history of this battle against this cancer "monster" and are glad to contribute freely in helping modern science combat an enemy that shows no mercy to any living person. Boone Fiscal Court Approves Plans For New School Building Construction Plans Will Be Pushed, According To Reports.

The Boone Fiscal Court in regular session Tuesday, April 8, 1951, approved the plans and specifications for the construction of the proposed new high school building at Florence, subject to final approval of the Kentucky Department of Education.

This means that the fiscal court has given the green light for the new school and if the State Department of Education approves these plans promptly, it is possible that construction could be started this year.

There are several things yet to be considered after the final approval has been obtained. The cost of construction and designing may be prohibitive and in this case the Board of Education would not proceed with the building until such time as they would deem it advisable to let the bids and start construction.

Under present conditions, it is not possible to give any definite date as to when construction work will begin, but every effort is being made to start work as soon as possible it was reported.

Improvements Will Be Halted At Local Airport, Is Word

Subcommittee Plans Investigation In Near Future

The Herbert subcommittee of House Armed Services Committee directed Thursday that a letter be written to Thomas K. Finletter, Air Force Secretary, calling on him to hold up any expenditures for installations at Greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone County until the committee was heard from.

Hearings on the Greater Cincinnati project were expected in the near future. Public hearings may be held it was indicated.

The committee's action came after Rep. Charles H. Elston (R., Cincinnati), a member of the committee, renewed his protest that the spending at $2,207,000 on the Reserve Training Center at the Boone County field was wasteful.

Elston had suggested that the Clinton County Air Force Base at Wilmington, Ohio should continue to be used for reserve activities until the proposed Blue Ash Airport is built northeast of Cincinnati.

The center is first announced for the local airport, and the money for construction provided, then the Air Force moved the operation to Clinton County Airbase, Wilmington, Ohio.

Rep. Brent Spence of Fort Thomas charged that Ohioans were under taking to "steal" the airport, and took his case to President Truman himself, and the Training Center was ordered back to Boone County.

Eleven youths, four girls and seven boys were held for action of the April session of Boone County grand jury, after being arraigned before Judge C. L. Cropper on charges of gasoline and automobile accessory thefts in Boone and Kenton Counties during the past 12 months. Two other youths who were questioned were released due to insufficient evidence.

Sheriff Wendell H. Easton and his deputies, aided by State Troopers have been working on the case for several months. It was reported, Sheriff Easton praised the work of a Deputy, Robert Moore, who captured one of the youths after an 80-mile chase over U. S. 25. The arrest of this youth was believed to have led to the arrest of other members of the gang.

Officers taking part in the roundup were Sheriff Wendell Easton, Deputies Byron Kinman, and Robert Moore, State Troopers Gordon and Appleman, and Elsmere and Erlanger police. All officers deserve much praise for the splendid work done in breaking up the gang.

Sheriff Easton and Deputy Byron Kinman were busy Monday rounding up members of the group for questioning.

Most members of the band reside in Elsmere and Erlanger, a few in Covington and two from Boone County.

The girls were released on appearance bonds provided by their parents. Members of the band admitted stealing gasoline from the premises of R. B. Taylor, of Florence, gasoline from Burlington and New Haven schools and stealing tires from several vehicles.

When questioned by County Attorney Wm. P. McEvoy and Sheriff Easton, the boys admitted that they sleep all day and were out all night. Most of the group possessed cars and used many of the pilfered items on the town cars.

Most of the youths arraigned before Judge Cropper ranged in age from 17 to 20 years. Most of the boys showed a degree of coolness when questioned by the Sheriff and County Attorney.

GERMS can't hang around when you give them the "HOT-BATH" treatment

that's why every home needs an Electric Water Heater and DISHWASHER

It's a real investment in family health protection when your home is equipped with an automatic electric water heater of adequate size to provide constant HOT water for cleaning, laundry work, baths, and dishwashing.

Dishwashing! Now there's a tiresome job, but such an important one! To insure hygienically clean dishes and silver for every meal, let an automatic electric dishwasher take over the job for you, using scalding hot water—water hotter than hands can stand! These electric appliances cost very little to operate, too, and did you know there is a special low electric rate for water heating?

Visit your appliance dealer SOON, and let him help you select an electric water heater big enough for your family's needs, and a dishwasher to relieve you of that tiresome daily task.

SAVING

Every day we see the wisdom of saving. One man is able to pick up a bargain in a home or a farm because he has saved a part of his earnings over several years, while another man has spent his earnings and is unable to take advantage of a bargain price because of no savings with which to buy.

This bank offers you every inducement to save and will help you finance a purchase of property with proper down payment. Your credit rating is judged by your ability and willingness to save. Many wealthy men of today started years ago without a dollar.

SOCIAL SECURITY HEAD WILL VISIT ERLANGER

Edward J. Bolte, field representative of the Covington Social Security office, will be at the Post Office in Erlanger from 10:00 to 11:00 a. m., Thursday, April 17. He will receive applications for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits as well as receive applications for Social Security Account Numbers.

With school vacations just around the corner, Mr. Bolte advises that boys and girls planning to work this summer should apply now for a Social Security Account Number Card. It takes 10 days to two weeks to obtain an account number in some cases, so your application should be made promptly. If you are unable to see the Field Representative it is suggested that you get an application blank from your local postmaster, and mail your application to the Social Security office, New Post Office Building, 7th and Scott Streets, Covington, Ky. This office services the area of Northern Kentucky, which includes the following counties: Boone, Bracken, Campbell, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant, Kenton and Pendleton.

Don't Suffer
With Your Feet

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Standing and sitting erect require less muscular effort than the slumped posture for the normal, healthy person. With the body in an erect attitude the center of gravity passes more nearly through the center of the body and places the weight on bones and ligaments that are by nature equipped to meet this demand. The shoulders droop, the spine curves and the abdomen bulges; then muscles must taken on more and more of this burden of weight bearing a burden for fatigue and later actual deformity of certain of the bones and joints.

The first necessity in good posture is good feet. Show me a person with good posture and bad feet. It's almost impossible.

Don't suffer another day with your feet.

No matter how many shoes or trial supports you have tried, try just one more and have one of our foot comfort specialists make a free foot analysis and show you how to get rid of all foot pains, leg pains, backaches and headaches. Even arthritis and rheumatism pains vanished. We know we can help you to stand up straight.—Adv.

NEW FRONT-MOUNTED MOWER
for the Model CA Tractor

The new CA mower mounts in front of the tractor drive wheels. You can watch it constantly without tiresome turning around. Turn corners easily. Mow right up to fences and ditches. Hydraulic control lifts, lowers and controls cutter bar height. Twin V-belts transfer smooth, shock-resistant power flow from the tractor to the mower drive shaft.

Quick hitch plus solid anchoring to tractor gives fast, clean mowing. And the tractor drawbar is always free for raking, baling or other work without removing the mower.

Here is the latest in mower engineering to match Allis-Chalmers CA power and speed. Write or stop in for full details.

Especially do we wish to thank Revs. Marion Beaver, Otto Pierson and H. B. Holland for their consoling words and prayers; Dr. S. B. Nunnally for his never failing attendance; Mrs. Edgar Snyder, Mrs. Marion Beaver for the lovely songs; Mrs. Patricia Hogan for the beautiful flowers; those sending cards of sympathy and every deed of kindness; Chambers and Grubbs for the efficient manner in which the funeral arrangements were conducted.

May God bless and keep each and everyone in our prayer.

Heavy Docket Is Reported For April Session Circuit Court

Twelve Commonwealth Cases On Docket; Grand Jury Still In Session.

The April term of Boone Circuit Court was commenced at Burlington Monday morning at 9:00 a. m., with Judge Ward Yager, presiding. Rev. R. A. Johnson, was called upon by Judge Yager to pronounce the invocation.

The April session will probably be one of the longest sessions in years, due to heavy docket. R. S. Hensley, Circuit Court Clerk, reported that there were twelve Commonwealth cases now on the docket, and there probably will be more following report of the grand jury which was still in session Wednesday morning as we go to press.

Aubrey Beach, indicted on a charge of murder and armed robbery, will probably be arraigned for trial at this session. He was indicted by the August term of Boone Circuit Court 1951 after the death of Melvin Townsend, Union filling station operator who was fatally wounded in attempted hold-up. Andrew Doyle, sentenced to life imprisonment on a similar indictment has been returned to Boone County as a Commonwealth witness. Doyle is serving his sentence at Eddyville penitentiary.

Beach, who was under sentence of a year in the LaGrange reformatory on a charge of stealing a tractor or from a Verona farm, was freed on bond at the time of the hold-up and fatal shooting of Mr. Townsend at Union. Beach was apprehended by federal authorities on March 10 near Biloxi, Miss., and returned to Boone County for trial. He had been living in a fishing camp for several months.

No report has been given by the grand jury which has been in session since Monday. No report will be made until their labors have been completed.

Fined $100 and Costs

Robert Wilkins, proprietor of the Red Arrow Inn, U. S. 25, south of Florence was fined $100 and costs by Judge Ward Yager, Monday, after he pleaded guilty of the charge of selling beer after 12 o'clock midnight.

Wilkins was indicted during the 1951 term of the court.

The following is a list of jurors selected to serve during the April session:

Grand Jury

Grant Maddox, Everett Jones, Ben Boltman, Albert Parker, J. J. Stahl, Frank Kaelin, Earl Robinson, Sam Roberts, Ross Scott, Charles Steers, W. R. Tanner, Raymond Webb and Les Ryle.

Mrs. Edith Rouse

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday for Mrs. Edith Kendall Rouse, 80, at the residence in Walton, with Rev. George Hoffmann, pastor of Walton Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Burlington Cemetery.

Mrs. Rouse, who died early Monday of a heart attack at her home, was a member of the Walton Methodist Church. She was a lifelong resident of Boone County.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Zayda Clare, Walton, and a brother, Clem Kendall, Ludlow. Chambers and Grubbs, Walton funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

This service will be in charge of young people, who will lead in all the services, and will teach all Sunday School classes on Sunday, April 27th.

In commenting on the coming services, Rev. Johnson said, "We know of no greater need than to enlist young people in the better things of life, which are found in the service of the Lord. We are asking all parents to support this effort by your presence and by asking those of your family to do likewise."

A special invitation is extended to everyone to join in the first service beginning Sunday evening, April 20th.

Boone Airport Facilities Given Safety Approval

By Gen. Doolittle Airport Committee; Noise Abatement No Problem.

Safety factors and facilities of the Greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone County were given approval by a subcommittee of the Gen. Doolittle Airport Commission. It was announced last week.

Not a single objection was made by the subcommittee which made a recent inspection of the airport, according to Robert Isenberg, airport manager.

All obstructions, with the exception of a power line approximately four miles northeast of the field, are properly lighted, the report said. The power line does not affect the glide angle to any of the runways at the local airport.

The report said, control tower equipment is adequate and points out that the airport management has been most cooperative in providing all space needed.

Standard high intensity lighting is to be installed on the approach light lane in the future, it was announced. The report says no problems have arisen as a result of parked aircraft or vehicles.

Noise abatement is no problem at the airport and all local regulations in effect have been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and all regulations have recently been reworked and brought up to date.

Future Farmers Receive Certificates

Appeal Made To Local Citizens For Blood Donations

Unit Will Visit Boone County Wednesday, April 30th.

Another appeal is being made for blood for the Armed Forces for the Bloodmobile visit at Burlington April 30th, from 1:00 until 7:00 p. m. The majority of donors for this visit will come from the Burlington, Petersburg, Bellevue and East End and all communities and roads leading into Burlington.

Residents from all sections of the county are encouraged to participate at this time as a blood plasma crisis is launching the nation on its biggest blood donor drive since World War II. The armed forces have used their plasma reserve.

Medical need for blood is growing as some wounded servicemen need as many as 10 to 20 pints to save their lives, and much blood is needed in this country for veterans' hospitals where operations are being done each day to repair some type of wounds suffered by the servicemen and veterans in combat. A pint of blood is certainly not too much to give to save these lives.

Defense leaders say that if blood is not given by American citizens it could mean many lives lost. They are calling on the public to do something about it quickly.

While much blood is needed in Korea and veterans' hospitals, much more could be needed, and suddenly. Military leaders are concerned not merely about Korea, but even more about a new and bigger war. The armed forces could need every drop of a 2.8 million pint reserve in an atom war, even more.

One thing to remember is that this blood is turned over to the Department of Defense as soon as it is collected for their distribution to all parts of the world where it is needed for military uses. In no instance does Red Cross retain possession of any part of the blood taken. Red Cross is simply the agency appointed by the United States government to take the blood as Red Cross is so well organized and has a chapter in every county of the United States. Red Cross is the only civilian organization recognized by the United States Government, to act in cooperation with the government.

The blood donor chairman for the Burlington visit is Mrs. William Rudicill and the service group chairman in charge of volunteer workers who will serve lunch, act as hostesses and office clerks, etc., is Mrs. M. A. Yelton. Both ladies and their workers are doing a splendid job.

The Bloodmobile visit will be at the Burlington School. Those who have given before are very special persons, you belong to the "Repeaters Club," you know that to have given a pint of blood to help save a life has given you a grand and glorious feeling. Tell your friends and neighbors that giving a pint of blood takes less than an hour of their time, that a blood donation is under expert medical supervision, that donors are served light refreshments in the canteen after the donation, that their blood may help to save a life.

Those who have never given blood should speak to Albert Weaver and Wilton Stephens of Burlington, who have both given many times. They will tell you the entire procedure. These men are modest and will not tell you how many times they have contributed, but each of them have given many times over a period of years—so many times, perhaps, they have lost count of the number.

If you have given before, please give again, and if you have never given, start this visit there is always a first time.

For appointment call Mrs. William Rudicill at Burlington.

Anyone giving blood between now and May 2 will receive two tickets for the Eddie Cantor show coming to Cincinnati Music Hall, May 2 at 8:00 p. m. These tickets will be given to donors at the Bloodmobile in Burlington and will not be transferable.

Seventh District Of Kentucky CWF To Meet April 25th

Eleven Meetings Are Scheduled Throughout State.

"Christianity and the World Crisis" is the theme of the Conference of the Seventh District of Kentucky Christian Women's Fellowship. The conference will be held at the Florence Christian Church, Florence, Ky., on Friday, April 25, beginning at 1:00 a. m. and ending at 3:00 p. m.

There will be eleven such meetings in the State. They are planned and conducted by the State office of the Christian Women's Fellowship of Kentucky. This is the women's organization of the Christian Churches, the Disciples of Christ, Mrs. R. M. Watt of Lexington is the president of the State Board.

The purpose of the meetings is the development of the program in Kentucky and to provide funds for Jamaican relief. Mrs. Watt says "There are so many critical needs, but we have chosen as the special object of our offerings in these meetings, the great emergency need of our Christian people in Jamaica. In addition to personal losses of home, clothing and all possessions, practically every church building and church-owned enterprise in Jamaica has been wiped out by the hurricane that swept the island. So we beg of you a very generous offering, given in the spirit of prayer that it may bless and rebuild the Christian program of our women as sponsoring, as our answer to the world crisis."

Any Taxpayer May Visit Commissioner's Office To Check Assessment.

Every taxpayer in Boone County will have an opportunity to inspect the tax assessment roll for this year, Wilton E. Stephens, Boone County Tax Commissioner, announced yesterday.

As provided by Kentucky law, the property tax roll will be open for inspection from April 15 to May 1. Mr. Stephens said that any taxpayer may visit his office and check his own assessment.

"I strongly urge every taxpayer who possibly can to take advantage of the inspection period," said Mr. Stephens. "This is the only way to be sure the assessment is correct. There is so much property being transferred and subdivided, new buildings being constructed, automobiles being bought and sold, that it is most difficult to complete a correct assessment at the present time."

Mr. Stephens said that anyone who feels his assessment is out of line may appeal to the board of supervisors. The appeal must be filed in writing with C. D. Benson, County Clerk, before May 1. Appeal for a review may also be made by the tax commissioner, Department of Revenue, county judge, chief finance officer of any city using the county assessment, or the superintendent of any school district in which the property is located. The board of supervisors may raise or lower individual assessments on which appeals have been made in order to equalize them, he added.

The Boone County Board of Tax Supervisors, appointed by County Judge Carroll L. Cropper, is composed of the following: Hubert Conner, Hebron, first magisterial district; Lloyd Aylor, Florence, second magisterial district, and Hugh Stephens, Carlton, third magisterial district. The board will convene in the Tax Commissioner's office on Monday, May 5.

Mr. Stephens, in urging taxpayers to take advantage of the inspection period for their own benefit, emphasized that this is a matter in which they could best safeguard their own interests.

Local Boys Will Make Up Team, According To Manager Eades.

Bob and Gene's baseball squad, 1952 N. K. A. G. champion will sponsor tryouts at the Florence park on Sunday April 20th, according to Robert Eades, manager.

Mr. Eades stated that the team will be made up mostly of Boone County youth, and that the tryouts will determine those who will make the team for this year.

The team will be headed by numerous former stars such as "Son" Benson, who had a batting average of .457 for the season; Gene Busman and Jim Bunning, who will divide pitching honors and many other local stars.

All young baseball players who desire to play with the 1951 champs are requested to be at the ball park by 1:00 p. m. Sunday, Mr. Eades stated.

The local nine will open the season Sunday, April 27th when they play Grants Lick at the Grants Lick Park.

Knothole Meeting Set

A meeting of Knothole managers of Boone County is scheduled for Thursday, April 17th at 7:30 p. m. at Bob & Gene's, Florence, it was announced this week. All managers and persons interested in the Knothole League are urged to be present.

The Cancer Crusade wind-up for Boone County will feature an "Old Time Barn Dance Show" at the Walton-Verona gymnasium beginning at 8:00 p. m., Tuesday, April 22.

This will be the first time many of the Radio and TV stars appearing on this program have ever appeared in person at Walton. However, they are well known and have many listeners in this part of the country. WLW broadcasting station will be well represented by Charley Gore and The Rangers, Vic Bellamy the ballad singing MC, and Zeke and Red Turner, who are full of fun and keep things popping on the Hay Ride Show. WNOP will be represented by Jimmie Skinner and Ray Lunsford also Rome Johnson and the Melody Trail Blazers.

Boone County has the honor of presenting for the home folks their own State Champion Square Dance Team that bested everything that Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky could produce at the State Fair last year. Featured on this team are five sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Caldwell, Walton, Ky. Under the direction of Clarence Fields these Dancing Boone Countians with their able partners have become known far and wide. All of this and other local talent will help provide one of the best shows to appear in Walton for some time.

Only through the cooperation of local business men could this type of show be presented here for the small admission price of 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children 21 years and under. The proceeds will go into the Cancer Crusade Fund for Boone County.

In addition to getting your money's worth for a full evening's entertainment, you have the satisfaction of knowing that you are also helping in this nationwide drive to help rid our country of the dread Cancer plague. Don't forget the date, and tell your friends—Tuesday night, April 22. Plenty of seating space.

New Employee Named By Peoples Deposit Bank

Mrs. Mary Lou Loomis has accepted a clerical position with the Peoples Deposit Bank, beginning Monday of this week. Mrs. Loomis is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson and the late Lou Williamson. She graduated from Burlington High School in 1948 with the second highest grades in her class and married Donn Allan Loomis in that same year. Mrs. Loomis was formerly employed at the Mabley & Carey Company, Cincinnati.

The business of the bank required an additional employee since Miss Nell Martin retired on account of her health.

The bank recently installed the latest model Burroughs bookkeeping machine which does the posting of depositors' accounts in about half the time required by old machines. The old machines had been in use 25 years and are being retained for statement work.

The bank also sold one of their old adding machines and purchased a new model electric adder.

The bank officials are considering the installation of a Recordak Microfilm which takes the picture of checks and other items on a film instead of typing the record of these items as is now being done. This machine saves much time as well as storage space in the burglar-proof vault.

In these days, with federal regulations of working hours of bank employees, it is necessary for banks to install labor saving devices in order to complete the bank work within the time prescribed by the Wage and Hour Law.

Quarantine Lifted On Hauling Animals From Other States

Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky Board of Agriculture revoked its quarantine on the import of livestock from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan where anthrax outbreaks are reported.

But the Board placed heavy responsibility on dealers who import hogs, cattle and mules from those states. It declared them liable for livestock losses due to anthrax, either through contagion or from animal feedstuffs brought from those states.

The Board announced the quarantine would be invoked again if the provisions of the order are violated. Anthrax has not been detected in Kentucky cattle at present.

D. A. R. Meeting Held At Home of Mrs. Brothers

On Thursday evening the Boone County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met at the home of Mrs. John Proctor Brothers with her daughter Mrs. Joseph B. Wolfe as co-hostess. Mrs. Brothers' home is the apartment over the historic store at Limburg which Mr. Brothers has operated for many years and which was built for this purpose some 72 years ago.

Mr. Brothers is to be congratulated in that he has made few changes in the store as it has always been, with, of course, the addition of modern electrical appliances as needed. One is apt to pause and ponder as to how many Boone County problems has been discussed and settled in the many years that this store has been an institution at the crossroads of the Hebron and Burlington Pikes, and how many long since dead Boone County citizens of note have been within its walls.

Mrs. Wolfe, on her paternal line is a direct descendant of Isaac Trimble, a soldier in Captain Kirk's militia at Rockbridge County, Virginia, during the Revolutionary War.

The tea table was beautifully decorated in the Easter theme with narcissus and daffodils in a low bowl in the center with low glass candlesticks holding white tapers. Small sandwiches with gelatin salad were served, together with flower sprigged foil wrapped Easter candies.

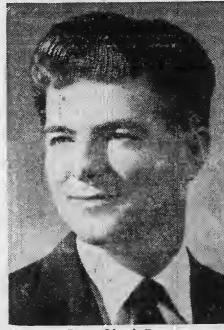

Mrs. Roy C. Nestor, Regent, poured coffee from the silver service and tea from an attractive Ironstone teapot.

The guests enjoyed viewing the many lovely antique pieces of old glass, china, and furniture of Mrs. Brothers.

The Regent, Mrs. Roy C. Nestor presided at the business meeting before the tea and discussed D. A. R. procedure and obligations. The meeting was opened with the club collect followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. The American's creed and pledge to the flag were repeated. All meetings of this organization will be opened in this manner, as God and country are its two main objectives.

Those members present were Mesdames Roy C. Nestor, John Lewis Feagan, Charles Goodridge, Davis Gaines, Clifford Coyle, Clyde Arnold, Dean Caton, George Baker, Louis Braun, Miss Margaret Goodridge and the hostesses Mrs. Brothers and Mrs. Wolfe. Guests were Mrs. Ruth Tupman and Mrs. Rufus Tanner.

The tables below are based on information furnished by the National Manufacturers Association. The extremely low utilization efficiency ratio for water heaters of 1.22 to 1 is used although 1.7 to 1 or 1.9 to 1 might have been just as logical from the standpoint of actual practice. Cooking requirements are conservatively estimated at 115 KWH which is somewhat higher than the national average. .094 cents per pound for Liquid Petroleum Gas (bottle gas) and 45 lbs. per month is estimated consumption for cooking in an active farm family.

(* Local rates seem to be lower than national figures for gas.)

MY OLD SHOE!

How I love my "old shoe,"
And it's my old friend
Who gave me comfort, too,
Till its very end.

Shall I throw my old friend away
Or change "him" for a new friend?
I have seen it, but yesterday,
A hole in the sole to be amend.

I have a shoe that has "ears," a "sole," a "tongue."
And "eyes" but couldn't see or talk,

Mrs. Jack Ervin, acting executive secretary of the C. W. F. State office will attend.

The women of the Florence Church will serve luncheon. Reservations are to be sent to Mrs. Harold Conner, 314 Dixie Highway, Florence, Ky., so that she receives them by Monday, April 21.

D. degree from the College of the Bible in Lexington in 1918, and in 1926 received another B. D. degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York City. He was granted the M. A. degree in 1935 by Columbia University in New York, and Transylvania conferred the honorary D. D. degree upon him in 1948.

Garden Club Meeting Held At Florence

Mrs. Nell Markland expressed her love for lilies and talked of their care at the April meeting of the Boone County Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Sam Denham, Jr., Dixie Highway, Florence.

Lilies, Mrs. Markland told the group, are easy to grow. They like a rich loose soil, well drained. Dig deep when planting lilies 12 inches or more and plant 3 to 6 inches below surface. They do very well on south side of house. Best to transplant in the fall and protect during winter months. Few plants respond to care as the lily.

Never regret the time you spend with your flowers, Mrs. Markland said and also told of the joy of sharing your flowers with others. She very generously gave each member present a Madonna Lily from her garden.

The president, Mrs. Sam Denham, Jr., announced the six annual session of the Blue Grass Region, Garden Clubs of Ky. will be held at Danville April 29th. She would like as many members as possible to attend. Reservations must be made. Call Mrs. Sam Denham, Jr. by the 19 or 20th.

The hostess Mrs. Sam Denham, Jr. and co-hostess, Mrs. Ralph Cook served refreshments to the following: Mesdames Nell Markland, Sam Denham, Sr., Harold Conner, R. C. Garrison, Ruby Hollis, C. Goodridge, E. E. Abbott, Grant Maddox, R. H. Carter, W. Fullerton, Wm. Fitzgerald, Frances Dempsey, Paul Chaney, W. L. Oliver, Wm. Wesler, Roy Lutes, T. Hensley and C. F. Blankenbaker.

Mrs. Charles Goodridge won an Agertum plant.

Prior to opening his studio, Mr. Siem appeared on the R. K. O. Keith circuit with Ray Bolger, Larry Odier and as a dance partner of Hal Roxy.

It Pays To Improve Existing Pastures

Do you plan to top dress your pastures this spring? One hundred pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre on grass pasture will produce as much as 2000 pounds of extra forage per acre. Bob Sharp, farm manager of Dr. Garber's farm located at Bullittsville Church, plans to do this to 4 acres of pasture. This is an excellent practice on grass pasture alone, but if legumes are present, grass will crowd out the legumes unless there is enough livestock present to keep it grazed down.

Horse, hog, sheep and poultry manure can be liberally applied to pastures without reducing palatability of grasses and legumes to dairy cows, but these same cows will avoid grass that has been treated with cattle manure. This is an excellent way to rotate grazing on a given pasture field, cover the thin, eroded and bare spots with cattle manure. This will keep the cattle off until grass has become established and makes good ground cover.

Charles Colcord of Verona fortifies stable manure with superphosphate. This may be done by scattering 20% superphosphate in your loafing barn or applying it to the manure is hauled out to spread. Tons of stable manure handled this way is easily equal to 1 ton of high analysis mixed fertilizer.

Mr. Rouse, farm manager of Vesp-per Farm at Limburg is planning to bush and hog harrow approximately 20 acres of land for pasture establishment this spring. At the same time brush will be removed and hollows filled. A pasture mixture of orchard grass and ladino clover will be used. He plans to lime and fertilize adequately. He is also treating some of his pasture with Ammonium Nitrate as top dress.

A good pasture program does not just happen, it is planned. Build yours with a complete "Soil and Water Conservation Farm Plan."

Bloodmobile Will Visit Burlington Wednesday, April 30th; Goal Is Set At 100 Pints For Community

Need Is Growing For Blood Plasma By All Branches Of Armed Forces; Blood Is Turned Over To Department Of Defense.

Boone County citizens are being asked to contribute a pint of their blood Wednesday, April 30th when the Bloodmobile will visit Burlington from 1:00 until 7:00 p. m., according to Mrs. Wm. Rudiell, local chairman.

The goal for Burlington and surrounding communities including Petersburg, Bellevue and East Bend has been set at 100 pints. In order to have 100 contributors it will be necessary to have 150 persons signed-up, due to the number of rejections, Mrs. Rudiell stated.

Residents from all sections of the county are urged to participate in this collection, as blood plasma is needed through the world by our armed forces. Reports indicate that the plasma reserve has been exhausted.

Military leaders are not only concerned about the need of blood in Korea, but even more about a new and bigger war. Defense leaders say that if blood is not given by American citizens it could mean many lives lost. Boone County residents are urged to join in this drive and help to increase the plasma reserve.

Workers have been busy during the past few weeks soliciting residents through this locality. It has been impossible to see everyone, Mrs. Rudiell said, but anyone desiring to join the drive should call Mrs. Rudiell at Burlington. She will appreciate your cooperation in this matter.

Anyone giving blood Wednesday, April 30th at the school building will be given two tickets for the Eddie Cantor show coming to Cincinnati Music Hall, May 2 at 8:00 p. m.

Diet Instruction
The following diet instructions should be followed prior to donating blood:

1. Eat a regular meal at least four hours or more before giving blood.
2. Avoid eating the following during the 4-hour period before donating—Fats, cream, butter, mayonnaise, ice cream, fatty meats, fried foods and eggs.
3. The following foods may be taken during the 4-hour period before donating: Fruit, fruit juices, bread, crackers, dry toast, raw vegetables, or vegetables boiled in plain water, jam, jelly, or honey, skimmed milk, black coffee or tea with sugar.

Canteen workers are under the direction of Mrs. M. A. Yelton and Mrs. R. A. Johnson. Donors will be served refreshments in the school auditorium, it was reported.

Cancer Crusade Workers Reporting Progress In County

County Chairman Urges Cooperation of Citizens Throughout County.

The Cancer Crusade in Boone County is progressing nicely, it was reported this week by Mrs. W. D. Scroggins, County Chairman.

Plans for the 1952 campaign were outlined at a tea in the home of Mrs. Scroggins, March 26th at which time the goal for Boone County was announced as $1500. The opening date was set for April 1st and closing time April 30th.

Mrs. Scroggins reports that much progress has been made in the current drive, with precinct chairmen handing in very good reports. She stated however, that many persons in the county have not been contacted by workers, but urged them to send their donation to either their precinct worker or direct to the County chairman at Verona, Ky.

Workers in several communities have not completed their canvases, but expect to cover their respective fields this week. Citizens are urged to cooperate with their local precinct workers and help by contributing to this worthy cause.

Mrs. Scroggins stated that a report of the Crusade will be given as soon as final figures are compiled. She expects the fund to be materially swelled by the Jamboree held at Walton last Tuesday night. Receipts of the entertainment were not available as we go to press Wednesday morning.

Cancer Clinic Is Conducted At Booth Memorial Hospital

Clinics Held Three Days Each Month, According To Report.

The Kentucky Branch of the American Cancer Society conducts sixteen clinics for indigent people with cancer. One of these is known as the Northern Kentucky Cancer Clinic and is held at Booth Hospital in Covington. Clinics are held on the first, second and third Thursdays of each month. New cases should be at Booth Hospital by 9:00 a. m. on the first Thursday of each month. Gynecological and breast cancer cases come for repeat visits on the second Thursday morning of each month. Skin, throat, and other cancer patients come on the third Thursday morning of each month. However, exceptions are always made with urgent cases and they may be seen any of the first three Thursdays of each month. The doctor attending the case at home or the county health officer should send along with the patient, a statement that the patient is medically indigent.

Every patient is given a general examination and is also seen by a specialist. If surgery, X-ray therapy or radium therapy is indicated, this is arranged for at Booth Hospital, free of charge to the patient. The Kentucky Branch of the American Cancer Society pays part of this expense and Booth Hospital pays the remainder of the expense. The Cancer Society states that only those patients who can be helped towards a cure can be admitted to the hospital.

Gifts toward the present finance campaign of the Kentucky Branch of the American Cancer Society are used in three ways: To aid in research in the cause and treatment of cancer; in educating the public to know the signs of early cancer and to come to a doctor in the early stages, and in the medical care of the medically indigent who are suffering with cancer. The Northern Kentucky cancer clinic now has over six hundred on its rolls.

Andrew Doyle, who was indicted on a similar charge, is now serving a life sentence at Edwsville Reformatory. He has been returned to Boone County as a Commonwealth witness in Beach's trial.

Beach was arrested by federal authorities near Biloxi, Miss., March 10th after being at large since the fatal shooting and hold-up of the Boone County filling station. He was returned to Boone County by Sheriff Wendell Easton.

Local Soil Testing Laboratory Now In Full Operation

Applications of Fertilizers Reduced In Some Cases, Says County Agent.

The Boone County Soil Testing Laboratory is in full operation and has tested 54 samples for 23 farmers since opening March 27, according to Bill Davis, County Agent.

Most of the samples tested have been for tobacco crops. Samples for alfalfa seedlings and pasture seedlings were next in order. While tobacco, alfalfa and pastures respond well to fertilizers it should be remembered that almost all crops including corn, truck crops, small fruits and tree fruits, and all hay crops will show increases in yield and quality from the proper use of fertilizers.

Since corn is grown on a large acreage basis farmers hesitate to apply fertilizers in large amounts. Applications and increased yields mean more profit. By testing the soil a farmer can determine how much fertilizer to apply for best yields and maximum profits.

In some cases of samples tested in the laboratory the application of fertilizers has been reduced under the application of previous years because tests show the soil to be very high in available plant foods. This has resulted in savings in fertilizer costs to the farmer.

Anyone in Boone County may have soil tested in the laboratory. Samples should be brought to the County Agent's office. A charge of 70¢ per sample will be made to pay the fee of the technician for the testing.

Amount of Wages Should Be Correctly Reported To FSA

Statement of Wages Will Be Sent To Worker, If Requested.

A wage earner who is employed under Social Security should make sure that the correct amount of his wages up to ($3600) a year has been reported to the Social Security Administration. He may do this by securing a post card form from the Social Security office at 7th and Scott Streets, Covington. The telephone number is Hemlock 5274. On this post card the worker writes his name, address, date of birth and social security number. This card is already addressed to the Accounting office at Baltimore, Maryland. The only cost is the 2c stamp which the wage earner must place on the card.

The Social Security Administration will send the worker a statement of all the wages posted to his credit. If the account is correct no further action is necessary. If it is not correct, or he cannot understand it, the worker should take it to the office at 7th and Scott Sts.,

Covington or discuss it with a Field Representative when he makes his monthly visit to a nearby town. The worker will receive an explanation of the figures, and if there is an error, steps will be taken to correct it.

It is especially important for newly insured workers such as regularly employed farm workers and regularly employed household workers to check their wage records. It will show whether their employers are making the tax returns they should and whether they are accurately stating the names, social security numbers and wages of their workers.

On the wages posted to the worker's account will depend whether he will receive a monthly benefit when he retires, whether his survivors will be paid, and in either case, how much the benefits will be. It is therefore most important, said Mr. Bolte, field representative of the Social Security Administration's office for this area, that the Social Security tax record be correct.

Self-employed people should also check on their wage records but as they did not file returns until the beginning of this year, they should wait at least until October 1st before asking for a statement.

TESTING SOIL CUTS FERTILIZER COSTS

Anderson county farmers are realizing the value of having their soil tested and buying fertilizer to fit their needs, says Layman Miller, county agent with the University of Kentucky. As a result, they often save money and can expect better crops.

He cites the case of Leon Drury, who last year spent $200 for fertilizer on his tobacco. This year he had his soil tested and found that he could save $87.50 in fertilizer. Many similar examples could be given, said Mr. Miller.

World Edging Into Debt Age, According To Research Ass'n.

Wasteful, Extravagant And Foolish Spending Should Be Eliminated.

Louisville, Ky., April 13—"The world—and this nation—has successively passed through the Iron Age, the Steel Age, is moving into the Age of the Atom—simultaneously, it is edging into the Debt Age, one that may last for hundreds of years," Donald F. Nemitz, Secretary of the Kentucky Tax Research Association said today.

For fiscal 1953 alone, Kentucky's share of the Federal deficit will amount to $165.3 million, said Nemitz.

"The magnitude of the debt of the United States, (now approaching $200 billion), is but dimly realized by the average citizen and taxpayer today," said Nemitz. "One way it can be visualized is to calculate how many years it would take the residents of Frankfort, Kentucky to pay off this debt."

Nemitz explained that if all the income realized by the people in Frankfort were to be applied solely to repaying the huge Federal debt, it would take 25,326 years.

Nemitz pointed out that $14 billion of deficits is scheduled to be added to meet greater Federal spending demands for fiscal 1953. He added: "There is only one way to make certain that you and I, our children, grandchildren and great grandchildren—and their heirs—are not to be interminably saddled with this gargantuan debt. That is to begin now—in 1952—to reduce Federal spending; to cut our spending cloth to our revenue pattern."

"It can be done," Nemitz said, "if you and I demand that wasteful, foolish expenditures, unnecessary, extravagant expenditures be eliminated. Not next year or the year after that, but now. The Federal budget must be balanced—without any additional tax increase, if we are not to pile up greater deficits and perpetuate this back-breaking load."

Illustrating the extent of Federal spending, Nemitz said that if a man spent $119,973 a day from the birth of Christ to July 1, 1952, his spending would just equal the Federal budget expenditures proposed for fiscal 1953. In that year, he said, the government proposes to spend $550 for every person in the country and since that means an expected deficit of $14.4 billion, the government will be "going into the red" by $93 for every American.

Nemitz cited a recent letter by President Truman to a Washington newspaper expressing fear that the dome of the national capitol might eventually topple, crushing the legislative halls beneath.

"If that happened—and we pray that it doesn't, construction costs being what they are—we would always be able to rebuild," said Nemitz. "But if the 'dome' of Federal spending—and debt—continues to overbalance Federal revenues, there will be a more tragic crash. For our economy, once shattered, can never be rebuilt in our lifetime."

JEFFERSON 4-H GIRL HAS ENVOIUS RECORD

A record of achievement in the farm home and on the farm has been made by Miss Mary Ann Huff, 4-H club member of Jefferson county. In completing 32 projects, she earned 1,862 quarts of food, cooked 139 meals, baked 302 products, redecorated her bedroom, cared for 31 pigs, seven steers, 75 chickens and grew a garden. She has won six trophies, 15 medals and 344 ribbons, said Miss Alice Work, UK associate home demonstration agent.

UNIVERSITY DEVELOPS NEW BARLEY FOR STATE

Every year more farmers are growing barley as a cover following tobacco or for grain production. Those who sowed barley the past fall turned under a heavy green manure crop this spring, or will harvest a good yield of grain next June.

Kenbar is the name of an improved variety of winter barley developed at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Outstanding characteristics are high yield, strong straw, early maturity and resistant to disease. It is recommended for both grain production and as a cover crop.

Farmers interested in growing barley should read a new circular of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics called "Kenbar Winter Barley."

The city of Newport, Ky., was founded by a soldier, Hubbard Taylor, who came north with Kentucky troops to join St. Claire at Ft. Washington.

ELDERLY PERSONS NEED GOOD FOOD

Because more people are living to an older age than a few years ago, there is considerable interest in the kinds of food folks in their 60's and 70's should eat, according to home economists at the University of Kentucky.

Of first importance, they point out, is a sufficient amount of protein, minerals and vitamins to keep the body in good repair and running smoothly. Meat, fish, poultry, cheese, eggs and milk are excellent protein sources. While milk is essential, it does not take the place of meat, say the home economists. Whether one is sitting or actively working, the amount of protein needed is about the same.

Fruits, particularly tomatoes and citrus fruits, and vegetables should be supplied generously for their minerals and vitamins. Vegetables cooked in their jackets are particularly healthful.

Cereals, such as whole wheat, oat meal and wheat germ, are recommended for vitamin B-complex, part of which work for better eyesight.

Taking on weight is an indication that more fats, starches and sugars are being eaten than are necessary for energy and warmth. Rich desserts, pies and cakes are frills to add to the enjoyment of a meal, but they should not take the place of more important foods rich in proteins and minerals.

The home economists recommend checking the day's diet to be sure it includes at least one serving of meat, fish, poultry or eggs; a pint or more of milk used as a beverage or in foods; a total of five fruits and vegetables; whole grain cereals or breads, and butter or margarine. The week's menus should include at least four to five eggs.

It is often desirable for older folk to eat five times a day, rather than the usual three meals, the food experts said. However, the added meals should be healthful foods, such as milk or orange juice, not rich snacks.

FARMERS JOIN IN PLANNING HOSPITAL

The program of Rockcastle county farmers includes cooperating with the Mt. Vernon Chamber of Commerce in promoting a community hospital.

The Agricultural Extension Committee in the county recently voted to add a school and agricultural fair and a county artificial breeding cooperative to the general farm set-up.

Strawberries will be sold through the Cumberland Strawberry Growers Association, which will run a truck from Williamsburg to Cincinnati. Berries will be picked up along the highway in Whitley, Knox, Laurel, Clay, Rockcastle and Jackson counties.

Thirty-two Rockcastle county farmers have enrolled in the Green Pasture program, according to Robert F. Spence, University of Kentucky county agent.

Mrs. A. H. Jones and daughters, Janet and Joyce, spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Tommy Cason, of Bellevue.

Mrs. Bessie Lee Zimmer, of 345 Hyde Park Ave., Tampa, Fla., spent the Easter vacation at her home in Florence. Mrs. Zimmer has been living in Tampa for over a year.

operating Zimmer's Kentucky Colonels Tourist Home in Tampa. Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer left Saturday to return to Tampa. Mrs. Zimmer invites all her friends from Boone County to visit her when in Florida.

Mrs. C. L. Cropper and Mrs. Lee Roy McNeely and daughter Susan, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Robert Gaines and daughter, Mrs. Sue Peeno, at Erlanger, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Finn and daughters Joyce and Frances and Billy McCarty spent Thursday with Mrs. Finn's brother Robert Nixon, wife and son, of Owensboro. There seems to be little if any improvement in Bob's health since his operation as his many friends had hoped. He left Owensboro Friday morning for Dillsboro, Ind., where he will spend the next two or three weeks at the famous health resort. It is hoped by his many Boone County friends that soon he will be better and once again enjoy good health.

Local Standards Still Rank Among Highest In State, Says Supt.

Of Boone County Schools In Commenting On Rule Adopted by State Board.

"Educational standards of Boone County high schools still rank among the finest in the state," H. N. Ockerman, Boone County School Superintendent stated in commenting on the rule adopted Wednesday of last week by the State Board of Education which would require Kentucky high schools to increase enrollments to at least 100 pupils or face the loss of accreditation.

Mr. Ockerman stated the Boone County Board of Education has realized for several years that the educational facilities could be streamlined by construction of a consolidated high schools. Preliminary plans were drawn more than two years ago for such a project, but due to curtailment of structural steel and other critical materials for nonmilitary purposes the board was unable to proceed until just recently.

Plans for the new school building are now before the Kentucky Department of Education for approval and as soon as such approval is received, bids will be advertised for construction. Cost of construction has been estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars. The plans already have been approved by the Boone Fiscal Court.

Pupils now attending Burlington, Hebron, New Haven and Florence High Schools will attend the consolidated school, Mr. Ockerman reported. It is expected that the new building will be completed before the 1954-55 school year.

It is expected that construction work will begin this summer on a new high school for Walton-Verona School District. Plans have been approved and all plans completed for construction of the new building.

Mr. Ockerman emphasized that A and B ratings for Kentucky high schools applied only to attendance, and not to educational standards. He pointed out that graduation from Boone County high schools entitled students to enter any college of recognized standing without entrance examinations, excepting of course, the usual college placement tests.

HERD OWNERS GUIDE USED IN MONTGOMERY

A committee of farmers in Montgomery county has worked out a "herd owners guide" in the form of a self-scoring card. County Agent Floyd McDaniel said the card was based on information supplied by the University of Kentucky. Twenty-eight farmers assisted in making the score sheet.

Fifty-two owners of beef herds in Montgomery county are using "herd stop," the county agent estimated. Twelve farmers recently put mineral feeds to hold salt and bone meal. More cattleman are using calf creepers.

Draws and Waterways Should Be Left In Grass

"You don't lose a thing by leaving natural draws and waterways in grass," so stated Joseph A. Huey, who farms at Union, Ky. I have planted a lot of corn in my life and I don't think a man would make a bushel of corn by tearing up sod in waterways, "another thing," reasoned Mr. Huey; "I believe some people fail by not leaving them wide enough. I determine the width by type of waterway I have to work with, if the draw is steep and narrow, I don't need as wide a one as is necessary for a wide shallow draw." I saw about my corn, and I believe this practice will easily raise my yield as much as 10 to 15% per acre." Mr. Huey also stated that he believes he saves a lot of horsepower by working his land on the level.

Wide sod waterways is also the practice followed by Mr. Earl C. Jones whose farm is located on Eads Road near Verona, Kentucky. Mr. Jones has already started his plowing and his waterways are well defined as wide sod strips.

This practice is especially important when contouring is followed. The contoured rows have a tendency to carry the water to the natural draws and waterways; there the water is heavily concentrated and it will quickly wash all the plowed soil down to the branches and creeks.

Mr. John C. Kannady, of Verona community, and Nelson Jones of Hebron community have requested complete Soil and Water Conservation Farm Plans.

Don't forget, in starting your pasture improvement program get a complete "Soil and Water Conservation Farm Plan;" this enables you to farm your land according to its capabilities and treat it according to its needs.

Of our beloved husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, W. E. Zimmer, who passed away April 26, 1950.

We nursed him with tender care, But still he was called away;
For all of us he did his best, May God grant him eternal rest.

A CHANGE IN BANKING HOURS

In order to comply with Federal regulations relating to the WAGE and HOUR LAW, it becomes necessary to make a change in our banking hours.

Banks of Cincinnati open at 9:30 and close at 2:00 p. m. and close all day on Saturdays. Covington banks open at 9:00 and close at 2:00 p. m. and close at noon on Saturdays the year around. Several banks of Boone County open at 9:00 and close at 3:00 p. m. and close at noon one day a week the year around. Our banking hours have been from 9:00 to 4:00 p. m. six days a week, with the exception of May, June, July and August, when we close at noon on Saturdays, in conformity to the hours observed by our County Offices during these summer months.

Our employees come to work before opening time in order to get their work under way before opening our doors to the public and they remain after closing time to finish the day's work. It has become very difficult to begin balancing the day's work until after closing time.

It is therefore necessary, beginning May 1st, to have banking hours from 9:00 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. daily, six days a week, except during the months of May, June, July and August, when we will close at noon on Saturdays during these summer months. We feel that our customers will cooperate with us, as we will be affording longer banking hours than most banks in which to take care of their banking business.

It must be understood that under Federal regulations a penalty is imposed on the bank if an employee, other than an Executive Officer, is worked more than 40 hours per week.

Boone Co. Pioneers

THEIR DESCENDANTS

Wilhoite or Wilhite

"Clasping Hands with Generations Past," that valuable book of family history about some of Boone County's pioneer settlers, by Mrs. John Uri Lloyd, (Emma Rouse) published shortly before her death in 1932, it is stated that "Florence was laid out in 1820 by Wilhelm Wilhoite (Wilhoite), Heinrich Kreusler (Crisler), and Jacob Kohner (Connor)." Mrs. Lloyd says it was then called Cross Road, later changed to Madden-town, and then to "Connorsville," finally being incorporated as Florence in 1830. Fifty or sixty years ago it was nationally known as "Stringtown on the Pike," from Dr. Lloyd's book of folklore stories, which was a "best seller" of that period.

William Wilhoite was a son of Michael Wilhoite and Elizabeth Crisler, a grandson of Adam and Catherine (Breils-Broyles) Wilhoite, and a great-grandson of Michael Wilhoite, the Virginia immigrant ancestor.

William Wilhoite and Anna Clore were married in Culpeper County, Va., in 1787; in 1800 they were settlers in Boone County, Ky. Their children, some of whom were born in Boone County, were: 1. Sally; 2. Elizabeth; 3. Thomas, m. Parthenia Cordy; 4. Anna, m. John Carpenter; 5. Frances; 6. Allen; 7. Lavina, m. Benjamin White; 8. Eliza, m. James Aylor. Four of these children married in Boone County: Sallie m. John Souther, 1807; Elizabeth m. 1811 Joshua Souther, brother of John; Frances m. James C. Carter, 1826; Allen m. Lucinda Hightower, 1827.

Michael S. Wilhoite, son of David and Mary Souther, m. Margaret

Ann Crum in Jackson County, Ind., in 1857. They became residents of Boone County, and their children married in Boone. 1. Mary Alice m. Wm. Clore; 2 and 3. Sarah Julia and Clara Ada, twins; 2. Sarah J. m. 1882, John N. Hicks, son of Ezekiel and Harriet (Baker) Hicks; 3. Clara Ada m. 1887 Wm. R. Rouse, son of Lewellyn and Lucinda Rouse; 4. Edward M. Wilhoite m. 1887, Della A. Crigler, daughter of Wm. A. and Addie (Potter) Crigler. Michael Wilhoite, above, was a descendant of the immigrant Michael in the line of his son John Wilhoite, who married Margaret Weaver.

Caleb Wilhoite, a brother of William, (son of Michael Adam) married Nancy Aylor in Boone County, 1812; their daughter Sally married Absalom Conner; her brother Milton married, 1843, Harriet Aylor, and their sister Elizabeth married, 1840, John Goodridge. Milton F. Goodridge, son of John and Elizabeth, was a prominent and influential citizen of Oldham County, Ky., sixty years ago.

The name of Michael Wulheight, immigrant ancestor of the Wilhoites, Wilhoites and Wilhoyses, first appears on he records of Spotsylvania County, Va., in 1828; he arrived in Virginia probably in 1718. A tradition in his family says "four Wilhoite brothers came from Germany to Virginia," about that time; whether Michael was one of these brothers or their father, is not clear. Michael patented 289 acres in 1728. Michael and John Wilhoite proved their importation in the Orange County, Va., Court in 1735; they may have been brothers or father and son; Tobias and John Wilhoite, probably sons of Michael, proved their importation in 1743. Michael's will, dated Jan. 1743, was probated in 1746; it mentions wife Mary, daughter Eva," now married to Nicholas Holt," son of Michael Holt colony of 1717; and sons Tobias, John and Adams, and his two youngest sons, not yet of age, Mathias and Phillip, to whom he devises his property of 289 acres. Descendants of Tobias, John and Adams were early settlers in Kentucky in Boone, Jefferson and Woodford counties. They intermarried with the Clores, Yagers, Snyders, Aylor, Carpenters and others of the colony of 1717. Some of them were actively identified with Hebron Lutheran Church, others with the Baptist and the Christian (Campbellite) denominations. One of the earliest Baptist Churches in Northern Kentucky was the church at Harrod's Creek in Oldham County; it was organized by the Rev. Wm. Kellar before there was a church of any denomination in Louisville. William Wilhoite, a son of Tobias, who immigrated to Jefferson county before his cousin, William settled in Boone, gave the land on which Preacher Kellar built his "stone chapel." In the deed from William Wilhoite to the church he stipulated that the land conveyed was to be held "by Baptist Society forever, for their use and theirs only." A few years later the Rev. Ben Allan, pastor Kellar's successor, was converted to the teachings of Alexander Campbell, and led about 90% of the congregation into the Brownsboro Christian Church—but he had to leave the "old stone meeting house" to the Baptists, and they are still holding services in it! —W. C. Barrickman.

TO IMPROVE KITCHEN

Plans for kitchen improvement are being made by homemakers in all parts of Bullitt county as a result of lessons. They had on arrangement of equipment and making these rooms attractive. One of the first to make changes was Mrs. W. F. Masden, who had a water system installed in her kitchen. She was careful to have the kitchen sink and water heater placed as recommended.

Mrs. H. H. Combs of the Hebron Club moved her range to a better location and installed a 36-inch base cabinet by her refrigerator to complete a mixing center. More than 50 homemakers in the county have had portable lap tables made in order to sit while they do many things. University of Kentucky home demonstration agent.

LIST HUNGER SIGNS OF STARVING CROPS

Lack of any one of certain plant foods produces symptoms of "hunger signs" in crops, according to a fertilizer circular of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station.

Insufficient nitrogen in tobacco causes a light green to yellow color, beginning in the lower leaves and progressing up the stalks. If severe, lower leaves waste away.

Lack of potash in the soil causes yellowing of tobacco and turning down of tips and edges of leaves. If severe, yellow areas cover leaves and affected parts die and fall out. Ragged, poor quality leaf results.

In corn, lack of nitrogen brings light-green to yellow color, beginning along the midveins in lower leaves and going up the stalk and causing "firing" in dry weather. Lack of potash causes yellowing and dying of edges of leaves, "leaf scorch," light chaffy ears and poorly filled ends. Where there is not enough phosphorus, corn leaves tend to turn purple. Purling, however, may result from cool nights and insect injury to roots.

Lack of potash in alfalfa and clovers shows up in the yellowing of the edges of the leaves, or small white spots appear near the leaf margins.

Leaves of alfalfa suffering from lack of boron tend to become yellow and sometimes red near the ends. Yellowing is similar to that caused by potash hunger. Leaf hopper injury causes yellowing of leaves.

SURGICAL SHOES

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads., telling of the good work we were doing, and decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessened till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb a stepladder. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT—Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pain in the neck and back and if you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you.

If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are definitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

My Life In Boone County More Than 63 Years

By Mabel G. Sayre

"I must apologize for the frequency of the first person, singular, I, in this paper; but if it is my story, I don't see how else I could write it."

"My family moved to Florence in June, 1888, when I was 16 years old. It was not the Florence of today for you had to stretch your counting to get 250 people."

"But this was not my introduction to Boone County, for a sister of mine, Caroline Johnson, had married Ephraim K. Tanner who owned a farm on the Burlington Pike a little more than a mile from Florence. Even before I was old enough to go to school in Cincinnati, where I was born, I frequently made long visits to the farm. After I started to school, the very day it closed in June my sister was there to get me, and she kept me till the day before school opened in September. Consequently, all the happy memories of my childhood are connected with Boone County."

"When we first moved here we lived in the house now owned by Mr. A. M. Yealey and stayed there till the Catholics bought it for their parsonage. The Catholic church was then located where the Florence Dry Cleaning establishment now is, at the corner of Shelby and Center streets. We then moved to an old brick house on Shelby street which stood where Mr. Tom McHenry's house now stands."

"Our family consisted of my father, mother, sister Sallie, and a six-year nephew, Ed. Arrison. We were all Methodists and moved our membership from Cincinnati to the Florence Methodist Church which was then on Banklick street, where Floyd Chipman's house now stands."

"We had Sunday school in the afternoon and frequently stayed after Sunday school to sing. I had a rather high, strong soprano voice which carried well and which seemed to charm a young man named Frank Sayre who also attended the Methodist Church."

"It developed that his mother and my mother went to the same school in Madison, Indiana, when they were girls and had not seen one another for forty-one years."

"Frank and I soon became very good friends, which bond endured till his death in 1928. We were married in July, 1891, and he graduated from the Miami Medical College in Cincinnati in March 1893. I lived with his parents. But I have skipped a part of my experience."

"My sister and I worked in Cincinnati; she at the Methodist Book Concern, and I as a stenographer for Professor John L. Shearer who operated a Lecture Bureau. We caught the early Commuter train which left Erlanger at 5:30 a. m. and we rode from Florence to Erlanger at that time in the winter morning in a bus which someone had aptly named Conrad's Summer Kitchen. Mr. Jesse Corwine was the other regular passenger and we tried to forget how cold it was by singing all the way. As there was never any active opposition from the people living along the way, the music was a regular habit."

"After Frank became Dr. Sayre he began looking about for a location in which to practice. Dr. Disk Gordon was leaving Hebron so we concluded that was a good place to locate and so it turned out, for the people were so lovely to us and took such good care of us, that going to Hebron still means going home to me. We moved on May 2, 1893. The road from Limaburg to Hebron was impassably muddy, so we went by way of Burlington, Idelwild, and up to Hebron."

"We had rented a three-room cottage and all our furniture was hauled on a hay wagon. I was twenty-one years old and Frank was twenty-nine and life began to really unfold for us. The practice was hard (mud roads in all directions) and money mighty scarce; but, at that time, a dollar bought more than it now does and we did not actually suffer."

"About three weeks after he quit practice Doctor Gordon went to Chicago to the World's Fair. He was killed in a street car accident and brought back to Hebron for burial. On September 14th, 1893, our son Frank was born and everybody seemed interested in Doctor's baby."

"My first introduction to surgery occurred in January, 1894, when Mr. Charles Castinetta, of Constance, got his hand caught in the chains of a corn shredder and the hand was so badly mangled that three fingers had to be amputated. The operation was done in our office. Dr. Frank Jackson, a Veterinarian, was living in Hebron and was pressed into service to help. He rode horseback over here to Florence (we had no telephone then) and brought Dr. Will Corey back with him and the operation began."

"The front room of our house was the office, the middle room our bedroom and the back room the kitchen. About 10:30 or 11:00 o'clock Dr. Sayre came into the bedroom and announced, 'Mabel, you will have to come in and help. We need someone to thread needles and it is too late at night to go out for anyone,' so Mabel went in. They had laid the amputated fingers on my marbled-top table and I had to reach across them to get the surgical needles. It was not a pleasant job, but I lived through it."

"The winter practice was very hard. As I have said, there were no pikes except the ones from Constance to Petersburg which went through town, and much of the time the mud roads were so bad you could not use a buggy, so the Doctor went horseback. We had a great big bay mare named Fannie and she was a good riding horse. I have known Dr. Sayre to start out about 9 a. m. with the horse-blanket over the saddle and then wrapped around him and travel that way all day from patient to patient and sometimes it would be eight o'clock at night before he got in for his supper."

"He had one patient at Taylorsport, a young man who had measles, then pneumonia, then diphtheria. Doctor went down there one Saturday at noon and did not come back till the next Tuesday night. He stood over that boy for forty-eight hours and had the satisfaction of seeing the uraemic coma let go and the boy get well. When he rode up to the house on Tuesday night he called out, 'Does the widow Sayre live here?' One time in winter the temperature registered twenty-two below zero and once on the eleventh day of November it was 88 in the shade."

"About two years after we went to Hebron I moved my Church letter to the Lutheran Church there and my associations with that congregation were of the happiest. We lived in Hebron twenty-four years; four years in the first little house, then moved next door into a five-room house where we stayed eleven years, and then across the street into a six-room house where we lived for nine years. We joined the Grace at Builtsville and, later, one was organized in Hebron and I was its Secretary. I was also Secretary of the County Grange and, in 1905 was made Secretary of the State Grange, which office I held for fifteen years. In 1905 Dr. Sayre's father, Dr. A. Sayre, died at his home in Florence and his mother lived on there alone."

"In December of 1916 the Hossmans, who owned the house where we were living wanted it for themselves, so we came back to Florence to take care of Ma Sayre, as I always called her. It turned out we had done wisely for in August of 1917 she sustained a hip injury and had to be cared for until her death in October, 1925. But we still practiced medicine."

"Dr. Sayre had been a sufferer from hay fever since he was four years old and, in his later years, went to Cheboygan, Michigan, to escape it. In 1926 and 1927 I went with him. We would go August first and stay till November first. We rented a five-room furnished house for the extravagant price of $25.00 per month and lived there like we did at home. Dr. Sayre made many friends and, as he loved to fish and the fishing was good there, he was quite happy and contented. But in 1928 he had three bad sick spells; one in May, one in August, and one in November from which he did not recover."

"I felt that my life work was ended; but my son, Frank, had me move to Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania, about fourteen miles south-east of Pittsburgh, in January, 1929, to make a home for him. He had been working for the Pennsylvania Railroad for six years; but in October 1929 the railroad made some changes that Frank felt would imperil his job, so we packed up and moved back to Kentucky. Our house had been rented for a Tourist Home so we rented an apartment on Monroe street in Newport and lived there till March, 1930, when we came back home."

"In February 1931, I was appointed Town Clerk and held that office for ten years. Both Councils with whom I served were so very good to me and it was only on account of my advancing years and the increasing work which compelled me to relinquish my office into Mr. William Fitzgerald's more capable hands. The Council gave me a wonderful send-off with a banquet at Acadia Inn and the gift of a Philco radio. Altogether, my public life in Boone County has been active and full."

"In looking this over I find that I have failed to mention my affiliation with the Red Cross, the Lloyd Society, and the Homemakers. The Red Cross Chapter was organized by Reverend Edgar Riley in 1917, when our boys were going into the army for World War I. The headquarters were in Burlington with Mrs. Bernard Gaines, president, and Mrs. Garnett Tolin, secretary. We had fourteen auxiliaries over the county, eleven of which were making the gauze work. I, as the doctor's wife, was chosen chairman of the Florence group and I had a most faithful band of workers. When peace came we found we had nearly three thousand dollars in our treasury, so Miss Eunice Willis was hired as Red Cross Nurse and she certainly rendered excellent service."

"In 1936 I joined the Homemakers and about the same time I joined the Lloyd Society. In fact, I seem to have been a chronic joiner. 'It still have not told you how I got my reputation of being a good doctor. Dr. Sayre practiced in Boone County for more than thirty-five years and I am safe in saying that during the last twenty-five of them I did my full share of the office practice. From the beginning, Dr. Sayre talked over his cases with me, explaining what he did for certain sets of symptoms and what results he hoped to get. Consequently, I knew what would have to be done for them. So, if he were busy or away from home, I took over and gave what I knew he would have given. I helped in all the surgical work and, where the invitation was given, I went with him to his obstetrical cases. Many of the babies in the Hebron and Florence neighborhoods are my babies, too, merely the echo of the good doctor, for I only knew what he had taught me."
